FROM THE GREAT GORGE.

Recovering the Remains And Much Money—Some Heartrending Scenes.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb. 7.—It takes nearly a hundred persons to act as police to keep the vandals away, such is their persistent search for relics or plunder. They carry off anything, from a mashed and tarnished coin to a piece of half-burned bone. Yesterday five were arrested for stealing valuables from the debris. So far some $10,000 has been recovered from the ruins, in valuables and money. Two of the ill-fated cars in falling broke through the ice and are partially submerged. It is evident that the river, as soon as the ice can be removed, will bring to light further horrors, and public curiosity has now been centered there. From a hole was fished the check book of conductor Burgess of the sleeper, which showed that eleven berths in one and thirteen in the other sleeper were taken. The time of the disaster has probably been determined, a half burned vest being found containing a pretty well preserved watch. The hands had stopped at exactly 2:47. The investigation of the disaster has begun at the junction house.

Louis Combremont, of New York, on his way to Montreal, has the credit of saving the most lives. He was in the sleeper, "St. Albans," and was knocked senseless by the shock. He had on only his shirt, drawers and socks. He became conscious and pulled himself out of the wreck. He was so cold that he went back after his shoes and a blanket. He then enabled five imprisoned passengers to escape, two being ladies. One of the saddest scenes of the disaster is that of an unknown lady, who is supposed to have been en route from Boston for the carnival. She had retired in the Boston sleeper, having on only a night gown. She managed to crawl from the wreck and fear the fire would reach her crawled quite a distance away. There she was found by two gentlemen stiff and numb with cold. They hastily ran to the burning cars, and pulling a mattress out stamped the fire out of it, and carrying it to where the woman lay, placed her carefully on it, and then went off to find a shed or something to carry her to. While they were gone the smouldering fire in the mattress blazed up and being fanned by the strong breeze burned fiercely. When the rescuers returned they found the poor creature burned beyond recognition. She was too cold to move and had been cremated. D. Brooks, Cornwall was killed. Forty six bodies have been recovered.

Letter from Mr. Pratt.

KINGSTON, Feb. 8.—(To the Editor): This morning I received the following letter, forwarded by Mr. D. A. Budge, secretary of the Montreal Y.M.C.A. Believing that it will be of interest to the public and especially to those who anxiously awaited the news from the scene of the late railway accident, I send it to you for publication.
"Pease's Hotel, Hartford, Vt.,
"5th Feb., 1887.

"My Dear Mr. Budge:
"Doubtless you have heard that I was in this dreadful West Hartford bridge accident. The Lord God graciously preserved my life. My only injury is a bad gash on my right foot. The doctor says I must keep in bed for several days. I hope to be in Montreal within a few days by the aid of a crutch. Have to be in bed for the present. I am being well treated and not at all seriously injured.

"Lost everything but my underclothing, as I was in bed when the cars went off the embankment. I happened to be on top when we reached the bottom; and crawled out.

"Face to face with death, but yet He saw fit to protect me.
"Hoping to see you in a few days, I am, yours, very sincerely,
"FRANK M. PRATT.

As many are under the impression that Mr. Pratt is coming to Kingston as secretary of the Y.M.C.A. immediately, let me add that he is not expected until Aug. 1. C. H. Martin, formerly a worker in Montreal, and lately from the Springfield school of Christian workers, will act as secretary for the next six months. Mr. Pratt, however, is expected to visit our city next week.
We would plead for a largely increased membership. Let the moral and the Christian young men of our city hand in their names to the secretary and help on the good work.—Yours, W. G. ANGLIN.

DON'T WANT IT KNOWN.

Frenchmen Trying to Allay Suspicion—They Will Consider Civil Measures.

New York, Feb. 7.—A London special says it is said the French government, with a view to averting the suspicions from its behaviour with regard to war preparations, has agreed to take up the corn duties bill for parliamentary consideration before Gen. Boulanger's military bill. Premier Goblet's friends attribute his reticence concerning the movements of troops and munitions to an idea that such a statement might be interpreted as a device on the part of the French cabinet to thwart Bismarck's electoral designs.

STANDING BY IRELAND.

PARNELL AMENDS THE REPLY TO THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

And Supports his Motion in a Vigorous Speech—Mr. Gladstone Supports the Amendment—The Government Cannot Accept the Amendment Which Suggests Remedies for Ireland.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—In the commons to-day, Mr. Parnell moved his amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech. Mr. Parnell maintained that if the bill for the stopping of evictions, introduced last session, had been passed, the condition of Ireland would have been greatly improved. The blame for the present serious position of Irish domestic affairs rested upon the government. The speaker solemnly warned the government that if they again tried coercion they would again fail, as they always had when trying that policy. Coercion would never bring about a better state of affairs in Ireland or assist in establishing peaceful relations between the two countries. (Cries of "Oh!" "Oh!" and cheers from those of the Irish members.) Sir Michael Hicks-Beach wished to attack the authors of the plan of campaign. He thought to crush the plan by muzzling his opponents and putting them into jail. All past experience has shown that the work of suppression would only begin when such things were done, for the secret societies would spring up and agrarian and political crimes would revive in their worst forms. The government had already been guilty of unprecedented action in the manner in which they had conducted the prosecution of one John Dillon. They had been equally arbitrary in the method employed to suppress the Sligo meetings and in the adoption of a method of striking off juries in such a way as to exclude Catholics.

