Credit to Whom Deserved.
BARRIEFIELD, March 15. (To the Editor): Kindly permit me to correct an error which appeared in the report of the proceedings of the Dominion Farmers' council, published in the Farmers' Advocate for March. The report referred to a letter written by the secretary of the Pittsburg Farmers' club to the secretary of the Dominion Farmers' council, in which the writer took to himself the credit of the organization, etc., of the Pittsburg club. This is a mistake, no doubt unintentional, on the part of the report, as I had not the remotest idea of claiming a part either in the conception or organization of the club. Mr. R. J. Milton, as far as I can learn, took the initiative in the matter, and in conjunction with Messrs. H. Bawden, R. J. Dunlop, M. Graves, and D. Rodgers, deserve any credit there is in carrying out the scheme. I merely acted as secretary, and endeavored to perform the very simple duties of the office.—Yours, F. GEO. BROOKS.

The Dead and the Living.
ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—The imperial court yesterday attended a funeral service before the late czar's tomb, in the cathedrals of St. Peter and St. Paul. Services were held in all the churches, and at the shrine over the spot where the czar was killed. In the evening the city was illuminated in honor of the accession of Alexander III. All the theatres, grog shops, and other places of resort of the people, were closed.

Coloured Ball Players in Council.
BALTIMORE, March 15.—Delegates representing the Pittsburg, Louisville, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore clubs met here yesterday and adopted a constitution to govern the national league of colored base-ball players. The six cities represented will each have a club and two may be added. A fifty dollar guarantee to the visiting clubs was agreed to and the schedule will be presented to the delegates.

People Sick of Despotism.
VIENNA, March 15.—A plot has been discovered in Russia to overthrow the czar's government and to establish a limited constitutional government. The plot, it is said, has no connection with nihilism, its promoters being large land owners and traders.

Snow Storms in Europe.
VIENNA, March 15.—Heavy snow storms have been raging in Styria and Carinthia. A man was found frozen to death in this city yesterday.

DOWN WITH A CRASH.

HARROWING SCENES CAUSED BY THE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

An Hundred People Affected—Some Killed Outright, and Some so Badly Injured That They Cannot Recover—The Wreck Really Beyond Description.
BOSTON, March 14.—Details of a terrible accident, on the Dedham branch of the Boston and Providence railroad, are to hand. The engine and the first three cars of the Dedham branch train passed over the bridge safely. The structure gave way when the fourth car was passing over it. The inmates of the car were all killed or injured. After the accident the cars lay in such absolute demolition that it is remarkable that any person escaped alive. In the mass of splinters were pools of blood, and occasionally a body. Pieces of flesh were fastened between timbers, actually gouged from some victim. Conductor Tilden was in the third car, and on the ground directly underneath was a pool of blood, while half the debris of the coach was spattered with blood. Underneath this coach were picked up the breast and lungs of a human being. That the horrors of fire were not added to the disaster was due to the promptness of the relief sent from Roslindale. Word was sent to the nearest station and surgical assistance summoned. One hundred and fifty mattresses were sent to the scene of the accident by a special train, which also carried the surgeons and friends of the passengers. As the dead were removed they were laid in a row on the stone wall, while the wounded were laid on cushions. Ambulances and hacks were laden with dead bound to the morgue, or injured for the city general hospital.

WHAT AN OUTSIDER SAW AND DID.
J. H. Lennon, a fish dealer, on the hill just above the bridge, was harnessing his team when the train came along. He was horror-stricken to see the train plunge through the bridge. Then the cries of the injured were heard. Lennon climbed into the window of one of the coaches and set to work to release persons pinned down by the broken timbers. He cut out four men who were badly hurt, one of whom was nearly decapitated and had both arms severed. The shrieks of the wounded and the groans of the dying made a horrible pandemonium. By the time the first regular passenger train reached the scene nothing could be seen but the splintered and shattered cars. All of the dead and injured had been removed.

