The Lower Canadians may probably kick up a dust about the Seat of Government, as doubtless, a pretty good intimation will given to them, that the Upper Canadians wi never peaceably consent to Quebec's being made, even for four years only, the metropolis of Canada, being so wholly out of the way. But in all probability, the Ministers may blut off the matter for the present time. Whi Lord Elgin remains in the province, he will never consent to dwell again in Mantreal but should he return home, it is not at unlikely, that under other auspices, Montreal

The Clergy Reserves will afford a topic for sectarian grumblers to vent their ill-temper on; but the party is too weak to do much mischief. Mr. Price is pledged to do something in this business, but what that something is, he searcely knows himself. He wants to keep his place and his consistency into the bargain.

THE LEAGUE.

The Central Committee of the British American League, at Toronto, have published another Address to the people of Canada. The League was ever a huntug, because not being popularly constituted, it commanded respect. The question arises, "can any good come out of Nazareth?" The answer on this occasion is 'yes'. In this address the Conmitte have brought two subjects before the country the first to petition the Legislature for an im-Ineglected.
