The widely circulated item to the effect that Mark Twain is worth $1,500,000 is not true. Mr. Clemens is a wealthy man, but his fortune does not nearly reach that figure.

Brick Pomeroy is the subject of a complimentary article and a flattering picture in the current number of The Pall Mall Budget, which terms him "decidedly a man of mark."

Lord Aylesbury went out hunting the other day, but out of respect to his lately deceased grandfather followed the hounds in a dog cart. Such devotion and reverence are truly touching.

Of the members of the German imperial family Emperor William is the only one who does not use visiting cards. He has never deviated from his old custom of announcing his intended visits by the court courier.

Admirers of Ouida's unwholesome writings on our side of the water will be interested in knowing that she is now a soured and discontented old woman, practically destitute of human sympathy and companionship, and deriving little or no comfort from the fame which her work has secured her.

William M. Singerly was recently twitted by a friend on the fact that, although he possessed a $250,000 farm, he would lose much of that in the settlement of his estate. "Lose it?" exclaimed Singerly in his quick way. "I won't lose a cent of it-I'll be dead."

T. Harrison Garrett, of Baltimore, has presented to the Society for the Protection of Children from Cruelty and Immorality a handsome property about four miles from the city, known as "Hall Springs." It contains thirty-six acres, and is improved by a large hotel building. The cost of the property was $20,000.

Miss Amelia Hand, of Cape May Court House, N. J., was a great churchgoer when in health. Now that she is an invalid, she has established telephone connection between her room and the Methodist church. The transmitter is on the pulpit cushion, and Miss Hand can hear everything that is said, and also the singing.

Mr. Lorillard is very much annoyed because Mrs. James Brown Potter dated the letter she wrote recommending a certain cream from Tuxedo Park. He feels that this exclusive place of residence has in a measure been used as an advertising medium-that it in a measure indorses the cream-and he is ill at

Mme. Nevada and Mile. Van Zandt sang together recently at the Euglish Roman Catholic church, Avenue Hoche, Paris, before a distinguished assemblage. Mme. Nevada had not sung in Paris before since her marriage. It was reported of her, as of Mile. Van Zandt, that she had lost her voice. Neither report is true, as the voices of both singers are at present of greater compass and richer than Jabez Beaumont, of Easttown Pa, who has just celebrated his 92d birthday, thinks that he will never die. He says that when he was a young man a woman offered him a drink, saying: "That's likely to kill you. If you drink it and recover from the effects you will never die." He drank, was quite ill, but recovered, and now in his vigorous old age is firmly convinced that he will live forever.

It is reported that the queen of Roumania, known as a poetess under the name of Carmen Sylva, intends to give weekly lectures on modern literature in the girls' high school at Bucharest. The queen, who is a member of the Roumania academy, was dissatisfied with the instructions on this subject, and had already given private lessons to favored pupils; but this excited so much jealousy that, after obtaining the king's consent, she decided to take clarge of the entire literary instruction

The report that Mr. Andrew Carnegie has abandoned his favorite project of building a typical Scottish castle near Cresson, Pa., is unfounded. The work will be proceeded with in the spring. Mr. Carnegie recently said that he was glad he had been sick for one reason-because he had had plenty of opportunity for thought, and had come to the conclusion to make the castle fireproof, some thing which had not occurred to him before. He will take this precaution, he says, for the safety of the expensive library which he coatemplates placing in it.

Japan's Live Stock.

Japan, with nearly 40,000,000 people, has only 875,000 head of cattle and 1,200,000 horses and is without mules, swine or sheep. We have two head of berned cattle to every three persons. The Japanese have 500 persons to each head of bovine stock. We have one horse or mule to every four persons; they have only one horse to thirty-three persons. Of sheep they have no knowledge, as they wear no woolen clothing and eat no mutton. Swine meat is as much an abomination to them as it is to the Brahmins,-San Francisco Chronicle.

Ventilating a Room.

There is a sexton in West Springfield, Mass., who deserves a notice because he knows the value of ventilation and how to secure it. The other evening when the prayer meeting room was well filled and the air became bad, he waited for a pause in the services and then said if the congregation would all arise for a few moments he would ventiate the room. They arose, and he opened windows and door, let bad air out and good air in, and then the congregation sat down feeling better, and the services went on briskly.-New York Sun.