George Sanford, of Roslindale, in the second car of the wrecked train, said: "We were sitting in the middle of the second car. All at once there was a crash, a deafening noise, and then for a moment all was still. Then arose a confusion of sounds all around us. There were groans from those who were hurt or dying. Many were under the seats and some were crushed between them. In front of us sat a man named Ryan; he was half turned in his seat as he talked, and the moment after the wreck he was actually run through and through by splinters from the bottom of the car. The sight among the debris was horrible. Many people were dead pinned down by timbers, and wounded. All were horribly mangled. I saw one man working to help others. The top of his scalp and left ear were torn from his head and he was covered with blood, but he did not realize it. After all had been moved from the car he was working in some one told him that he must have badly hurt himself. He put his hand to his head, and the next moment fainted away."

AN APPALLING RUIN.
The wreck made a most appalling ruin. Of the nine cars which formed the train six were in the cut. The bridge entirely gave way before it reached the inward side, but the momentum of the train and the strength of the couplings carried it nearly over the chasm. It dropped just before it reached the abutment and the body of the car dashed against the solid stone wall. The force of the shock shot the roof forward so that it cleared the chasm and slid along the rails full length, the body of the car being literally ground to pieces, and the bits of iron, wood and human bodies strewn on the road beneath, forming the foundation of the wreck. The cars in the chasm formed a pile of wreckage 400 feet long by 100 feet wide. The scene after the disaster was heart-rending. In one place seven bodies taken out were placed in a row. Large numbers of women were on the train, and many were seen in the ruins. One woman was cut completely in two. Two men, who were saved, had their faces hacked, and the lips of one were cut off.
Most of the clothing found was of women. A pathetic sight was that of two girls clinging together in death. Both had been killed by blows upon the head. In many instances axes and crowbars were necessary in order to free the persons who were pinned in the wreck. In two cases it was necessary to cut two of the bodies in order to get them out. They were already crushed out of any semblance to human shape.

One old lady was taken from a car uninjured. She said the women in her car seemed to be panic-stricken at the moment the crash occurred. She saw one dying in a seat while another had her head pillow on the dying woman's breast.
Under the bridge the headless trunk of a woman was found with one arm completely gone and the lower limbs cut and mangled. The head was found among the fragments of a car.
One man was seen to walk in the direction of Roslindale. A dozen yards from the wreck he fell dead.
It is impossible to obtain an absolutely correct account of the number injured, but it will reach 100 or more. Of these at least 25 are quite badly hurt and the remainder received only slight bruises.

Accident in New Hampshire.
FOREST HILLS, Mass., March 15.—It was known at a late hour last night that thirty-nine persons lost their lives by the railway accident. There were about 100 injured. Two were dying in the Massachusetts hospital, and several others were in a critical condition.

Bradford, N.H., March 14.—The passenger train from Claremont, on the Concord and Claremont railroad, was thrown from the track four miles west of here by snow upon the track. Engineer Wright, freeman Thomson and roadmaster J. N. Perkins went down with the engine, but none of them were injured. There were about forty persons on the train, all of whom escaped without injury.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Quebec Legislature Opens To-morrow—Algoma Election Decided.
Election in the north-west to-day. The West Huron election is to be contested.

The Quebec legislature re-opens on Wednesday. Mr. Tarte, of Le Canadien, is a competitor for the senatorship vacated by the death of Mr. Chapais.
Mr. Theriault, who opposed Hon. John Costigan in the late election, has filed, or is ready to file, a protest against Mr. Costigan's return.
Sir John Macdonald's deposit in Carleton was made in the same way as Mr. King's in Queen's, N.B., which the returning-officer there says is illegal.
Capt. Wilson, the returning officer, may count Burk, of Algoma, out, but a revision of the ballots will seat the choice of the majority.

One of the dominion cabinet ministers received a telegram from Sault Ste Marie stating that Mr. Burke had been elected for Algoma by thirteen majority.
A despatch received at Ottawa yesterday afternoon from the returning officer for Algoma stated that the returns were not all in yet, but that Mr. Dawson was elected by about 25 majority.

