THE RICHEST WOMEN.
A LOOK AT SOME OF THE MONEY QUEENS OF AMERICA.

Gossip About the Millionaires and the Wealth They Possess—Rich Widows and Wealthy Maidens—How Some Women Manage their Fortunes.

[Special Correspondence.]
 WASHINGTON, April 20.
 The death of the rich Catherine Wolfe calls attention to the rich women of the United States. This is an age not only of millionaires, but of millionairesses as well. The wealthy women of the United States are now numbered by hundreds, and every city has its girls who are worth their weight in gold. The richest woman of them all is, perhaps, Mrs. Hetty Green, of New York, who is worth $30,000,000, and has been estimated as high as $40,000,000. She is a sharp business woman, and has made the $13,000,000 which she received from her father breed rapidly. She added $1,000,000 to her fortune by marriage, and she cuts her expenses more closely than many a woman who is worth a thousand times less. Mrs. Mark Hopkins, who is building a $2,000,000 palace at Great Barrington, Mass., is, however, nearly as rich. She is worth somewhere between $20,000,000 and $10,000,000, but her money comes from her husband, Mark Hopkins, who made a fortune out of the Central Pacific railroad. Hopkins' estate when he died was inventoried at $21,700,000, and it was worth fully one-third more. Nearly the whole of this was left to Mrs. Hopkins, and she spends her large income generously. Mrs. Terry got one-third of her husband's fortune of about $50,000,000, and in case her baby dies she will get the rest. This baby is a girl not yet 2 years old. She is worth at least $50,000,000, and is said to be the wealthiest baby in the world.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor, of New York, is said to be worth $8,000,000, and all her relatives have gold galore. Mrs. Thomas A. Scott, the widow of the railroad president, is worth $5,000,000, and Mrs. Joseph Harrison, the widow of the man who built the first railroad in Russia, $4,000,000. Mrs. Jayne, the widow of the patent medicine man, is worth $3,000,000. Mrs. Josephine M. Ayer, who gets her money also from patent medicine, is estimated to be worth from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000, and Mrs. Edwin Stevens, of New York, has $15,000,000.

New York has a number of other rich widows. Mrs. Martin Bates was left $1,500,000, which her husband made in dry goods, and Mrs. Jane Brown received from her husband's estate about $4,000,000, which was accumulated in banking. Mrs. W. E. Dodge, estimated at $4,000,000, sends much of her income to the heathen, and Mrs. Robert Goellet, worth $3,000,000, owes her fortune to hardware. Mrs. John C. Green is said to be worth $10,000,000, and Mrs. Commodore Vanderbilt has increased the $1,000,000 which she received from her husband's estate until it is near $2,000,000. Clarkson Potter's widow has an immense income. Mrs. John Minturn is worth $2,000,000. Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, the eight millionaire widow of a mining king, is said to have cried when it was charged that she was about to marry President Arthur.

Philadelphia widows are numerous, and there are rich women of all kinds in the City of Brotherly Love. I have spoken of Mrs. Tom Scott's wealth. Mrs. Disston, the widow of the saw manufacturer who died not long ago, is worth $1,000,000 and she lives in a marble palace. Mrs. John Ray Barton is worth $7,000,000; Mrs. M. W. Baldwin, the widow of the locomotive builder, is estimated as worth $2,000,000, and Mrs. Charles Bromley, the widow of a carpet manufacturer, is worth about $1,000,000.

There is a widow in Chicago, Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, who is said to be worth $10,000,000, and as to Washington's wealthy widows, there are many. Mrs. Admiral Dahlgren has several fine houses in the fashionable part of Washington, and Mrs. John O. Evans, the widow of the late president of the Mutual Union Telegraph company, owns much Washington real estate. Mrs. Craig Wadsworth, of New York, has a fine residence on Massachusetts avenue and is said to be worth $1,000,000. Mrs. Patten, the mother-in-law of Congressman Glover, lives in a house worth $75,000 and keeps, it is said, $1,000,000 in government bonds in the Washington banks.

As to rich young women there are numerous good catches in the United States. Miss Elizabeth Garrett, the sister of the president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is said to be worth between $15,000,000 and $30,000,000, and she is both bright and business like. The three daughters of Francis A. Drexel, of Philadelphia, are worth $4,000,000, and there is a millionaire girl in Tennessee named Maud St. Pierre, who lately bought 34,000 acres of coal lands and who has enough business ability to manage her own fortune and a husband as well. One of the richest young ladies in Washington is Miss Jennie Riggs, whose father, George W. Riggs, was a partner of W. W. Corcoran, and there is a Miss Bernice Morrison in St. Louis who several years ago was down on the tax lists as being worth $964,990. Miss Clothilde Palmes, the Detroit beauty, whom Senator Jones in vain tried to woo, is said to be worth $2,500,000, and she is as beautiful as she is rich, and there is now hardly a city in the United States which has not an heiress or two whose fortune runs high into the hundreds of thousands. Miss Benson, of Philadelphia, inherited $1,500,000 from her father, who was a well known Philadelphia banker, and Miss Helen Erben, another Philadelphia girl, the daughter of a wealthy wool factor, is also worth a million.

