THE CELEBRATED COOK'S FRIEND

BAKING POWDER

IS A PURE FRUIT ACID POWDER. It contains neither alum, lime, nor ammonia, and may be used by the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety. Its great success arising from its being instrinsically THE BEST VALUE IN THE MARKET, as well as thor oughly adapted to the wants of the kitchen, has excited envious imitations of its name and ap pearance. Beware of such.

No addition to or variation from the simple name: COOK'S FRIEND IS GENUINE

MAKE YOUR HOMES COMFORTABLE BY PURCHASING THE IMPROVED

Automatic Weather Strip FOR YOUR DOORS.

This arrangement is different from all others. It is an undoubted saver of fuel, and it effectually prevents all cold drafts or snow drifts from entering in the winter. It is also equally effective in excluding rain or dust in the summer. It will securely bolt the door, is warranted not to get out of order from damp, heat or frost, and the longer in use the closer the rubber fits. When the door is opened the strip raises up and frees itself from the threshhold, and travels unobstructed with the door. Agents are canvassing the city with a working model. County rights for sale. Address communications or call at 174 and 176 Ontario Street, next Burnett House. Cost price for above $1.50.

POPULAR JACKET FOR BOY FROM 4 TO 14 YEARS OLD.

Reception and Evening Toilets With Long, Graceful Draperies - Paris and New York Styles in Furs-Becoming Bonnets and Toboggan Caps for Girls.

A becoming hat is a matter of concern to every one, but there is probably more time expended in making suitable selections for little girls than even for the mothers themselves. With a view to assisting in this selection, is here given an illustration of one of the leading caps or bonnets worn by city girls of from 1 to 3 years of age.

MILLINERY FOR GIRLS.

The bonnet represented in the cut is made of plain, soft silk of garnet color, with a wadded lining. It is finished with a very full ruching of lace all around the cap. The trimmings consist of a ribbon bow and strings. This cap may be readily made at home, and when plush is preferred it can be substituted for the silk.

The second figure shows a new style in worsted caps, named "Toboggan," and especially designed for coasting and school wear. This makes a very comfortable headdress for winter, and may be worn by little girls and misses. These tobogg caps, when made in solid colors such as cardinal, garnet and blue, are usually becoming as well as comfortable.

Winter Fashions in a Nutshell.

To sum up briefly the striking features of the winter fashions, it may be said that for the street the dress is simple, almost severe, usually a tailor dress of dark wool, without trimming. For the carriage much more of luxury is allowed. Rich stuffs, plush wraps, or wraps of Genoa velvet, with tinted flowers, costly furs-in a word, almost everything that is rich and elegant. For receiving one's friends at home, fashion permits the most delicate colors, in despite of storm and snow outside. Feathery laces, glittering passementeries, all that can arrest the eye or charm the imagination, are at the service of the hostess. The same is true of her evening dress, except that then she uncovers her shoulders and arms, decks herself with precious stones and trails behind her a mass of beautiful stuffs and billows of old lace—such lace, alas! as is no longer made, and for which we refuse to be consoled by any quantity of the democratic imitations at a franc or two the yard. - Harper's Bazar.

Wrappers and Morning Dresses.

Stripes predominate in materials for neglige dresses for morning wear. The fine twilled French flannels that are in special favor for the purpose come in alternate solid stripes of contrasting colors, from one-fourth to threefourths of an inch in width. Domestic flannels, in stripes, checks, and even quite large plaids, find favor, and the jersey and eider flannels are still used, the latter, however, being preferred in solid colors. The princess or Gabrielle is the favorite style of wrapper. A half fitting princess front, with close fitting back, provides an attractive morning dress.

Reception and Evening Toilets.

There is a notable absence of short draperies in the more elegant toilets, long, sweeping lines being preferred. Delicate shades have the place of honor for evening wear, and dark with brilliant colors for dinner and day reception dresses. Young ladies have their dancing dresses made with walking length skirts and very long draperies. Square necks and half-long sleeves are popular, and may be trimmed with lace and passementerie or tulle and beads.

New Fancies in Furs.

A novelty for children consists of a muff of white goat skin. It is decidedly attractive in appearance, and affords a pleasing change. A Paris fancy, seen in the shops here, is a muff of silver fox, trimmed with silver tassels, that are ornamented with jeweled buttons. A stylish fur collar, christened "colo officer," is of natural castor, and is lined with scarlet silk. Lynx furnishes a popular trimming for cloth dresses.

Boy's Norfolk Jacket.

Among the many attractive styles in which jackets are made perhaps none is more popular among New York boys than the regular Norfolk jacket represented in the cut.

The jacket here shown is single breasted, but is often made double breasted. This simply fashioned garment is comfortable, trim and jaunty, and furnishes a suitable model for boys from 4 to 14 years old.

Lace trimmed handkerchiefs are again coming into faver.

A costume made entirely of sealskin, a gored skirt fastened at the left side under large ornaments, and a short, tight fitting jacket, with double breasted fronts and a pointed back, is among the furriers' novel-

According to Harpers' Bazaar, Chinese silk

embroidered shawis or very small size are used as mufflers by ladies under large cloaks with evening toilets. They are generally white, and may be had in three sizes, with the embroidery done in Chinese fashion alike on both sides, and with fringe tied and knot ted in the bem.

HUDSON RIVER ICE BOATS. The Novel Winter Sport of the American Rhine.

[Special Correspondence.] Poughkeepsie, Jan. 11.—Did you ever take a ride on an ice boat? No! Congratulate yourself.

, myself, have had experience in that line. I have a friend who has a fine ice yacht on the Hudson, and when he invited me to see how I liked his craft I was only too glad to accept. The wind was in the right quarter, the ice was in prime condition and everything was just as it should be. Before the yacht was "let go" my friend told me he would show me before the trip was over just how quick he could bring his flyer about.

He did, to his own satisfaction and my infinite discomfort. He had told me to "hang on," and I supposed I was obeying his instructions, but I hadn't any sort of an idea of the intensify with which I was required to "hang on" in order to keep my place. So when he put her about I found myself imitating the birds of the air. But I flew without any wings, involuntarily, and alighted with great squimestness, not to say violence. And I felt as if I had been projected from a catapult.

But the sport is one of the most exciting in the world, if it is dan grous, and it wasn't very long before I tried my "hanging on" abilities again and with better success.

Ice yachting is nowhere so thoroughly understood and enjoyed as here, nor is it anywhere else so generally practiced; though, at Toronto, I'm told, they have some pretty good yachts, and sail them pretty well, too. But the conditions are not so favorable there as

The ice yachtsmen of Poughkeepsie are just now busy getting ready for their annual races. The Poughkeepsie club members own fourteen yachts, and of course there is a good deal of rivalry among their owners, and some terrific racing may be expected by and by. Some idea of the spread of canvas carried by these craft may be gained from the statement that many of them spread 400 and 500 square feet of sail. One, William Leroy's Quickstep, carries 757 square feet. She is a member of the New Hamburg club's fleet.

The first race of the season will be between the Poughkeepsie and the Hudson river clubs for the Poughkeepsie challenge pennant, now held by the Neolus, belonging to young Brandeth, at Sing Sing.
