The Elections Over Again.

A meeting of the Dominion business col lege Philomathean society was held last evening. The legality of the recent election was discussed. Mr. G. K. A motion was carried to the effect that the elections were illegal. A meeting will be held on Saturday evening to fix a night on which to have the elections over again.

The Speakers of the Evening-The Toll Question the One to Receive Most Attention-The Action of the Board of Trade Pronounced Offensive-How the Eloquence Rose and Fell.

At the invitation of Mr. James Murton, the newly-elected warden of the county of Frontenac, the members of the county council and a number of friends assembled last evening in the dining-room of Mr. Samuel Harkness hotel and partook of a spread which was first-class in every particular and a credit to the caterer. The warden presided and Mr. Thomas Hogan ably filled the position of vice-chairman. There were present : Coun cillors Williams, Walker, Campbell, John Coxe, Howell, Mackenzie, Sexton, H. Smith, McMaster, Hutton, Toland, Rankin, Calvin, Bourke, A. Vanluyen, Dempsey, Gibson, Smith, Dr. Brown, Joshua Cox, W. and C Ruttan; ex-reeves Watkins and Joyner; and Messrs. James H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., J. Lake, Wilson, Phillips, Whitney, Brewer, Foster, Vanalstine, Mostyn, Woodruff, Ashley, Bennett, Brs. Spankie, Oliver and F. Elkington. After ample justice had been done to the bill of fare a programme of toasts was submitted. "The Queen and Royal Family" was the first on the list, and it was heartily drank, the company singing "God Save the Queen." "The Governor-General" and the "Dominion and Local Parliaments" was next proposed and responded to by Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P. He stated that he was present before the members of the county council in a much different position from that which he held when he had addressed some of them on previous occasions. Hs had, at former periods, spoken to them either as an alderman of the city or a representative in the local legislature of the city of Kingston. At present he held a still higher position. He now had the honor of representing in parliament the citizens of Kingston and a large number in the county of Frontenac His duties in parliament would, therefore, be more onerous than ever. He was happy to say that at the recent provincial election he had been supported by conservatives and reformers of the township of Kingston. He would endeavour, while in the legislature, to do everything that lay in his power to forward the interests of the county. He closed by referring in flattering terms to the present governor-general of Canada and those who preceded him in the

"The Warden's Health" was proposed by Mr. Hogan. Mr. Murton replied briefly, thanking his colleagues for placing him in the position he now held. It was a responsible office, and he would try and do his duty in the interests of the county. He knew he would be ably assisted in his work by the members of the council.

"The Wife and Family of the Warden" was then toasted, and responses made by Messrs.

Vanluven and Lake. The toast of the "Ex-Wardens" was ably spoken to by Messrs. Toland and Watkins, The latter stated that he did not like the position taken by the board of trade on the toll-gate question. He did not think the city of Kingston, its board of trade, or any other board, was acting courteously or right in interfering with the toll gates on the York road. At present proper steps were not being taken to remove the tolls on that thoroughfare. If the matter were gone about in the right way the tolls would be abolished, and when that was accomplished it would prove a benefit to the city and county alike. He was in favor of free roads.

Tolls were relics of the past. Mr. Williams thought the county council had made an excellent choice of warden in the election of Mr. Murton. He dwelt upon the fact that the people of Frontenac had so appreciated the able way in which the affairs of the county had been managed in the past, that they sent many of the councillors of last year back to power. Several reeves had been elected by acclamation. Mr. Hogan said the warden had been a member of the council for six years, and faithfully represented the people's interests. He was a valuable man to have in office, especially as he had offered to lend the county all the money it required at the low interest of 31 per cent. After speaking highly of other members of the county corporation Mr. Hogan said it should, in some way, before the end of the present session, recognize the services which Mrs. Grimason had rendered it in the past. Mr. Williams proposed the "Educational Interests of Ontario." Dr. Spankie responded. During his remarks he said that he felt somewhat elated when he heard Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., speak so highly of the educational interests of the county of Frontenac and the province of Ontario, and when he alluded to the speaker as occupying a responsible position. They were aware that a pupil was always a little shy when in the presence of his master. When they considered the fact that more than once he was punished under the strong straps of the wrathful James, they would not blame him (the speaker) if in an humble way he tried to retaliate upon that individual. He had also another master present, Dr. Oliver, who had much to do with his education while at college. The subject which he had been called upon to speak on was one of importance, one which well deserved the at tention, effort, time and ability of such men as occupied his position. Education moved the world, and the benefits to be derived from it were very numerous. The speaker alluded to the period in the 17th century when the people of Scotland had not the advantages of education, and pointed to the great results following the establishment of parochial schools in that country. Education had made the Scotch people useful, it had converted them into powerful people. It made them honored in every land. The speaker then briefly sketch ed the history of education in the county of Frontenac. The first school was started 100 years ago. In 1785 a man came from the old country and settled in Cataraqui. Shortly afterwards he founded a school. At a later date Bishop Strachan's school was opened in the county. Notwithstanding that these beginnings in education were small the results were very good. He urged the reeves to forward as far as possible the cause of education in the different municipalities : if at any time they needed his assistance they should call upon him. Anything he could do for them he would do willingly. In conclusion he referred to the proposed establishment in Kingston of a school of science, and stated that such an in-