Mrs. Hopkins is noted for her charity. There is a church at Great Barrington, which cost her, all told, about $150,000, and the largest part of the preacher's salary I imagine comes from her. She is not alone among her sisters in almsgiving. Mrs. N. K. Fairbanks, one of the rich women of Chicago, gives away $10,000 a year in charity, and Mrs. Marshall Field, the wife of the rich dry goods man, is said to keep an almshouse whose business it is to make the rounds of the city searching for the worthy poor. She is fond of educating poor children, and pays $5,000 a year out of her individual allowance for this alone. The three Drexel sisters, of whom I have spoken, are also systematic in their charity. They keep a female executive to preside over the benefactions, and have, it is said, two men constantly employed in looking up the needy and in caring for their wants. They are, perhaps, the most charitable young women in the United States, and it is said their list of pensioners contains no less than 350 names, and that their gifts amount to a round $100,000 yearly. They inherit their charitable tastes. Their father was noted for his almsgiving and their mother paid the rent for 100 families for several years before she died, and gave away, it is said, $40,000 a year to the poor. Mrs. Philip Armour is very charitable. Mrs. Leland Stanford does much unostentatious giving, and I am told that Hetty Green gives away considerable, though she is very careful that it goes to the right person.

Mrs. Hopkins is thoroughly acquainted with all the ways of business. She has a broad grasp of financial questions, looks after her vast interests closely and drives a bargain with both tact and economy. Miss Elizabeth Garrett was the confidential secretary of her father for some years before he died, and she understands the value of Baltimore and Ohio railroad stock as well as any man in the country. The richest widow in Colorado was the wife of the late John W. Iliff, who was known some years ago as the cattle king of Colorado. Iliff left about 100,000 head of cattle, and it is said that his widow manages his estate as well as any business man could. She went to Colorado as a sewing machine agent, though she came of a wealthy family and could have remained at home doing nothing. She there met Iliff and married him, and I doubt not the experience she obtained in connection with the sewing machine aids her in the management of her fortune. Speaking of cattle, there is a cattle queen in Texas, near Corpus Christi, Mrs. Rogers, who is said to be worth $1,000,000, and who has many times as much stock as Job did in his most prosperous days. Her husband is a preacher, but Mrs. Rogers manages the business. She sells the stock herself, buys all the supplies and can ride a horse as well as any of the many cowboys whom she has in her employ. Another cattle queen is the widow of Gen. Meredith, of Illinois, and she breeds a different kind of cattle from Mrs. Rogers. Her stock is of a better grade. Meredith was worth about $500,000 along in the seventies, but he failed. His wife took what was left of the herd, managed it, and made money. She was content with a good round price for her stock, and she did not believe in owning $10,000 bulls and $5,000 calves. One of the wealthiest women of Ohio is Mrs. George Ward Nichols, who is said to have an income of $300,000. She is the daughter of Joseph Longworth, and she is the founder and proprietor of the Rockwood pottery, which is now noted for its exquisite workmanship both in Europe and America. Mrs. Nichols took up the pottery craze when it came over the country a few years ago. She developed the art tastes of Cincinnati and established this factory. She works in it about five hours daily, and is constantly at work improving her ware. Her works sell well in New York, and they have an international reputation. Mrs. Frank Leslie has made $1,000,000 in four years, and there is no brighter business woman in the world than she.

The richest woman in South America is a good business woman. She is Dona Isadora Cousino, of Santiago, Chili. She got a big fortune from her father and married another. Her husband died, and she has now millions of acres of land, millions of money, hundreds of thousands of cattle, coal, copper and silver mines, a railroad and a fleet of iron steamships. She has an income of several millions a year, and her coal mines bring her in $80,000 a month. She owns a town of 7,000 people, and pays out $100,000 a month in wages. She has superintendents for all her establishments, and she receives weekly reports from them. She is sharp at driving a bargain, and, while she is very generous, she requires a strict account of every dollar made and spent upon her estates. She is still under 50 and declares she will never marry again. She understands fortune hunters and fortune hunting, and is satisfied to remain as she is.

GLEANINGS.

Mrs. Lonze and her son, counterfeiters of $1 bills, have been captured in Montreal.

Numbers of Catholic clergymen and knights of labor were interviewed on Dr. Steffens' Roman despatch declaring that the order was not condemned by the pope. The priests believed that the last sentence referring to objectionable theories being disseminated by agitators had reference to anarchists and socialists. Archbishop Corrigan was said not to favor the condemnation of the knights.

Sleepless nights made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. W. J. Wilson, agent.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil.