It is stated that during the coming session the Canadian Pacific railway company will want a cash bonus of four millions of dollars as consideration for the surrender of the monopoly clauses of its charter.
Judge Upper, on the re-count in Haldimand, reserved decision as to throwing out the vote in number three, Oneida. He, however, expressed himself as in favor of admitting it, which decision makes Mr. Colter's majority four.
Finding Mr. Cargill's election for East Bruce null and void, the government has issued a writ for a new election in that riding. This is a most extraordinary proceeding. Mr. Cargill's return was gazetted, but he had not resigned his position as post-master before he was elected.

When the rebellion broke out in the north-west in 1885, Lieut.-Col. Duchesney, now liberal member-elect for Dorchester county, Que., tendered the services of his battalion to go to the front. His offer was declined, and during the recent election contest Sir A. P. Caron made it a charge against Mr. Duchesney that he had offered to fight the Metis, and urged that he should be defeated because of his patriotic offer. The electors of Dorchester rebuked Caron's meanness by giving Col. Duchesney nearly 500 majority.

Astonishing Success.
It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing consumption, severe coughs, croup, asthma, pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cts. Sold by all druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada.

Brilliant Event in Rome.
Cardinals Gibbons and Taschereau received congratulations from the lay and ecclesiastical diplomats in the hall of the propaganda yesterday. A distinguished assemblage was present. The church of the Santa Maria della Vittoria, held by the late Cardinal Jacobini, secretary of state, had been assigned to Cardinal Taschereau, who will take possession of it next Saturday. Cardinal Taschereau will depart for Havre on his way home next Sunday.

Putting on the Scowes.
VIENNA, March 15.—Political Correspondence says the governors-general of all the provinces of Russia have gathered at St. Petersburg to discuss the question of restricting the rights of foreigners to the acquisition of landed property in the frontier provinces. The question is suggested by an increase of immigration into Russian Poland.

Following his Pastor Quickly.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Edward E. Bowen, one of the fifty members of Plymouth church who accompanied Beecher's body to Greenwood on Saturday, died yesterday. It is believed that his death was caused by heart disease. Bowen was a brother of H. C. Bowen, publisher of the Independent.

Czar's Life in Danger.
LONDON, March 15.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says that six students have been arrested on Newskie Prospect, near Anitchkin palace, having in their possession a quantity of explosives. They were awaiting the coming of the czar on his way to the cathedral to take part in the anniversary services.

Cure for Croup.
Prompt relief to prevent suffocation from the accumulation of tough mucus—the formation of false membrane—and the constriction of the air passages, is necessary in case of a sudden attack of croup. Haggard's Yellow Oil should be used at once, afterwards Haggard's Pectoral Balsam.

A Case of Do or Die.
LONDON, March 15.—The Daily Telegraph reports that a party of Russian nihilists, condemned to exile, attacked the mail coach near Tschita, shot the coachman and guards, and stole 137,000 roubles in paper and 40,000 in gold.

Another Arrival in Canada.
CHICAGO, March 15.—The Chicago manager of the Ansonia clock company, John F. Gildhill, has defaulted to the tune of from $28,000 to $31,000, and abandoned to Canada. Book-keeper William Watson is a defaulter also in $5,500, and has been arrested.

A Good Paying Road.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Jay Gould was yesterday elected president of the Missouri Pacific railway. George Gould was elected acting president. The net earnings of the road for this year were $3,374,000.

Go and hear Ireland's songs and Ireland's music in the opera house on the evening of March 17th.

STILL SEEKING UNION.

MR. GLADSTONE IS LOYAL TO THE NATIONALIST LEADER.

The Hitch on the Home Rule Bill—The Chamberlain Section of the Liberal Party Getting Bolder in its Demands—The Government Measures in Hand.

