The cri- assailed. minal business, we are sorry to say, was more than ordinarily heavy for our peaceful District, Crown, and the Jury after having retired for certainly not in the Committee .- Pilot. about five minutes returned with a verdict of acquittal. The prisoner was ably defended by Mr. Smith, who produced several authorities to show the illegality of receiving in evidence the confession of a prisoner while in a state of duress, it appearing that the Convict! had made a statement of the part he took in the burning of the prison, while undergoing his sentence as a convict in the Penitentiary, the Jury concurring in the view taken by the Counsel, almost immediately delivered their J' verdict of "not guilty."

We think the Penitentiary authorities, be-1 fore instituting this prosecution, should have taken a lesson from Senece, who, in declaring the measure of his own practice, says, "I am so far from lightly believing every man's, or any man's evidence against another, that I that on Monday the 4th of November next, the except on the main deck, where more ample acevidence against himself.
