ANTI-COERCION AGITATION.

The Great Meeting in Hyde Park—Fourteen Political Platforms Erected.

LONDON, April 11.—The day appointed for the great demonstration in London against the Irish Coercion bill, now before the house of commons, opened brilliantly, the weather being balmy and the sun shining brightly. Vast crowds of people are marching towards Hyde Park where the meetings are to be held. From every district of London come bands, banners and carriages, filled with leaders in the day's exercises. The utmost enthusiasm prevails in the great throng. Many of the banners exhibited bear the portraits of Mr. Gladstone, Michael Davitt, and Father Keller, and the inscription "Justice for Ireland." Fourteen platforms, for the use of orators, have been erected in Hyde Park, and occupy the whole frontage facing the fashionable park lane. All those taking part in the procession from the east to the west end of London wore green rosettes, to imitate the Irish emblem, the shamrock. A large force of police is held in reserve for an emergency. Mrs. Gladstone watched the anti-Coercion procession from a window in Piccadilly, and was given an ovation by the men in line.

LONDON, April 11.—The gathering in Hyde Park this afternoon was the largest ever held in London. The people were enthusiastic but orderly. A motion, protesting against the Coercion bill, was offered simultaneously from the fourteen platforms and carried amid great enthusiasm. The socialists stole a march on the police and erected platforms from which several speakers delivered orations. They afterwards held a noisy meeting in Trafalgar square.

FIFTH METHODIST CHURCH.

Interesting Anniversary Services Held Yesterday—Excellent Singing.

Anniversary services were held in the Fifth Methodist church yesterday. They were largely attended by residents of Williamsville and members of the other Methodist churches. The choir presented some special music at each service, and it was well rendered. It has improved greatly since Mr. Smales assumed the leadership of it. The preacher at the morning and evening services was Rev. Mr. Williams, of Pembroke, and his sermons were greatly appreciated. The morning service was based on the words found in the CXXIX Psalm, 105 v., "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path." The speaker pointed out that if they followed strictly the teachings of the bible they would not diverge from the path of duty. There were rules laid down in this book which were lights, as it were, by which men should guide themselves in this life. It was necessary that they should have light, and God's word provided this necessity. Churches had been erected throughout the length and breadth of the land for the purpose of disseminating the light of God to a sinful world. The speaker hoped that all Christians would be careful to act upon the advice given to them in God's word. Rev. Mr. Sparling preached in the afternoon. To-night a public meeting will be held, to be addressed by Revs. Messrs. Sparling, Whiting and others.

MURDERER'S DEATH DOOM.

Gogolin to be Hanged on June 6th—The History of the Crime.

PEMBROKE, April 11.—Gogolin was sentenced to be hanged in Pembroke on the 6th June next. The murderer is a German settler. The crime was committed last October about 30 miles from Pembroke. Gogolin rented a small cabin to a new comer who was clearing a piece of bush land, and erecting a dwelling for himself and family. Gogolin quarrelled with his tenant and ordered them to leave the shanty. It appears they were unable to do so, and frequent bickerings were the outcome. Finally one morning Gogolin, after an acrimonious quarrel, ran to his own house, and arming himself with a stout stick went back to renew the quarrel. Gogolin struck the woman a murderous blow on the back of the head with his club, dashing her brains out. He then dragged the body into her cabin, threw her on the floor, and, after closing the door, set fire to the shanty. He made for the woods. As soon as the murderer had departed his wife released the screaming children from their burning prison and dragged the corpse beyond reach of the fire, which soon reduced the cabin to ashes. The murderer gave himself up a couple of days afterwards.

QUARREL ENDING FATALLY.

A Wife's Mad Act and What it Led to—The Dead and Dying.

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 11.—During a family quarrel on Saturday night Mrs. John Buschholz hurled a lighted lamp at her husband's head. The burning missile exploded, and both the husband and wife were enveloped in flames. Buschholz dragged his wife from the burning building, but she was so badly injured that she died. Buschholz is dying.

DR. WILSON'S RECOVERY.

REMARKABLE REVIEW OF EVENTS RECENTLY PUBLISHED.

The Former Curate of St. George's, his Experiences in Kingston and New York—His Physical Ailments Cured by Prayer and Faith—The Testimony in the Case.

In the Word, Work and World, a New York religious publication Dr. Henry Wilson, formerly of St. George's cathedral, Kingston, recites his cure of physical ailments through the exercise of faith and prayer: "Words are always feeble to express truth, and especially spiritual verities. None that I can command would ever express what I now desire to say, and nothing but a sense of duty would tempt me to put into print statements of facts which have to do with the most momentous crisis of my life. But, for the glory of God, and in the hope that this may meet the eye and possibly bring a ray of comfort to the heart of some of the great host of suffering children of God, among whom I was so long numbered; out of the fullness of a heart overflowing with thanksgiving for the great things that He has done for me, I venture to tell, in as few words as possible, how the Lord Jehovah became to me Jehovah Rophi, the Lord my Healer.

At the age of twenty-five I left college, very much broken down through overwork, and entered the ministry in a parish where for seventeen years and a half I laboured with a weak body, twice seriously injured by accidents almost fatal; for years a prey to dyspepsia of the worst kind; to liver disease and all attendant miseries; with nervous depression and fainting fits after the slightest unusual exertion. A burden to myself, a source of constant anxiety to my family and friends, a nuisance to the doctors, and a kind of walking apothecary shop. I dragged through my work with such sickly weariness and painfulness they only know who have suffered like things. After passing through the great spiritual crisis of my life, and into the glorious liberty of the sons of God, I came to New York in the fall of 1883, with a heaven of joy in my soul, but in great weakness of body, and physically unfit for much ministerial work. After a rest of a month or two, during which I followed the usual course of invalids, a dear friend invited me to attend one of Mr. Simpson's meetings in the Tabernacle on Twenty-third street.

