HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THE DEBATE ON THE IRISH RESOLUTIONS IS CONTINUED.

Mr. McCarthy Proposes a Second Amendment—Adjournment Till Monday—The Question of the Deputy Speakership—It Will be Settled at a Caucus Next Week.

OTTAWA, April 22.—Ireland held the floor in the commons to-day, but the interest in the debate was not marked until late in the evening.

Mr. Laurier entered a forcible plea for the Irish, basing his appeal on the principle of liberty, and supporting it with a parallel drawn from the history of Quebec, and the attempts of the advanced men in that province before the union to secure responsible government.

Mr. Blake's speech, which followed a strong deliverance from Mr. Landerkin, was moderate in tone and close in its reasoning. He took occasion to endeavour to force from the government an expression of opinion upon the question, saying that any minister desiring to do so might indicate the ministerial views. He offered to surrender the floor while the declaration was being made. The offer was not accepted. The government has not a unanimous opinion on the Irish question.

Mr. Blake made a few suggestions which apparently commended themselves to both sides of the question, and in which Mr. Curran manifested some slight disposition to concur. One was that the house should not be asked to commit itself to any particular form of home rule, as for instance the species which obtains in Canada. The second was that instead of being invited to condemn the Coercion bill, and to protest violently against it, the house should simply be asked to express the hope and desire that the bill would not become law. Should Mr. Curran modify his resolution in the direction suggested Mr. Blake will be satisfied, but should no modification be made he will vote for them as they stand.

Messrs. Costigan and McMullen followed after recess with their condemnation of the "deadly Coercion bill."

Mr. McCarthy has a second amendment to propose. Mr. McCarthy devoted himself to proving that many of the laws of the parliament now invited to condemn that measure. Apart, however, from the question of the merits of the bill Mr. McCarthy takes the view that the resolutions cannot do any good, except to the members who support them, because they have a powerful Irish vote in their constituencies. The strong point, however, was the propriety of interference by the Canadian parliament with British legislation. This point is enforced in Mr. McCarthy's amendment, which also states that the Coercion bill is a matter of local concern, and that the dominion parliament is not prepared to express an opinion upon it.

A decision to adjourn until Monday was reached just when Mr. Davin was indicating his position on the question. It is reported that Mr. Davin has an amendment to offer.

Notes and Comments.

The government proposes to build a printing bureau this year.

Mr. Wood, of Brockville, has been elected chairman of the committee on standing orders.

The minister of interior brought down a bill for the establishment of a national park at Bauff Hot Springs.

It is said that Mr. Tasse will shortly be found a seat in the Quebec legislature, with a view of strengthening the opposition.

The government intends to build the printing bureau in Ottawa. The proposed building will cost between sixty and seventy thousand dollars.

Mr. Doyon, who defeated Mr. Tasse in Laprairie, has, it is said, declared himself a conservative and given in his adhesion to the government.

The estimates for the next year will be laid before parliament on Monday or Tuesday. They will show a reduction as compared with last year's figures.

The marine department will ask for tenders for general supplies to be used by the Canadian lighthouse service. The contracts will aggregate in value a couple of hundred thousand dollars.

Two North-West measures were introduced by the government. The first provided for the representation of the North-West Territories in the senate. The number of senators proposed is two.

The dominion government has requested an explanation from the user of the black rod as to why he omitted the name of the American consul from the list of those invited to the floor of the senate on the opening of parliament.

The government has not made its choice of a deputy speaker, though Mr. Ferguson, of Wetland, is spoken of in that connection. The candidate will be nominated at the conservative caucus on Tuesday. Mr. Fisher has given notice of motion to abolish the office. The position is worth $2,000 a year.

THE MORRISBURG ACCIDENT.

Cause of the Accident Not Yet Determined—An Inquest Being Held.

MORRISBURG, April 22.—The cause of the accident at Morrisburg is not yet known, as the bridge was in good condition. Passenger traffic has been delayed, and freight traffic suspended until Saturday, when it is expected, the wreck will be clear. Driver Stewart, a married man, lives in Brockville. Clarke, the fireman, is a single man, and belongs to Gananoque. An inquest is being held on the bodies of the engineers. Superintendent Stephenson, of Montreal, proceeded at once to the scene of the accident, and relief trains were sent from Brockville, and every effort made to get the line cleared.