Referring to the Glenbeigh evictions Mr. Parnell declared that the landlords gave their tenants a month only in which to find five years' rent, arrears and costs. The ultimate offer made by the landlords, to take a half year's rent, looked generous, but the costs involved were over two years' rent. The national league never interfered until the work of eviction was in full swing. As one who had no responsibility in the bringing forward of the plan of campaign he could speak freely upon it. Many tenants who had been cast out upon the bare hillsides but for the plan. The reduction in the number of evictions for the last quarter was mainly due to the plan. The government talked of the robbery of landlords, forgetting that almost every title to Irish land was founded on wholesale robbery and confiscation. The bulk of the improvements made by tenants had been seized by the landlords, who had long been robbing the tenants of the produce of their labor and embezzling their rights. (Irish cheers.)

Mr. Parnell went on to condemn coercion as an incitement to conspiracy. He taunted the Tories with the declaration that if they got powers of oppression equaling those of the czar they would never be able to administer them under a constitutional government nor so long as the Irish members had seats in parliament. (Cheers.)
P. McDonald, nationalist, seconded the amendment.

R. W. Hanbury, conservative, suggested the establishment of a sliding scale of rents. He appealed to the government to deal with Ireland with clean hands and a clean conscience, and endeavor to encourage the revival of Irish industries, which England had destroyed.

Hugh Holmes, attorney general for Ireland, said the government was unable to accept a single proposition contained in the amendment. He added that the government, at the proper time, would submit remedial legislation, which would give the utmost benefit to Ireland consistent with the preservation of the union, and the enforcement of law and order.

Mr. Dillon severely criticized Mr. Holmes' speech.

John Morley moved the adjournment of the debate, which was agreed to. Mr. Parnell was much exhausted when he finished speaking. Mr. Gladstone promises to support the Parnell amendment.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND.

An Amendment in the Imperial House—Supported by Liberals.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The question of home rule is about to be approached from a new side in the house of commons independent of the Parnellite and Gladstonian movements. Sir George Campbell, Gladstonian, is going to move an amendment to the address which will raise the question of home rule for Scotland. A majority of ten Scotch liberal members will support him, so that his motion is sure to make a good deal of noise and help the Irish cause more or less. Mr. Chamberlain and his party have decided to vote for all the radical motions which usually receive their support, provided the government will engage themselves not to go out on them if they are carried.

Evidently Intended For Another.

KINGSTON, Feb. 7.—(To the Editor): I notice that you are not showing justice in disposing of certain cases coming under your notice at the police court. In my case you have done me an injustice, having fined me heavily and also my brother William $40 and costs and no time allowed for its payment. There was one man fined $20 and costs and he was allowed to go to your house and saw wood to pay for the fine.—THOMAS MCKEE.

The above is but one of many queer communications that papers receive. We have had of course nothing to do with inflicting punishments. The fines have been correctly recorded as imposed at the police court. We should be sorry to be the keeper of consciences at that hall of justice.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Notes of the Campaign—The Country Growing Strongly Reform.

Provincial Secretary Gagnon, of Quebec, will probably be returned by acclamation for Kamouraska.

It is reported from South Waterloo that Mr. Livingstone, liberal, will not be opposed.

C. S. Papineau, nephew of the great Papineau, of 1837, has accepted the liberal nomination for Ottawa county.

Prince Edward Island liberals are confident that they will send six liberal members to the new house of commons.

In Quebec county Sir A. P. Caron's opponent will either be Henry O'Sullivan, an influential resident, or Charles Langelier.

Dr. Campbell, Seaforth, has entered the field as a second liberal candidate in South Huron. There is no conservative candidate.

Since 1878 the people of Canada have paid $5 every fifteen minutes for the travelling expenses of members of the boodler government.

At a convention of the conservatives of the north riding of Leeds and Grenville, G. E. Kidd, barrister, Ottawa, received the nomination.

Mr. Fulton, ex M.P., tory, in Stormont, refuses to retire in favour of Dr. Bergin. The liberals will redeem Stormont by a large majority.

James Gamble, Mount Brydges, has been nominated by the Tories to contest South Middlesex with the late member, James Armstrong.

Sir Adolphe Caron has been given a striking likeness of himself by the people of Quebec county. It cost $300. Adolphe can now admire himself if other people don't.

An Algoma paper advocates Mr. Gough for parliament. It says he "has been a total abstainer for nearly a year, and has the means to keep up the position."

Colonel Amyot is again without an opponent in Bellechasse, all the federal government's efforts to bring out a candidate, or to keep him there when out, having failed.

Sir Alex. Campbell's late private secretary, Mr. Hopkirk, has been appointed post office inspector for the Stratford division at a salary of $2,000. There is considerable "kicking" about Stratford.

Mr. Blake has been a total abstainer for years, is opposed to the mutilation of the Scott act, believes it should be rigidly enforced by the executive wherever it is adopted, and favors prohibition just as soon as the people are ready to see it carried out.

