A Creaking Hinge

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. Which the joints, or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without eausing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints, to good working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures, a number of which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my own case it has certainly worked wonders, relieving after being troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am ac quainted, that affords such relief as Aver's Sar saparilla.-R. H. Lawrence, M.D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It was eradicated every trace of disease from my sys-tem.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsapa-rilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. Fream, Independence, Va.

CAPITAL AND LABOUR.

MR. BAWDEN DRAWS A CONTRAST WORTHY OF ATTENTION

The Revelations Made by the Reports of the Bureau of Industries-The Man of Muscle, and Depending Upon Muscle for His Success, has Not Much to Hope For.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 17.-We_pick up the daily papers at this season of the year and find an unusual number of reports, detailing the want and misery of our fellow men, and their starving families. From Halifax in the east to Victoria in The west, there is not a city in this wide dominion but pours forth its tale of distress and suffering during the severe winter weather. Captain Brooks, of the salvation army, Toronto, visited some of these cases, and says the difficulty is poverty, pure and simple. People were in extreme destitution, which could not be said to be through drink, and was not the result of their own doing; it was caused by their inability to get work. "They asked me," said Brooks, "what I came for, and when I spoke about their souls they said, 'Oh we have our church, but we want food.' During the festive season of the year, which has just closed, when men's hearts expand above the sordid cares of wealth a vast amount of distress is relieved from pressing present needs. But when the holiday season is over a cold shoulder is turned to all such misery, and the divine admonition is forgetten, that "Ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good." True, there are many commendable exceptions to this generalisation who care not for "treasures upon earth," but their efforts appear to be utterly ineffective in relieving the general distress.

We have theory after theory advanced as to the principal cause of these evils, but our theorists "cry aloud, and no man hearkens" to them. Henry George claims that it is the result of the de-nationalisation of land. Professor A. O. Atwater says it is because, "we waste enough in ignorant buying and in bad cooking to sustain another nation (on this continant) as numerous and because no common attention has yet been given to what may be called the art of nutrition." T. V. Powderly and the nights of labour claim that it is the result of competition and over production, while Edward Kellogg advances the idea that it is owing to the injust distribution of the products of labour thereby giving to capital a greater portion of the combined production of capital and labour than is its just due. Mr. Kellogg says: "Money is as much the representative of the property of the people as the legislature, are the representatives of their constituents. Its erroneous construction and undue power have made a few rich and have plunged thousands into poverty. They have sent hundreds to premature graves, starved the widow and the orphan, and given untold wealth to the miser. They have been the cause of incalculable moral and social evils. It is not to be understood that those who now possess the wealth are worsethan others who do not possess it, or that others if they could have obtained it would not have appropriated it in the same manner. But one thing is certain that an enormous and universal wrong exists, which nothing but an entire change of our law respecting money can remedy. Money is the national standard of distribution, therefore the evils inevitable upon its present institution are national evils which can only be remedied by the action of the general government. These words were written over thirty years ago, and referred to the condition of monetary affairs in the United States at that time, but they are quite applicable to the present state of affairs in Canada to day. Among all the theories advanced as being the cause which place great wealth and great misery "cheek by jowl," there is none that appears to contain such self-evident truths as that of Mr. Kellogg. Let us see to what extent his arguments apply to the relations which exist between capital and labor in Canada, or in other words between employee and employer. In the Ontario bureau of industries report for 1883 there are some interesting tables taken from the census returns of 1881. Table 38 of that report gives us a list of one hundred and forty four industries, with the number of hands employ. ed, yearly wages, value of raw material, value of finished product and value of net product per hand. It lacks the most important item, that is, capital invested, to enable us to find the exact amount retained for interest, wear and tear of plant, and expenses of management. A few selections from the list shows that a large amount is retained for the above specified purposes.

Average yearly Value of net wages of emproduct per Industry. employees. hand. Oil refineries $436 Paint works 2,741 Steel barb fact Distilleries Breweries Patent medicine fact 338 Roofing felt factories 1.8331,680Soap and candle works 342 1,543 Belt and hose factory 1,500 Gold leaf factory. 1,394 Meat curing. Vinegar factories 1.329Flour and grist mills. 1,341 Coffee and spice mills . 338 1.019 Blacking factories. 1.000 India rubber factories, 750 Rivet factory 1.000Surgical appliances. 1.000 Five other industries 375

And one hundred and twenty other industries reported give an average of $260 yearly wages and an average value of $500 net product per hand, showing that the employer retains from $240 to $4,138 per hand to recoup him for capital invested and all other expenses of management. Bear in mind that the cost of raw material has been deducted,

The bureau report for 1885 gives us an idea how far the laborer's receipts go towards maintenance. Without giving the tables in detail it is sufficient to quote that "theaverage cost of living for a laborer with dependents, including rent, fuel, food, and clothing, is $417.75, and the average receipts $447.60, leaving a surplus of $30.15 to meet unforeseen contingencies, such as births, marriages, and deaths." In a statement concerning 2,637 operatives, from returns made both by employers and workers, engaged in almost every occupation in the country, but 61.47 per cent. are able to lay by a surplus over cost of living; 26.92 per cent. keep soul and body together without receiving a cent over cost of living; and $11.61 per the bureau, says: "The picture would be much darker than it appears but for the fact that about 15 per cent. of the number of of this class making returns are owners of the dwellings they occupy," although in a foot note he says they may be struggling to redeem a mortgage on it. It has been said by some wise man that every adult emigrant who arrives upon our shore adds an additional value to the capital of the country of $1,000. From the above showing the adult Civilization in Africa.

"The negroes," said Mr. Stanley, "don't resent the invasion of civilization. They like. it. They like the methods of civilized dress. You will find Gen. Wolselev's fine coat on a native, Lord Alcester's clothes on the back of another negro. They do up and fix thousands of old coats in Whitechapel, London, and send them out to the natives. At first the negroes merely wore an admiral's hat and a big stick, but now they have found out that those articles are not sufficient. The Germans are very sharp traders. The way they manage is this: They invite the chief's to a grand breakfast. They have a_room furnished in apple pie order, grand mirrors, sofas, chairs, carpets, knicknachs and brica-brac. Then the native chief looks around and says: 'This is very nice. I wish I could have something like it. Will you sell it?" 'Yes,' says the German; 'how much oil will you give me? When the price has been fixed the whole contents of the room were carried bodily away to the black chief's house, and the next morning the German gives another breakfast,"-New York Times.

Not Exactly Paupers.

Belfast (Me.) has a woman who is a match for most any lawyer. She was a witness in the pauper case between Liberty and Palermo, and had been a pauper in the latter town. On cross-examination the attorney saited her if she was a pauper on the town. "I was a liability," said the woman. "You were a pauper," said the ettorney. "I want you to understand," raid the woman firing up, "that poor people and not paupers; they are liabilities. - Chi ago Timos.