EGGING ON A FIGHT.

France Suspects Germany of Hostile Motions—Row Over an Arrest.

PARIS, April 23.—Germany has not yet definitely ascertained the ground of M. Schnaebels arrest, except that it was effected by virtue of a judicial decree. There is tremendous latent excitement over the affair. The general opinion is that Bismarck wants to create a situation which will render war inevitable.

NANCY, April 23.—The injury in the matter of the arrest of Schnaebels has not yet shown whether he was arrested on French or German territory.

LONDON, April 23.—The French government has ascertained that Schnaebels was arrested on German soil. The reports of the German police are to the same effect.

BERLIN, April 23.—Numerous extra detectives have been sent to Metz and Strasbourg.

LONDON, April 23.—The Schnaebels affair is exciting the whole of Europe and causing much anxiety as to the consequences. The reports of the incident are contradictory. A full enquiry will be made into Schnaebels' character and doings. He has held the appointment since the Franco-German war and a majority state that he has been a model official and never failed to use tact and judgment in any emergency.

PARIS, April 23.—Prince Bismarck admits that if the arrest of commissary Schnaebels was made on French territory the international law will require his release.

BERLIN, April 23.—Schnaebels frequently made secret visits to Metz for the purpose of stirring up a revolt against the Germans.

PARIS, April 23.—The Nancy procurer's official report of the Schnaebels' outrage states that Schnaebels advanced a few steps across the frontier, and met an individual with whom he began to converse when a policeman in disguise seized him. An assistant of the policeman then rushed out of ambush and a desperate struggle ensued. Schnaebels succeeded in escaping from his captors and crossed to French territory. But his assailants pursued him and dragged him back despite his protests. They then bound him and forcibly led him to prison. It is reported that Prince Bismarck, in the course of a speech yesterday, said that it was impossible to foresee whether the bellicose French people, who used to make an onslaught on Germany three or four times every century, would keep or break the Frankfurt treaty.

EVENTS IN BRITAIN.

Debate in the House of Lords—One Member Gets Very Mad.

LONDON, April 23.—The Daily News says Hugh Holmes, attorney general of Ireland, will soon be elevated to the Irish bench, and that Solicitor General Gibson will then be appointed attorney general and Mr. Madden, Q.C., solicitor general.

Mr. Salford, chief secretary for Ireland, in a speech at Ipswich last night said he was surprised at Gladstone's statement that he had never accused the parnellites of participation in crime. He denied that the government had any political motive for introducing the Crimes' bill in parliament. He would not state his views on the subject of the Times-Parnell letter, but would ask his hearers to remember the antecedents of the parnellites, and reflect upon the status of the journal which published this letter and the tremendous punishment to which it would be liable if the letter were proved to be forgery and then from their own judgment.

In the house of lords last night the second reading of the bill was agreed without division. Lord Denman rose to speak as the question was being put and was not noticed. When the house was adjourning Lord Denman excitedly said: "This is another case of cloture. I have been treated in a most ungentlemanly manner. If any gentleman doubts that I am ready to give him satisfaction."

LONDON, April 22.—In the Parnell matter the Times displays the utmost impatience to bring the matter into the law courts. It has nine separate documents, signed by Mr. Parnell, which it intends to publish during the Crimes' bill debate, and until it succeeds in driving the affair to a direct issue. The passage of the Crimes' bill is regarded as certain.

DUBLIN, April 23.—The Marquis of Lansdowne has offered fresh terms to all the tenants of his estates, the proffer being extended to those leasing under the judicial as well as under the non-judicial rates. The offer has been extended also to those tenants who have been evicted this spring. The tenants have the offer in under consideration.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE.

