THE NEWS FROM ABROAD

DEBATE IN THE COMMONS ON PAR-NELL'S AMENDMENT.

Redmond Makes a Speech Under Bail-Lord Hartington Still Further Explains the Government's Position-Trevelyan Not Willing to Take Mr. Goschen's Chances.

London, Feb. 10. - An urgent whip was sent to all the tory and liberal unionist mem bers of the house of commons, summoning them to be on hand to vote against Parnell's amendment to the address. The tories among the students have torn up by the roots and destroyed the tree planted at Cambridge university last week by Mr. Gladstone. The liberal students threaten reprisals. Mr. Parnell is drafting a bill to extend and holders in town parks, as well as lease holders. No liberal whip has been issued for to-night's division on Mr. Parnell's amendment to the address. Mr. Trevelyan has declined to stand as a liberal unionist candidate for Burnley.

Mr. Redmond resumed the debate on Mr. Parnell's amendment. He said he spoke as one soon to undergo, in company with Dillon and others, a trial which would probably end with imprisonment for assisting in the operations of the plan of campaign. So far as the plan had been applied not more than twenty estates had been brought under its operations, and in no case was it proposed to deprive the landlord of his rent, but the aim was simply to enable the tenants to bank their money for protection in cases where the landlords refused to make a fair reduction. In every instance in which the plan had been tried the landlords were finding it advisable to make concessions. It was mainly due to the plan that this winter there had been fewer evictions than for several years previous, and an almost total absence of outrages. The Marquis of Hartington said the plan of campaign was not the main question be fore the house. To vote for Mr. Parnell's amendment was to vote want of confidence in the government. The other questions raised, therefore, could not be discussed on their merits, but only with reference to the effect of the amendment on the fate of the government. Admitting that the relations between landlords and tenants in Ireland were far from satisfactory it was no remedy to suspend or reduce or abolish the payment of rent. Such a plan would be found to be no boon to the poor tenants. Continuing Lord Hartington said that the real remedies for the agrarian crisis were to be found in providing larger productive employment for the people or in voluntary emigration, conducted and supported by the local authorities. (Cheers.) Still, where landlords existed, the land laws must be enforced. It would never be possible to get rid of the ultimate resort of eviction. The course of the government, in prosecuting the authors of the plan of campaign, was right and straightforward. It was the duty of the government to attack men engaged in an illegal conspiracy and prevent their leading astray tenants who were their dupes. Mr. Gladstone had declared that the plan of campaign had resulted from the policy of the government in refusing to adopt the suspension of the eviction bill. Could parliament hold that as a legitimate consequence? The rejection of any measure left the people morally entitled to take the law into their own hands and do what parliament had refused to do. (Cheers.) If the plan of campaign was not illegal, if its enforcement was not stopped, there would be an end to all relations between landlord and tenant. It would cause an internecine war, and result in the total destruction of the power of the landlord to obtain any rent excepting what the tenant chose to pay. The suppression of the plan was a necessity. if order was to be preserved. Mr. Parnell had referred to the probable recurrence of dynamite outrages. He admitted that Mr. Parnell was not in a position to control dynamite crimes, but he was in a position to disown them. (Cheers.) They were not disowned. Mr. Parnell contented himself with warning parliament that if a certain course were pursued the dynamiters might resume operations. As to home rule there remained a steadfast solid barrier of 100 votes against Mr. Gladstone's scheme. (Cheers.) It was idle and useless for the home rulers to present a vague resolution to the house on the ground that they had the nation. Viscount Kilcoursie, liberal; Samuel Storry, radical, and Henry H. Fowler, liberal, spoke in favor of the amendment. Mr. Sexton adjourned the debate.

The Bulgarian Question.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. - The Tribune's London says the publication of the British blue book on Bulgaria supplies an interesting offi cial narrative of the events connected with Prince Alexander's downfall, and military conspiracy against him, and Russian intri gues. English dispatches confirm Lord Salisbury's express denial of the charges which the Russian organ in London sums under the name of Battenbergism.

The Pall Mall Gazette, nevertheless faithful to the end in its Muscovite role, renews its attack, places together bits of dispatches with the head lines and summaries of its own, and insists that the blue book literally reeks with Battenbergism. The Russo mania in that journal, goes even to the length of imputations on the queen.

