PARNELL CONSUMPTIVE.

HIS CASE ALARMS HIS MORE INTIMATE FRIENDS NOW.

He May Have to Go at Once to the South of France—Living in Almost Exclusive Retirement, and Nursed by his Mother—The Leadership of the Irish Party Discussed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A London dispatch to the World says: "The condition of Parnell's health has excited the grave apprehension of his friends during the last few days. It is reported that some time ago he had suffered from a severe illness, but that he was convalescent and would be ready in due time for his parliamentary duties. He did appear in his place at the opening of session, but he looked well worn and haggard to a degree that was surprising to his old acquaintances. I think I am guilty of no indiscretion in stating that Parnell is suffering from a pulmonary disease. This is hereditary with his family, his father having died of consumption and likewise his sister. The character of Parnell's illness, up to now has been kept a profound secret. He was first taken with bronchitis. This was last autumn after adjournment of parliament. His mother came over from America about that time, and it was given out that the two had gone to the south of France to spend the winter. It now appears that Parnell did not leave Great Britain, but that he and his mother have been staying in Ireland since last autumn. At the opening of session they came to London and are living at the Midland hotel. Mr. Parnell's retirement has been so complete that some of his most intimate friends did not even know where he was. His associates have been trying to persuade him to give up temporarily his parliament work, and go to the south of France. His consent finally was obtained. He had begun to make preparations for the journey, but as he is feeling somewhat better he has for the present abandoned the idea of getting away unless he should grow much worse than he now is. His illness being of a chronic form, or liable at any rate to fall into chronic form, is of a serious character. The few principal associates of Parnell have not only begun to feel deep concern about him, personally, but also about the leadership of the party in case he should become unable to perform the duties of that office. The chances are, I fear, that the days of his active leadership are over."

In the Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In the house of commons this afternoon Mr. Cremer, radical, moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, demanding the immediate recall of all the British forces in Egypt.

Sir Wilfred Lawson, radical, in seconding the motion, said: "We have raised the funded debt of Egypt from £96,000,000 to £100,000,000, slaughtered many thousands of the natives, crippled the national chamber, bombarded the principal city of the country under circumstances of the greatest horror, increased taxation, promoted horrible debauchery in the capital, sown dissensions between the khedive and the people, and crushed out the first little sparks of independence that had been seen in eastern nations for ages past."

Sir James Ferguson, parliamentary secretary to the foreign office, condemned this "overdrawn picture" of the English occupation of Egypt. He said that the occupation was initiated at the instance and under the mandate of Europe, to prevent Egypt from falling to pieces on account of intestine troubles. The government, he declared, was doing what it could to reduce the force in Egypt, and it would shortly be limited to 5,000 men.

Hon. W. H. Smith defended the government's policy. He said the evacuation of Egypt by England would throw that country into a state of anarchy.

Mr. Cremer's amendment was rejected: 263 to 97.

Lots of Difficulty.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Marquis of Salisbury to-day received a deputation of gentlemen, who called to urge that the government apply the principles of colonization in the work of relieving Ireland of poverty. The premier, in reply, expressed himself in favor of a sound, healthy scheme of colonization directed by the state, but said he feared that the promoters of such a scheme would find themselves unable to overcome the difficulties connected therewith, especially those of a financial nature.

Joseph Chamberlain writes to a unionist: "I believe the time is favorable for an unprejudiced consideration of the Irish question, and I hope no personal feeling will interfere with such consideration."

The Causes of Depression.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—About fifty conservative members of parliament met yesterday to discuss the question of a measure to be based upon a report of the commission appointed to enquire into the causes of the depression in trade. The consensus of opinion favored the tabling of the resolution supporting the principle of reciprocity and declaring that where foreign fiscal arrangements attack British trade countervailing duties should be levied. Several drafts of motion were discussed and finally referred to another meeting.

Strength of Its Forces.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The adjutant-general of the army has been collecting data as to the strength of the militia forces of the United States since the war talk began. There are now over 92,000 of the organized militia, an increase of 10,000 over previous reports. Available companies, not a part of the militia, foot up in membership to 7,000,000, nearly 1,000,000 more than in the previous year.

Giving the People a Scare.

The Campaign Progressing Vigorously—More Candidates Named for Contest.

Sir A. P. Caron will contest Centre Quebec against Mr. Langelier as well as Quebec county.

F. X. Wilson, of Plantagenet, will be the Opposition candidate to Mr. Labrosse in Prescott.

Mr. Blake's eastern tour concluded with another magnificent meeting at Cobourg last night.

The Minister of Marine is stumping Charlotte, N. B., against Mr. Gilmour, the late representative.

The appearance of Ald. E. A. Macdonald as a national policy, prohibition independent in East Toronto is regarded as a crusher for John Small.

The Quebec Treasurer is reported to have discovered that the late government had a deficit of over $500,000 last year, when they were claiming a small surplus.

F. Nicholls the paid secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, besides writing false statements to the press concerning the attitude of the liberals toward the tariff, is understood to arrange combinations between the manufacturers with a view to keeping down wages.

Ready for the Fray.

