before practical men and students such an amount of theoretical rad scientific knowledge, in a condensed form, as shall enable them to work to best advantage, nd to avoid those mistakes which they might otherwive commit. The amount useful information thus brought together is almost beyond precedent in such works. Indeed, there is hardly any subject within its range which is not treated with such clearness and precision, that even a man of the most ordinary capacity cannot fail of understanding it, and thus learning from it much which it is important for him to know.

From the annexed list of principal authors and 10 Bbls. London Porter (4 dozen each,) subjects comprised in this work, t is self-evident that all citizens engaged in the practical and useful arts, etc., may denive essential advantages from the possession and study of this publication the following may be especially designated:

The publishers have expended a large sum mone to get ut original drawings of machinery practical use in this country, and have procured almost every work on the subject, whether published in England, France, or Germany, the most essential parts of which being comprised in this Dictionary, render it as perfect and comprehensive as possible. The publishers have endeavored to use great, economy in type, so that each page of the work contains at least four times the number of words found in ordinary pages of the same size. This has also secured to each plate working-drawing of ample size and clearnes so that a mechanic may construct accurately any machine described.

The publishers are, in short, determined, regardless of cost, to make the work as complete as possible: and it is hoped every one desirous to obtain the work will procure it as issued in numbers, and thus encourage the enterprise.

The work will be issued in semi-monthly numbers, commercing in January, 1850, and will progress with great regularity. The whole work will be published in 40 num bers, at 25 cents per number, and completed within the current year. 1850. A liberal discount