Mr. H. A. Calvin urged the members of the county council to press this matter of establishing a school of science upon the government. There seemed to be a determination with some people to have every-stitution would be a great benefit to the thing of an educational nature centred in Toronto. Queen's university had never been subsidized by the government; it had always been self-supporting, and no one can say that it had not done good work during its existence. If a school of science were established here in connection with Queen's college, the grant to it would not go to Queen's, but the school would indirectly benefit the university and the county as well. The establishment of a school of science should have the hearty support of the council. The councils of other counties passed resolutions similar to that concurred by the county council of Frontenac in regard to the school of science. The "County Councils" was proposed by Mr. Joyner, who touched upon the toll question. He stated that he and Mr. Murton, on behalf of the county, had met a committee of the board of trade on the subject, but had not reached a settlement. Several schemes had been thought of by which to abolish the tolls, but none of them had been carried into effect. He thought the county council should meet the board of trade and discuss the matter. He referred to the finances of the county, and state d that in 22 years from now the whole debt of the county, over $200,000, would be completely wiped out.

"Canada our Native Country," "Mrs. Grimason," "Our Host," "The Ladies and The Press," were the concluding toasts. The company broke up at midnight.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

A Relief Association and the Benefits if Has Given to the Brethren.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Odd fellows association occurred last evening in Cataraqui lodge room. There was a large attendance of members from all parts of Ontario. Major King presented the annual report showing the membership to be : "A" class, 2,416 members ; applicants received during the year, 251; deaths, 10; members forfeited or withdrawn, 20. "B" class, 1,289 members; applicants received during the year, 187; died, 3; members forfeited and withdrawn, 19. The association having dispensed with the services of a general agent the association expressed its appreciation of the services of E. G. Chant, who had filled the position. Thanks were also tendered the local agents for their interest in the work of the organization. The benefits paid in class "A" were $13,000, but of this $4,000 was for claims accruing the year previously. There were only five assessments. There were only two assessments in "B" class, and $2,000 was paid as claims. There is a balance of $5,960.18 in "A" class, and $1,625. 91 in "B" class. It was decided to place $2,000 in the bank, to be added to the reserve fund. It was shown that the benefits paid out for the past five years amounted to $50,300, and the net amount of assessments $50,649. The cost of management at present is 481c per member. The following were elected resident directors: W. H. Henderson, W. J. Livingston, W. H. Godwin ; non-resident, L. Ferguson, St. Thomae, for three years : L. MARTIN'S OPERA HOUSE.

Performance of "La Belle Russe"-Stage Settlig and Costumes Handsome.

Another large audience assembled at the opera house last night to witness the second production of the above-named play. The scenes and incidents are most dramatic, and the characters are drawn with such fidelity to nature as to suggest counterparts within the observation and experience of nearly everyone. Miss Emrenie Lindeman, as "La Belle Russe," defies criticism, her genius at times rising to a height seldom witnessed. The striking feature of her acting is her magnetism. She carries her audience completely with her. They laugh when she laughs and cry when she cries. She seems as much created for the part as it is suited for her. Geo. Woodward, as Capt. Brandt, surprised the audience with his manly pour trayal of this character, as he has only been seen in comedy. He deserves double praise for his excellent work last night. The support was up to the usual good standard. A special feature of the performance was the beautiful dresses worn by Miss Lindeman, and the elegant stage settings, being among the finest we have seen in the house. COUNTY COUNCIL WORK.

SESSIONS SHORT AND ALMOST WITHOUT INCIDENT.

The Finances of the County-The Late Inspector's Claim, and How it was Settled - The Public Schools, and How They are Progressing.