The Usual Wreck Follows—People Killed and Property Destroyed.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 23.—A special from Clarksville, Ark., says a terrible cyclone passed over that county from west to east, from two to three miles wide, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, passing north of Clarksville, and doing fearful damage. The following persons were killed: Mrs. P. M. Turner, a child of J. M. Turner, a child of J. M. Reed, a grown daughter of G. D. Rowsey, a child of Mr. Ritter, and two children of J. D. Millett.

FORT SCOTT, Kansas, April 23.—A special from Prescott, in this county, reports that a terrible cyclone passed over that section on Thursday evening. There were seventeen killed, and an incalculable amount of damage done. Prescott was literally wiped out of existence. Reports are coming in from all over the county of damage by the cyclone. Hail fell all over the county, some stones measuring thirteen inches in circumference. The following were killed: Constable Jake Stephens, Will McHale, Mrs. Sarah Crone, P. Flynn and three children, Jacob Breach and wife, Mrs. Richard Harkness, Mrs. Douglas with an infant, an infant of S. P. Denning, one of Joe Dunoon, and a six-year-old child of Will McHale. On the farm of Richard Harkness he, with his wife and four children and Miss Minnick, of Oakland, Ill., who was visiting the family, were in the house. The building was taken up bodily and carried 200 yards. All the occupants were hurt very seriously, and Mrs. Harkness was killed. Several persons were killed in Blue Mound and Mapleton.

A cyclone did heavy damage to buildings at Blossom Prairie, Texas. No lives were lost.

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—Special despatches show that furious cyclones, tornadoes and hail storms swept over a considerable part of western and south western Missouri, south eastern Kansas and northern Arkansas, on Thursday evening, causing great loss of life and destruction of property, killing and maiming a large number of people.

SAILING OVER THE SEA.

THE ANNUAL FLOOD IN MONTREAL, AND ITS EFFECTS.

The Damage Greater Than Anyone Can Estimate—The Rise of Water, Although Long Expected, Came as a Thief in the Night—The Territory Covered by the Water.

MONTREAL, April 23.—The anticipated flood has come at last. During Wednesday night the river overflowed its banks and in a short time was two feet over the revetment wall. It has risen since and flooded the greater portion of Griffintown, the lower part of McGill street, as well as St. Paul and Commissioner streets. Most of the merchants had removed their goods to top stories from their cellars a few days ago, but some, in the firm belief that there would be no flood, did not take this precaution, and will suffer heavily. It is difficult to form an idea of the total damage that will be caused, but it will be enormous.

The water rose in one night to thirty-seven feet, then went down to thirty-three feet, and rose again to forty feet. At the Montreal warehousing company's building on Wellington street Mr. St. George said he had been informed that the water was within eighteen inches of last year's mark, and rising rapidly.

The flood was felt most at what was known as Goose village, beyond the Grand Trunk Co's offices in St. Etienne street. The water, had struck the lower part of St. Etienne street, and Conway, Forfar, Etna, Britannia, Minnie and Mill streets near the bridge were more or less inundated. The greater number of the people in this locality are employes of the Grand Trunk, and mostly all well-to-do. So that beyond the inconvenience caused by the water there was no actual suffering.

The district bounded by St. Francis Xavier, McGill, Commissioners and Lemoine streets might well be named the lake district, so well watered is it, every cellar being full. At the corner of St. Paul and St. Francois Xavier streets there were fully three feet of water, and at the corner of St. Peter and St. Paul streets fully four feet. Going down St. Peter street towards the river much floating ice is met and the bubbling waters showed that the ice underneath was fast melting. Timber, boards, rafts, and wandering portions of sidewalk were met with, each on an independent excursion. With but one or two exceptions all the stores on both sides of this street were closed and still as the grave.

Joe Reef's hostelry was not open for guests, the water reaching within two feet of the top of the entrance doors, which must have made it uncomfortable for the menagerie. A tour around the fish market and St. Ann's market was made and the water was about five feet deep and was making and havoc with the hucksters-shops. At the Custom house there was not the slightest sign of humanity, and probably the only entry passed is of water, duty free.

From the Back river comes the intelligence that the water is four feet higher than it has ever been known before. Barn