Of divine healing at that time I knew nothing, except by hearsay and the evidence of one or two friends who had been wonderfully healed in answer to prayer.

But as the great spiritual blessing of my life had come to me a short time before by God's mercy in giving me the spirit of a little child and the willingness to be counted a fool for Christ's sake—so now I prayed Him to give me the same spirit, to take away from my mind all pride and prejudice, and that if this doctrine of divine healing were indeed His truth, and His truth for me, I might receive it and act upon it at once. The prayer was not long unanswerd. The light was soon shone, and the glorious truth that Christ Jesus came not simply to save my soul from sin by His death, but to save my soul and my body by His life—the outpoured blood to redeem me, and by the impoured blood to sanctify and invigorate my whole being—this blessed truth came to me with all the freshness of a new revelation, and Jesus, through it, came and stood in the midst of my being as the source of all its energies, bodily and spiritual. Having once thus seen Jesus as never before, and accepted Him as my life for soul and body, the rest was easy. Thankfully acknowledging His "unspeakable gift," I was anointed for healing, consecration, and fuller service. From that hour of blessing, never to be forgotten, peace has reigned in my soul, and health in my body. More than two years have passed, the richest and best of my life. The body instinct with the life of God, and the soul joyful in His salvation, have gone on from strength to strength, "one new man in Christ Jesus," both working for Him to-day with a vigour and freshness never before known. I am a younger man in every faculty of my being than I was twenty years ago. More than twice the work, parochial and other, ever attempted by me, is now done with an ease and pleasure never mine before. The body that for years hardly knew what one day's freedom from pain was, now rejoices in robust health. Throat and lungs used nearly every day and night in the week in public speaking on the street and in the church and mission hall, grow stronger instead of weaker through their continual exercise. The mind is clearer, thinks and studies with ease and comfort, while the soul seems to enlarge daily in its capacity for God and His Truth. In a word, the old, dry pump of my former being, trying with laboured effort to produce the little pall of water once or twice a week for my thirsty people, has been turned into a spring well, perpetually flowing and overflowing in a service of perfect freedom, which leaves me stronger at the close of each duty than at the beginning. Not, as I once thought, does God give me strength only for service, but strength in service, for every new or further call upon me.

I need hardly add that the body once filled with every new or old remedy for disease, has not touched or tasted medicine for nearly three years. A physician has never been consulted, and yet my oldest friends have expressed their astonishment to me at the marvellous change.

To God be all the glory for all the wonderful things He has done for me; and on His altar, for fuller service to the souls of men, I hereby consecrate this saved, healed, and fulfilled life, to be His and His only, my Lord and my God, my Saviour of soul and body!

"And so the years flow on, and only cast Light and more light upon the shining way; That more and more shines to the perfect day; Always intenser, clearer than the past, Because they only bear me on glad wing Nearer the Light of Life—the Presence the King!"

CAPTURE OF ROBBERS.

The Most Daring Gang That Has Ever Successfully Operated.

PITTSBURG, April 11.—At noon to-day the officers of the Panhandle railroad will have in custody the most daring gang of railroad robbers this country has ever known. Their stealings extended over a period of two or three years, and the amount stolen reaches nearly half a million dollars. The persons arrested will comprise nearly the entire freight men on the line. They include the conductors, brakemen, engineers and firemen. The ringleaders of the gang are outside the railroad business, and some of them are now believed to be under arrest. The first arrests were made about two o'clock this morning, the police surprising eighteen men at their boarding houses. Further arrests were made between two o'clock and daylight, when forty-six men, all railroad employees—conductors, brakemen, firemen and engineers—were behind the bars. A prominent officer of the Panhandle road said that for three years past the Panhandle road has been systematically robbed. Cars on sidings and cars in moving trains were broken open and the goods stolen, including every description of merchandise. It is estimated that at least $300,000 worth of goods were taken, for which the company has had to pay. In August last it got a clue and determined to push it to the end. Detectives were employed who followed up every scent and finally had the information upon which to proceed. When everything was ready the company decided to make a move all along the line from Columbus to Pittsburg, and 2 o'clock this morning was fixed to strike the blow. About eighty warrants were issued for the arrest of men in Pittsburg. "I can't tell," said an official, "how many other places, but it was at every point along the line. It will run up in the hundreds. We suspect outsiders of being implicated in the robberies, but know nothing positive. Among those arrested was a man named Baker, against whom there are thirty-eight charges, the killing of a fireman being one of the charges against him."

John H. Hampton, attorney for the Pennsylvania Co., said this morning: "In September there were eighty crews of freight trains on the Panhandle road coming into Pittsburg. Of these eighty crews no less than seventy-five were found to be crooked. The statement that the engineers and firemen were mixed up in the robberies is wrong. Not a single one is involved. In many instances the seals were broken, while in others hatchets were used to cut a hole in the end of the car, through which the men crawled and took what they coveted. All kinds of goods were stolen, including sewing machines, guns, revolvers, cutlery, silverware, cigars, clothing, liquors, groceries, furniture, etc. The scenes about the jail doors this morning were of the saddest description. Wives, children, parents, brothers and sisters, with tear-stained faces, stood around the entrance to the prison, eager to hear the latest developments and pleading with the officers for admission to the jail to see the prisoners. At 1 o'clock ten more arrests were reported. They were captured at the pay car while receiving their wages. This makes a total of fifty-six now in jail here, and it is supposed that as many more have been apprehended at other points along the line."

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.
