YOUNG FOLKS' COLUMN.

A STORY ABOUT A SWORDFISH THAT CHASED A SEAL.

An Old Game That Interests Modern Boys—An Enigma for Everybody—A Country Chick's Hopes and Fears Told in Rhyme.

Beavers are busy little creatures that live in many parts of the world, and anywhere they live they are patterns worthy of imitation as regards industry and skill. Their homes are located on the water's edge and near some thickly wooded region. From the woods they gather the material with which to construct their houses, which are made both warm and strong. The interior of a beaver's house is seven or eight feet in diameter and three feet high. Around this, but leaving a vacant space or court in the middle, several rooms are arranged. Beavers, it must be understood, are not content with one apartment. In addition to their lodges they have what Vick calls dining halls—in reality, burrows or rooms where they take their food.

Nothing is wasted by the industrious beaver. He strips the bark from the branches of trees, with which he builds the walls of his castle and stores it away for food in winter. The branches which the beaver carries in his fore feet—that become arms when he works—are laced together with twigs and the spaces plastered with mud. The roof is formed of branches and moss massed together with mud. But how does the beaver accomplish all this carpentry and masonry? Some readers may not know. The answer is, with nature's tools.

THE BUSY BEAVER.

As has been already told, when at work this animal's fore feet become his arms, with which he carries his burdens of logs and branches. As for the rest, his teeth are wonderfully strong and sharp and provide the chisel like tools with which he cuts down trees and branches. The beaver is a builder of dams as well as of houses.

The beaver measures about two feet in length and has a broad, somewhat flattened tail, that serves as an assistance when he is plastering the walls of his house with mud mortar. The two hind feet are long and webbed, the fore feet are short and not webbed. The hind feet are used for swimming, while the fore feet are held close to the side. The beaver is covered with beautiful soft fur, and this fur is what all the beaver hats, caps, muffs and capes are made of. Did you ever realize before that in order to have your warm, soft furs many beavers had to be hunted and caught in nets or traps, and then killed?

The Country Chick's Story.

I was born on a farm at Cloverbrook, One sunshiny day in May, In a nest just under the rafters, All woven of fragrant hay, I grew in a moment conscious Of my mother's warm, downy breast, And the swallows chirping a lullaby, As they circled above our nest.

With many a flirt and flutter Adown the mountainous snow We cautiously slid and scrambled To the huge barn floor below, Where a rooster neighed in his cozy stall, And Bossey, with big brown eyes, Looked at us over the stable bars, Munching in mute surprise.

THE COUNTRY CHICK.

At first I was fed and petted By a dainty, tender hand; I was christened Snowflake, by and by, And decked with a crimson band, We played hide and seek in the meadow, Where the clovers and daisies grew, And made our luncheon of dainty bugs, And drank from the brooklet, too.

Since then existence at Cloverbrook Has been ever a dream of bliss, I've an egg hid under the rafters, And could oodles, except for this— That dread Thanksgiving is near at hand, And I'm trembling with fear, you see, Least I should be needed for pot pie Or be slain for a fricassee. —Golden Days.

Progressive Enigma.

I am composed of ten letters and form the name of a fine city. My 1 2 3 is a verb. My 1 2 3 4 is a lotion. My 2 3 4 is a kind of tree. My 3 4 5 6 is the fore part of the leg. My 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 is cleansing. My 8 9 is a preposition. My 9 10 is upon. My 9 10 is to measure.

DO YOU GIVE IT UP? If so, we must provide the answer, which is the word "Washing-ton."

The Swordfish and the Seal.

The Newfoundland seals have relentless foes in sharks and swordfish, and they will rush from the water to the ice when pursued by these monsters. Sealers relate many incidents of sharks so ravenous that they actually leaped upon the ice in pursuing a seal, and declare that many seals have been shot while thus out of their element. One story is related about a swordfish that chased a seal. The seal reached the ice in safety, and the swordfish, so enraged at the escape of its intended prey, thrust his sword against the ice with such force that a piece weighing hundreds of pounds was split from the floor. The cries of the seal are described as having been so full of agony that the sealers killed her out of pity, a fate that she submitted to without a murmur.

