COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Opinions among the brokers at all uptown hotels last night were divided. They agreed that they could not make anything out of the market, and the question for the moment is whether the bull pool in Reading can, by putting up this specialty to 50, infuse fresh blood in the market, or whether their efforts will relapse, and thus pave the way for a general decline. Trade all over the country is an improvement even over last March, and there is nothing at present to indicate that the boom will not last. Mr. Sage has recently been inviting "puts" not very far from the market. He admits that he does not look for any extensive declines, and is inclined to expect an advance in the entire list when the railroad earnings improve and

NEW YORK, April 19. - The Daily Stockholder says it is confidently claimed that the great activity in the iron ore trade, in the Lake Superior region, and the operation of the Inter-state Commerce law will have such a favorable effect upon the lake carrying trade that a degree of prosperity, to that trade unknown, at least in recent years, is assured for the coming season. The new tonnage to be added this season will not fall short of 100,000 tons.

SCALPERS TO THE RESCUE.

St. Louis, April 19. - It is said the westtern railroads have determined to place tickets in the hands of the Ticket Brokers' association, otherwise known as the scalpers, and in a New days they will begin the war on the central traffic territory.

A MYSTERY IS EXPLAINED.

The Manager for Wilson Barrett Taken for John L. Sullivan-A Surprise.

During Mr. Wilson Barrett's engagement in Washington, his manager, Mr. John Cobbe, went into a barber's shop to get shaved. Mr. Cobbe is over six feet in height with a Herculean frame, and a singular, pleasant voice. As he was submitting his auroral visage to the scraper he became aware that he was the object of general in-terest. Having had his ambrosial locks curled and oiled, until he resembled an Assyrian bull in slickness, he passed into the office. As he stood at the hotel desk writing telegrams he again observed that he was the center of a small crowd, who regarded him with evident admiration. Several respectfully asked to be allowed to shake hands with him others invited him to accept liquid hospitality. Mr Wilson Barrett must be held in special regard in Washington.

Passing, into Pennsylvania Avenue he noticed the same interest manifested in him

Wherever he went, he was followed by an admiring throng. To this day he attributes the interest displayed in him to the circumstance that he was the manager of Wilson Barrett. The fact is, however, while he was in the barber shop his assistant, Mr. Sammis, also came in and unobserved, by Mr. Cobbe, occupied a chair at the other end of the room. The Ethiopian who was attending Mr. Sammis had just been favored with, pantomimic gesture from Mr. Cobbe's Figaro, and whispered in Mr. Sammis' ear: "Say, boss, isn't that John L. Sullivan over there in the chair?" Mr. Sammis screwed his head round to look, took in the situation at a glance, and said : "Yes, of course it is." "Weil boss," went on the barber, "I've seen that gemman about with you all de time and I tort he was one of your company." Sammis replied : "No, he don't exactly belong to Mr. Barrett's company, but the fact is that we play a piece in which there's a duel, Hamlet, you know. Barrett doesn't play this piece the same as everybody else. He isn't so darned dismal, and in the last act, instead of fighting in the old way he has a regular set-to with soft gloves. You see our regular Laertes, who fights with Hamlet, is sick, and as Mr. Sullivan is a friend of mine he has consented to play the part. Now, don't give it away." The simple-minded Mr. Cobbe by the way, is one of the most modest fellows in the world, and never dreamt of the possibility of being mistaken for the mighty "slugger." It will be parti-cularly agreeable to him to know that he has been mistaken for the greatest artist and paying "star" in America.

KNIGHTS OF LABOUR. The Pope Gives His Decision Regarding

Them-He is in Favour of the Order. New York, April 18.—The Catholic News to-day received the following despatch from Rome concerning the pope and the knights of labor: "The pope has decided the question of the knights of labor in favor of that organization. This decision will stand so long on the present method pursued in furthering their aims prevails. The document of Cardinal Gibbons has been endorsed. The pope further decides that in Canada, where a mandament had been issued against the knights, the members of the order will receive absolution on promise of future obedience to the future decision of the holy see. If the knights identify themselves with the theories now being disseminated by certain agitators this decision in their favour will be revoked." be revoked."

Opera House-Lindley Again.

The "Gipsy Queen" drew fairly last night. For to-night's bill we have announced one of the greatest London successes, "The Lancashire Lass," a play in which Henry Irving made his first success, which is probably one of the strongest as regards melodra-matic interest on the stage. Miss Booth plays the heroine. There are special scenic effects. The management donates a cow, calf, and sewing machine during the week, and the animal took her constitutional today.