The intercollegiate debate is fixed for Friday next, at Kingston. The debate is to be on the following: "Resolved, that it is desirable to secure the unity of the British empire, and in order to that, some form of federation or alliance to defend common rights, secure common interests and discharge common duties is requisite, sooner or later." Queen's takes the affirmative, being represented by Messrs. A. Gandier and Rattray. Toronto sends Messrs. Ferguson and Acheson, one of whom is spoken of as the "nestor" of Wycliffe college; but no matter what these men may be, Queen's will not be put to shame. The Mail says exception is taken to a graduate being placed on what was to be an undergraduate's debate. This is a mistake. Toronto's challenge was sent to the Alma Mater society of Queen's, and if they think strange of graduates being in attendance, they must remember that our best men do not leave Canada to complete their education, as was so often hinted during confederation discussions. We are glad to know that the Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Q.C., will be chairman at the debate. Mr. John McIntyre, Q.C., being judge for Queen's. To prevent uncomfortable crowding of Convocation hall, the number of tickets issued will be limited to 600.

Well, Let Her Protest.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Post says England ought to protest in the event of the violation of the Belgian territory by Germany. It will be sufficient, the Post says, to accept the assurance that Belgium will remain intact, although it adds that England cannot act as sole defender of the treaties which are ignored by the other powers.

Bound to Stay Out.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The freight blockade on the river front is worse this morning than it was yesterday afternoon. In many instances the truck men left their waggons, took their horses to the stables and came back and slept on the trucks.

WENT OVER A BRIDGE.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT TO A TRAIN EN ROUTE TO MONTREAL.

A Broken Rail Causes Cars to Fall Sixty Feet and to be Rapidly Burned up—A Long List of Deaths—A Carnival of Sad Scenes—Prominent Men Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 5. (8.30 a.m.)—The night express to Montreal, which left here at 8:15 last night, ran off a bridge at Woodstock, Vt., two miles north of White-river junction. The sleepers and passenger cars and bridge were entirely burned. It is reported that there are a large number of people injured and the number of killed and burned are also reported to be large. Conductor Sturtevant was fatally burned. The accident occurred probably between one and two o'clock this morning on the Central Vermont railroad.

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—The express was wrecked at the first crossing of the White River. A rail broke and the engine, one baggage car, two passenger coaches and two sleeping cars plunged over the bridge and fell sixty feet into the river. Before the engine of any one could get to the wreck the cars had caught fire and were burned. The bridge was also burned, and inside of twenty minutes all was destroyed. Henry Tuxburg, of West Randolph, Vt., a well-known lecturer, and Edward F. Dillon, of Springfield, Vt., member of the sophomore class at Dartmouth, were killed.

Frank L. Wesson, killed, was about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children. He married a daughter of John Lovell, of Montreal, and was a brother-in-law of John W. Lovell, a New York publisher. He intended to leave for Montreal yesterday morning by the day express, but there being no parlor car attached to the train he deferred his departure until 8:15 o'clock last night, taking the sleeping car. He was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Lovell, who was returning to her home in Montreal. It is understood that she was not seriously injured. The latest reports received here state that the number of killed reaches twenty, and that about as many more were injured.

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Up to noon thirty-one bodies were taken out of the wreck. The disaster is of a terrible character.

CONCORD, N.H., Feb. 5.—The train left the White River junction late, and the accident is thought to have occurred about 2.15 a.m. A broken rail was discovered some two hundred feet this side of the bridge, but whether this caused the accident or what first broke is in doubt. The locomotive, baggage and mail cars crossed the bridge safely. Two passenger coaches, the Boston sleeping car "St. Albans," and the Springfield sleeper "St. Albans," went off the bridge at the end on the right hand side and apparently turned bottom side up in the fall.

There was no fire except in the forward passenger car, but the flames soon spread to the other cars and then the bridge, and all were consumed. Twenty-six persons, so far as known, were taken out alive from the cars which were burned. Two of these are understood to be Mr. Wesson and E. Brocklebanks, a brakeman, but they died soon after.

The two passenger coaches were well filled and every berth in the Boston sleeping car was occupied, and twelve in the one from Springfield making the total number of passengers in the wrecked cars about eighty. This will probably make the number of dead between 50 and 60. The bridge was between 30 and 40 feet above the water which was covered with a thick ice making it probably that death resulted from crushing and burning rather than from drowning. Several were penned in the wreck who might have been rescued alive but for the flames.

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Among those saved are Mrs. Pryden, of Montreal; Mr. Hutchins, of Brantree, Vt.; Mr. Morse, of Springfield, and Mr. Motte, a hay dealer of New York. It is said that a Frenchman from Holyoke, named Maigret, is among the killed.

TROY, N.Y., Feb. 5.—A special from St. Albans reports 29 dead bodies taken from the wreck, and between 30 and 40 injured. A special train left here for the scene of the disaster, having on board officers of the road and physicians.

F. M. Pratt, the newly-appointed secretary of the Y.M.C.A., was upon the wrecked train, but as yet nothing has been learned of his whereabouts. There is considerable excitement among the delegates of the convention.