The Daily News, which cannot be suspected of partiality for the present ministry. states the truth in honesty by saying that the Salisbury government is entitled to a large share of the credit of having saved the Bulgarian people from the tyranny of Rus-

Colby is having a hard fight in Stanstead. Rider, the liberal candidate, will be elected sure.

Laird is sure of success in Prince Albert district. The Metis give him their unanimous support. L'Electeur, of Quebec, claims that the par-nation day, and thereafter go west for some time. He will be in Ottawa on election day to hear of his defeat. Throughout Quebec the public officials are getting into line with the liberal party. The general opinion is, of course, that there is to be a change of government. Mr. L. F. Burroughs has accepted the candidature for Quebec West, and F. H.

Druin, Q.C., for Quebec East, both in the interest of the conservative party. Mr. Clapp, the tory candidate in Prince Edward, has declined to discuss the public questions of the day on the same platform with Dr. Platt, the liberal standard bearer. Dr. Hickey, of Dundas, is going to slip out on oleomargarine. It is second only to greased lightning. He has been talking on both sides, once for the grease and then against it. W. Paterson will be elected over South Brant's conservative candidate, W. F. Cockshutt, by a majority of 300, notwithstanding the fact that the franchise has been extended to the Indians. The Hamilton Times tells a story related by Mr. Cockshutt, the tory candidate for South Brant. It is that Mr. Cockshutt, when a boy, lost himself and was found and returned to his parents by Mr. Paterson, his present opponent. Mr. Paterson will again

Cattle Dying by Thousands-Scarcity of Fuel, and Terrible Suffering,

BUTTE, Mont. Feb. 10. -Reports from all over the territory show a deplorable state of affairs. The thermometer has been ranging from 40° to 60° below zero for the past ten days. Specials from Fort Assimboine and Forts Shaw and Benton say that cattle are now dying from exposure by thousands. At Fort Benton grave fears are entertained in regard to fuel, which is getting very scarce, many families being without enough to make a fire. All hope of saving the cattle has vanished. Several stage coaches have been lost. Relief parties are out after them.

The Great New York Strike. NEW YORK, Feb. 11. - The ordering of the engineers, employed on the steamship and railroad piers, to go on strike, has, so far as the piers are concerned, proved a dead letter. The rumor that the brewers intended to strike has no foundation. The freight handlers formerly employed on the New York and Northern railway yesterday asked to be taken back, but were refused. At the main dock all the strikers returned, and at the Ward line only twenty-five strikers remain out. At the Mallory line the super intendent will take back none of the strik ers. At the piers of the Long Island RR., the Bristol line, the Baltimore & Ohio transportation, the Bridgeport daily line, and other piers, work was proceeding to day as evenly as before the strike.

Nearly Suffocated by Coal Gas. On Wednesday evening Thomas Peters. wife and three children, residing in a house near Division street, had a narrow escape from suffocation by coal gas. It appears that before the family retired coal was pour ed into a stove, but the lid of it, which had been removed, was not replaced. The gas pervaded the rooms in the house, including the sleeping apartments, and seriously affect ed the sleepers. When Mr. Peters rose on Thursday morning he staggered and had to catch hold of the bed for support. A half an hour was occupied in putting on his clothes. He found his wife and children in a very precarious condition. A physician was called in who administered some restoratives that had a good effect and helped the patients to recover. Doing Awful Work.

MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—Pickpockets are bolder than ever. The maze is the favorite spot. A Boston gentleman lost a diamond pin, another $70, ladies and gentlemen lost watches and fur collars. 6. R. Hance, Quebec, had $670 stolen from his pocket. A citizen caught a man tugging at his watch chain and was stabbed in the neck as he tried to grab the thief. A man named Mackey attempted to stop a thief but was hit with a skull cracker and so injured that he was removed to the hospital. Sneak thieves are hanging about the hotels.

They Were Revenged. BRISDANE, Feb. 10. - The Queensland expedition, which went to New Guinea to avenge the murder, by natives last October, at Johannes, of Captain Craig, two sailors and six Malays of the ship Emily while they were engaged in pearl diving, has returned The enterprise was entirely successful. The native chief, responsible for the murder was caught and beheaded, and the village where he and his accomplices lived was burned.