Lieut. Col. Scott, ex-M.P., for Winnipeg, promised the deposition of collector of customs, finds it difficult to make the government fulfil their promise, and threatens to take the field in Winnipeg unless his appointment is made at once.

The action of the government in placing $10,000 of the Cornwall sufferers in the hands of Dr. Bergin, tory candidate for the commons, and the defeated tory for the local house, for distribution is not giving satisfaction. The people of Cornwall maintain that it should not have been made a fund for political purposes.

E. P. Cook, of Moncton, N.B., president of the liberal association, writes to the London Advertiser: "The provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are going strongly liberal in the coming contest. I never saw such a change of public opinion since the days of the Pacific scandal. Nova Scotia will send 19 and New Brunswick 14. The only four conservatives that can be elected are ministers Thompson and McLellan and Foster and Costigan."

THE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

A Stirring Up Now and Then is a Really Good Thing—Lectures to Nurses.

The monthly meeting of the board of governors yesterday was attended by Messrs. Strange, Brock, Carruthers, Carson, Kirkpatrick, Pease, Robertson, Chown and Duff. The reports showed 51 patients, a decline of three from last month. There were five deaths and four births last month; five lying in cases treated. No action was taken upon resignations received. Over $1,100 was passed in certified accounts; and a move was made for cheaper water, and upon other items of interior economy.

It was shown that more than the usual number of lectures had been given to the nurses in training, and that they were now in addition being offered the benefits of the clinical lectures to the students of the women's medical college.

The tenders for bread were: Begg, 9c.; McCannan, 9c.; Toye, 10c.; awarded to the lowest. The lowest tender for meat was James Gowdy, at $4.20 per 100 lbs. for beef and mutton, but his tender was adjudged not in proper form nor complete enough. The contract was given to Waddington Bros. at those prices: Roasts of beef, 7c.; beef for boiling, 4c.; steak, 5c.; mutton, 6c.; lamb, 6c.; veal, 6c.; pork, 5c. The visiting governors for February are Messrs. Pease and Carson.

Farmers in Danger.

GENTLEMEN.—You have now arrayed against you the conservative government, conservative members, government officials, manufacturers, railway companies, merchants, and mechanics—all biting the hand that feeds them. All these leeches have combined to make you poor. You sell produce at starvation prices, owing, in a great measure, to arbitrary and offensive laws as regards our trade with the United States. Your land is mortgaged to money-lenders, with English capital, for more than half its value; the interest goes into the pockets of English landlords and capitalists, making you tenants as much as Irish tenants—mere slaves. You pay from ten to fifty per cent. more for what you buy than you would under a well-regulated tariff. Farmers, if you wish to save yourself from ruin, and make your children independent men and women, vote for some government that will deal more fairly with every class of people in the dominion.
WM. STALEY, Farmer.
Wolfe Island, Feb. 7.

Building The "Thistle."

GREENOCK, Feb. 7.—The Thistle is now in frame and a beginning has been made this week with her outside plating. She will be built entirely of steel and will be very strong. Captain Barr, who will have the men he had with him in the Clara in America last year and also a number of the Marjorie's best hands, will take the Thistle out under racing mast, but with a short boom and gaff. The Thistle will be launched early in April.

THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY.

A Merry Evening at St. George's Hall—A Good Place For Girls.

The St. George's cathedral branch of the girls' friendly society celebrated its second anniversary in St. George's hall last evening. Fully three hundred persons were present. A plentiful supply of tea, coffee and cakes, was handed round by the members, who, in their efforts to please, seemed determined to omit no one. During the evening a good programme was rendered, in which the following ladies and gentlemen took part: Misses Adams, King and Campbell; Mesdames Deacon and Bates; Messrs. Walkem and Anglin; Mrs. Stalleraffe Smith contributed a reading entitled "The music box," which pleased the audience so much that an encore was demanded, an honor not often conferred upon a reader. During the two years that this branch of the friendly society has been in existence it has steadily increased. Its usefulness as a society and the great interest taken in it by the people of Kingston was clearly shown by the presence of so large a number of people last evening.

The society meets every Monday in St. George's hall, when a pleasant evening is spent in amusement, music or needlework. A certain number of associates are present each evening to look after the welfare of the girls. Many young girls have already taken advantage of these meetings, and the associates would be glad to welcome more. Give it a trial, girls, it will tend to your happiness and well being.

A VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Subterranean Noises in the Earth—Plenty of Mud Lying Around.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 7.—The inhabitants of Baku, in the centre of the great Russian petroleum fields, have been much alarmed over a subterranean explosion, which shook the houses and caused considerable damage. At the same time a volcano burst on Lakbatan, ten miles from Baku. For two nights the volcano threw a column of fire and mud 350 feet high, illuminating the country for miles. The mud emitted already lies from seven to fourteen feet deep over a square mile of territory.

Injured in a Row.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—To-day a free fight took place on the pier of the Morgan line of steamers between a number of Italians and striking longshoremen. After the police had separated the combatants John O'Neill, a longshoreman, was found badly wounded.
