WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1850. Since the recent wholesale dismissals from the Penitentiary, we have not been able to give so much intelligence of the carryings on at this celebrated Establishment, as we formerly had it in our power to obtain, but nevertheless we occasionally receive a few stray reports as to how matters are being conducted there. The late release of the notorious Dr. Keyes has not been without its effects within the prison, for we understand that there is now a whole batch of would-be Lunaticks all expecting to be similarly dealt with as was the Poctor ! and one, a fair damsel, is ordered to be shipped off to the Asylum at Toronto. This we consider to be dealing unfairly towards the real or supposed Maniac, and we contend that she is equally entitled to be ant at liberty as Dr. Keyes, but then she being either a femme sole one convict makes all the difference as she has no vote, and therefore her liberty is not of so much consequence. We maintain that if all cases of lunecy were treated within the walls of the Penitestiary Hospital we should not hear so much on this subject, as it ther expected. We have heard of a case of this kind that occurred at the Penitentiary about three years ago in which one of the Conviets pretended to be dumb and imane for more than a year, but was discovered in his manoeuvres by a ruse of one of the keepers. Such a scheming rascal ought to have been well flogged for his tricks, which we under- building to the same purpose. stand was not the ease, and yet Mr. Brown trumped up a charge of cruelty against the late Warden on this man's account, notwith standing the fellow was at last constrained to acknowledge his imposture. La this matter the Feather breeched found they had overshot their mark, and they have endeavored to sneak out of their blunder in a stupid manne. according to their report on this case. By the by, talking of the Report reminds us of Mr. Brown's promise to furnish every member of the fourth estate with a copy of this celebrated decument, which we for one have not yet received, and as the copy we have been using