The council began its afternoon session at 2:30 o'clock. The majority of the members were present. Messrs. Woodruff and Foster were appointed trustees to the board or the Syden ham high school.

A communication was received from I Mills, secretary of the board of trade, ask ing the council to receive a deputation on the toll business.

Mr. Toland thought the communication should not be considered. The city people wanted to stab the county in the dark in this matter. It was the intention of the board to use its influence with the government to get half of the Napance road away from the county, but they would find they were undertaking a very hard task. The speaker was opposed to the action of the board of trade. The county was better able to pay for the Napanee road than the city. He was in favor of the provincial legislature passing an act, so that the county could arbitrate with city, in reference to toll roads. He was opposed to a deputation from the board of trade. The warden said that if the government did not assist the county in purchasing toll roads, it would be impossible to buy them, as the companies owning them would ask too much for them. The speaker heard that the government intended assisting the county in this matter.

Mr. Hogan thought it only a matter of courtesy to receive the board of trade deputation.

Mr. Toland said it was an ungentlemanly act for the board of trade to try and get the Napanee road away from the city. The object was to get the York road free so that their friends could drive into the country on Sundays.

Dr. Brown was in favour of receiving the deputation from the board of trade. He thought there were councillors present who were able to discuss the important question of tolls satisfactorily with the citizens.

Mr. Vanluven said the city asked the county to throw off its road tolls and would not throw off its market tolls, or assist the county in keeping up its roads. When the time comes to do away with toll gates the county would undertake the scheme. There was no need of co-operating with the city in the matter, as it would not assist the county. He was not in favour of the council appointing any committee to meet a committee of the board of trade on the toll question.

On motion it was decided to meet the board of trade deputation on Thursday, at

THE COUNTY POOR SCHOOLS.

Mr. Howell said that only one public school in the township of Clarendon had got the grant provided by the government for poor schools. He wished to know the cause of this. He wanted the council to appoint a committee to find out who was at fault in this matter, whether it was the inspector or county clerk. There were several other schools in the township that were as much entitled to the grant as the one which had received it.

Dr. Spankie said that the poor school fund was provided by the government to render assistance to poor schools in the rear townships. Through the public school inspector of the county the schools receive their grants. He had, since he took office, recommended schools for the grants that had applied to him in the matter. If the poor schools in the county did not apply for grants to the inspector they could not expect to get them. Mr. Howell was satisfied with the inspector's explanation, and did not attach any blame to him in the matter. The schools in behalf of which he spoke had not applied to the inspector for grants.

ORDER TO THE TREASURER. It was moved by Mr. Toland, seconded by Mr. Gibson, that the treasurer receive no pay list nnless it is certified by the members and chairman of every committee.

Council adjourned at 3:30 p.m. Thursday Morning.

The councilmen, feeling wearied after last night's dinner, did not turn out promptly this morning. Nothing was done by them until 11 o'clock.

Dr. Spankie, inspector of public schools, presented his report. Owing to the absence of reports from two sections the inspector could not give a full and accurate synopsis, but will present it at the June session. He showed that there were 132 schools open in the county during the latter half of 1886, and that they employed 135 teachers. Eighteen of these teachers held provincial second class certificates, two held old county board first class certificates, ninety-nine held third class certificates, and sixteen permits. The salaries of the teachers ranged from $150 to $600, and made a total of $30,000. Of this sum the legislature granted $2,693, the municipalities a similar amount, and both made grants to the poor schools. Over 6,000 childrean attended school during the year, but over 7,000 were resident in the county; thus a large number of children did not attend any school, while upwards of 2,000, between the ages of 7 and 13, did not attend for the one hundred days required by law. Of the 132 schools seven are brick, 30 stone, 66 frame, and 29 log. This shows that there has been considerable improvement in the matter of school building in the county. Some 135 public examinations were held during the year. At 35 of them prizes were awarded. One public lecture on education was delivered during the year by the inspector, and some by other persons. THE LATE INSPECTOR'S CLAIMS.

Moved by Mr. Williams, seconded by Mr. H. Smith, that as the late county inspector has claims against the county, for travelling expenses, this council authorizes the treasurer to pay him $200, provided he gives a receipt in full for all the alleged claims held by him against the county. Mr. Calvin objected to the resolution being passed in the form in which it had been drafted. After several alterations had been made in the resolution, it was carried. SOME MINOR ISSUES, The council decided to memmoralize the legislature for an amendment to the municipal act, so that municipalities could hold property outside of their corporation Dr. Brown asked how the public school inspector was paid, and wanted to know whether the agreement between him and the county, as to the payment of his travelling expenses, was on paper. The clerk said that Dr. Spankie agreed, in taking the office, to make no charge for travelling expenses, but such an agreement was not in writing.