GLEANINGS.

A nasal injector free with each bottle of Shiloh's catarrh remedy. Price 50c.

At least twenty-five men and half that number of women are making ready to go through the whirlpool at Niagara Falls this summer, and by and bye it won't be looked upon as any more dangerous than a toboggan slide.

The Rev. Geo. H. Thayer, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's consumption cure." W. J. Wilson, wholesale and retail agent, Kingston.

When the youth of the period is at his desk in the store an hour seems about ninety minutes in length, but when he is at his girl's house in the evening its duration does not seem more than fifteen minutes.

Are you made miserable by indigestion, constipation, dizziness, loss of appetite, yellow skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. W. J. Wilson, wholesale and retail agent, Kingston.

Dr. W. Searle who attended Rev. Henry Ward Beecher in his last illness, was formerly a prominent homeopathic physician in Troy, N. Y. He left that city about twenty years ago and took up his residence in Brooklyn, where he soon found a place among the leaders of his profession.

Shiloh's catarrh remedy—a positive cure for catarrh, diphtheria, and canker mouth. Shiloh's catarrh remedy is a positive cure for catarrh and diphtheria. For sale by W. J. Wilson, druggist.

The Marquis of Bute, with his characteristic generosity, has given $5,000 for the establishment of a national institute for Wales, at Cardiff, for the advancement of literature, art and science, as a jubilee memorial. The scheme will cost in its entirety $85,000.

Sleepless nights made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's cure is the remedy for you. For sale by W. J. Wilson.

Word comes of the death of Dr. Schroeder, a professor in the university of Berlin and director of the Royal hospital for women, who was accounted the ablest gynecologist in Germany. He killed himself by overwork.

Go at Once to the Root

Of the evil; doing by halves makes waste half the energy expended by mankind. Why should you trifle with disease? When indications are given that something has gone wrong make the restoration of normal conditions the real, not incidental, business of life. Few curative agents have equalled Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, compounded of purely vegetable substances, on scientific principles and beautifully sugar-coated. They constitute the most certain, safe, and pleasant family medicine in existence. Try Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Sold by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, and by all dealers in medicine.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

What's the Use.

Why suffer a single moment when you can get immediate relief from internal or external pain by the use of Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure? Nerviline has never been known to fail. Try a 10 cent sample bottle. You will find it just as recommended. Neuralgia, toothache, cramps, headache, and all similar complaints disappear as if by magic when Nerviline is used. Large bottles 25 cents. Test bottles 10 cents, at druggists' and country dealers'.

A Cure for Drunkenness.

Opium, morphine, chloral, tobacco, and kindred habits. The medicine may be given in tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it if so desired. Send 6c in stamps, for book and testimonials from those who have been cured. Address M. V. Lubon, 46 Wellington St. East, Toronto, Ont. Cut this out for future reference. When writing mention this paper.

Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not more than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. The only sure and perfect cure is electricity and the best form of administering it is by Norman's electric belts and insoles. W. J. Wilson is my agent and from him you can procure testimonials and circulars relating to any of your complaints. Try and be cured. W. J. Wilson, sole agent for Kingston.

A Lucky Escape.

"For six years I suffered with my throat and enlarged tonsils. I was very weak; I doctored four years, and had advice from three doctors; they said I would have to undergo an operation. I tried B. B. B. instead. One bottle cured me." M. A. Squeish, Raglan, Ont.

A Vermont boy, 8 years old, was buried sixteen feet deep by the caving in of a well, and it was twenty-four hours before they dug him out. All the remarks he made were that he felt sleepy and wanted a bowl of bread and milk.

Satisfied Confidence.

J. B. H. Girard, of St. Edwidge, Clifton, P. Q., says, "I am well satisfied with the use of Burdock Blood Bitters; it has cured me of dyspepsia that I had for three years. I used five bottles, and shall tell every person I know that may be attacked with similar sickness, and should not be afraid to guarantee every bottle used."

A Good Motive.

Harry Ricardo, of Toronto, agent of Fine Art Publications, states that he was so troubled with deafness for eight years that he could scarcely attend to business, until he tried Yellow Oil. He desires to make this cure known, for the benefit of others afflicted.