LONDON, March 14.—Reports are current in liberal circles that Mr. Gladstone has at last seen his way to modify his original plan of home rule by applying the system of education to the united kingdom so as to make Ireland another Ontario. But, information which has reached the government, probably through Lord Hartington, casts doubts upon the statement. According to this information, Mr. Gladstone would not refuse to assent to such a re-arrangement if he could regard it as offering a practical solution of the difficulty. But he sees insuperable obstacles in the way. In the first place, however willing he might personally be to trust the new Irish movement, with the control and pay of the police, he thinks that parliament would never consent to such a transfer of authority. Next, he foresees serious objections to entrusting an Irish legislative assembly with the direction of educational affairs and the power to regulate the administration of justice in the local courts, even if a guarantee was offered on the latter point by reserving the appointment of judges to the crown. In a word, he despairs of getting parliament to intrust Ireland with powers which it might be willing to give to England, Scotland and Wales, as he knows that the Parnellites would not assent to federation unless Ireland were admitted on a footing of equality with the other kingdoms, and he does not see his way to the adoption of the project. Hence, though last year's bills are dead, he reverts to their principles and even to their details with parental fondness. He is not interfering with other people's schemes, and he declares that he comes to their consideration with an open mind, but it seems probable that, in adopting this non-committal attitude, he is really waiting for the introduction of the coercion bill before showing any card in his hand.

The Fishery Difficulty.

LONDON, March 14.—The anxiety of the government to settle the fisheries dispute is increased by the receipt of advices that the Canadian fishermen are arming many vessels in readiness to maintain their exclusive rights upon the opening of the spring fishing season. Hopes are entertained at the foreign office that President Cleveland and Secretary Bayard, who are believed to be well disposed toward peaceful settlement of the question, will, during the recess of congress, refrain from putting the retaliation bill into practice, and they will assent to the appointment of an international commission to consider the fishery question. Mr. Gladstone and Earl Granville approve of the general policy of the government on this matter. Mr. Bright is reported to have urged Minister Phelps to advise a speedy settlement of the question. He takes the ground that the dispute is not worth disturbing the relations of nations like England and America about. No answer has yet been received from Washington to Lord Salisbury's suggestion, through Mr. Phelps, that Minister Phelps' absence from London at the present time is the subject of much remark in diplomatic circles, and is believed to be due to an intimation from his government that in the existing condition of feeling in America respecting the fisheries it is expedient that he keep out of the way during the approaching court ceremonies.

Harmonizing the Liberals.

LONDON, March 14.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to the request of several of his adherents for information as to the concessions offered to the unionists, declines to enter into details, but says the liberals may rely upon his firm adherence to the principle and basis of his home rule policy. The radical unionists attribute the failure of the conference negotiations to Mr. Gladstone's decisions to abide by Mr. Parnell's demands. Since the breaking off of negotiations the demands of the unionists have grown. They comprise the following eight essentials: That Ireland be represented in the imperial parliament; that Ulster be separated from the jurisdiction of the Dublin parliament; that the Irish parliament be subordinate to and not co-ordinate with the imperial body; that the subordinate power of the Irish parliament be strictly defined and limited; that the maintenance of law and order remain under the control of the imperial authority; that Mr. Gladstone's financial proposals be abandoned; that his proposition that the Irish parliament be composed of two orders be abandoned; that British credit be not pledged for the benefit of Irish landlords. The Parnellites and Gladstonians scout these demands as unworthy of consideration. Mr. Gladstone has been asked to explicitly define his position and to state upon what terms a reunion is possible.

The Irish Question.

DUBLIN, March 14.—Moonlighters have wrecked the houses of ten tenants on General Stewart's estate in West Clare. The tenants had refused to adopt the plan of campaign. Bailiffs and police, trying to serve summonses in Hubertstown, were attacked with stones and driven out of town.

DUBLIN, March 14.—The corporation of Dublin, by a vote of 23 to 3, rejected a proposal to send a congratulatory address to the queen on the occasion of her jubilee. A writ has been issued against Mr. Biggar, who is one of Mr. Dillon's sureties.

Thing Susceptible of Proof.

LONDON, March 15.—Mr. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, stated in the commons yesterday that the testimony given before the Cowper Irish land commission was published accurately as given. He denied that any of this testimony had either been condensed or altered as has been alleged, respecting that given by Gen. Buller.

The Crimes Bill Ready.

LONDON, March 15.—The government hope to introduce the crimes bill next Monday, or at latest on the Thursday following, though they do not ask for urgency till after Easter. It is not likely that the bill will be introduced till the crimes bill has passed its second reading.