Moved by Dr. Brown, seconded by Mr Calvin, that a written agreement between the council and the present inspector of schools be made, and that no allowance be made for travelling expenses. - Carried.

TOLL GATE QUESTION.

Messrs. Muckleston, Fraser and Redden, from the board of trade, waited upon the council with reference to tolls. Mr. Muckleston explained that the matter of tolls was an important one and could not be settled in a month or a year. The merchants of the city were of the opinion that if the city and county councils discussed the subject together some practical result might be arrived at. Negotiations for the removal of the tolls had been going on for twenty-five years, and really nothing had been done. The city council had not yet taken any action in the matter, nor was it expected to do so until the county council made a move. The speaker asked the county council to appoint a committee, giving it power to meet the city council and deal with the tolls. Mr. Fraser thought good roads would be beneficial both to city and county, and urged the county to take action at once. The deputation withdrew.

On motion of Mr. Calvin the following gentlemen were appointed a committee on road and market tolls : The warden and Messrs. Brown, Vanluven, Toland, Hogan and W. Ruttan. It will report at the June session of the council. The council adjourned to meet at two

A SCHOOL OF SCIENCE.

An Ottawa Branch of Queen's Endowment Association on the Question.

The Ottawa branch of the Queen's univer sity endowment association met on Tuesday and passed the following resolution:

"It being in contemplation to expend large additional sum of public money in connection with Toronto university, this meeting hereby gives expression to the opinion, which is widely and strongly entertained in this section of the province, that any legislative measure dealing with university education in the province be just and comprehensive; that the advantages to the community, conferred by Queen's university, should be fairly considered; that Queen's is doing good work; that it has been established nearly 50 years; that it is peculiarly fitted for the needs of Eastern Ontario, and that the seat of learning should be strength ened and maintained.

Mr. Bronson thought that Ottawa should have the proposed school of science instead of Kingston. Mr. Bronson was appointed a delegate to wait on the Ontario government to press the claims of Queen's university. The appointment was made as a member of the association and not on account of his position as a member of the local legisla-

Capt. W. H. Asselstine, of Gamanoque, was in the city to-day visiting friends. Col. F. C. Denison is the conservative Justin McCarthy is still lecturing in the United States. In Cincinnati, a few days ago, he declared that the more British ministries go to pieces the better for Ireland Mr. Gladstone, he felt, would come to the front again. Sad Bereavement.

The family of Sheriff Ferguson have been thrown into the greatest grief by the sudden announcement of the death of a much loved daughter and sister. The announcement was as painful as sudden, for the bereave ment is one of no ordinary character, and the sorrow is shared by the whole community. Miss Eleanor Ferguson, fourth daugh ter, was a lady of many accomplishments, having a great taste for artistic and literary study, and having progressed so as to rank with the best of Canadian amateur artists. Her talents in amateur production have quite often been extended to the young la dies and gentlemen of Kingston, to the great benefit of local charities. Her disposition was loveable, so gentle and kindly that her relatives and acquaintances regarded her with unusual affection, and thus the feeling of untimely death and bereavement is inten sified. The deceased had been visiting the family of Justice Ferguson at Toronto. A telegram yesterday announced illness from congestion of the lungs, and further news of imminent danger and of death followed during the afternoon and evening. Miss Fer guson left for Toronto by the first train, but was too late to see her sister alive. Thus the sorrow of sudden death has been greater to friends here, and the tenderest feeling of sympathy has been evoked.

The Late Mrs. Noble.

To-morrow morning, at St. Mary's cathedral, a solemn high mass will precede the laying at rest of the remains of the late Mrs. Noble, wife of a most estimable citizen, Isaac Noble. The deceased was sister of Messrs. James and Joseph Swift, of Kingston, and of Father Swift of Troy, N.Y. She had a most amiable and kindly disposition and many friends will long mourn her. Not only among her immediate acquaintances will she be missed for poor have lost an everready helper and sympathetic friend. Many who blessed her for unobtrusive acts of charity and alms-giving, will weep over her with genuine sorrow. Mrs. Noble will also be much missed by the ladies benevolent society of the cathedral and the sodality of the children of Mary as she was a valued and painstaking worker.
