BRITISH PARLIAMENT.MR. GLADSTONE ON GOSCHEN'S FINANCIAL SCHEMES.

And Lord Randolph Churchill Endorses His Weighty Remarks—Serious Change in the Sinking Fund—How Parnell's Letter is Treated by Tories on the Stump.

LONDON, April 25.—It has been decided to petition against the election of Mr. Allsop, conservative, Taunton, on the ground of bribery and corruption.

Sir John Gorst, of the Indian office, stated that the Ameer of Afghanistan reports that the Ghilzai rebellion is not spreading, and his troops were meeting with success in their encounters with the rebels.

Mr. Sexton asked Mr. Broderick, conservative, whether, in a recent speech, he had spoken of the "Times forgery" as Mr. Parnell's letter? Mr. Broderick, answered: "Yes. In addressing any meeting on the subject, I will call the letter Mr. Parnell's in the absence of any action in a court of law to disprove the statement." [Conservative cheers.] Mr. Sexton asked whether, in view of the fact that Mr. Parnell had discredited the document as a villainous and barefaced forgery, Mr. Broderick was not committing a breach of privilege in so describing the letter. Speaker Peel replied that the remarks of Mr. Broderick did not refer to anything done by Mr. Parnell in the house, and therefore the matter did not come within the definition of a breach of privilege.

Considering the Budget.

The house went into committee on the budget. Mr. Gladstone, regarding the income tax, said the reduction of a penny per pound would be a peculiar boon. At the same time the proposal was against sound financial principles. The house had been asked to reduce the sinking fund from £7,000,000 to £5,000,000. Serious reflection could not warrant a proceeding so opposed to interests of the British nation. He believed the country was adding about £100,000,000 yearly to its savings, yet they were asked to shrink from the very moderate effort that had hitherto been made to provide a sinking fund in pursuance of a wise, broad policy, supported by all financial authority.

Mr. Goschen said he would reply later. Lord Randolph Churchill praised the "weighty remarks" of Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Goschen, referring to Mr. Gladstone's remarks, said that in taking a penny off the income tax the government would benefit a class upon whom there was much pecuniary pressure.

Mr. Cremor, radical, asked Mr. Goschen if he knew that the reduction of the duty on tobacco would throw out of employment several thousand men engaged in the tobacco trade in London. Mr. Goschen replied that he had arranged to confer with delegates from the workmen themselves. Sir John Lubbock and Hugh Childers criticized the budget on the grounds taken by Mr. Gladstone.

After discussion the budget resolutions were agreed to.

Mr. Gladstone's attack upon Mr. Goschen's financial plans will cause the government to modify its local loan proposals and, probably, its proposals relative to the tobacco duty.

The Coercion Bill.

The government calculates that a division on the motion, to go into committee on the Coercion bill, will be taken on Friday, and result in the former majority.

It is reported that the law officers of the crown have advised the government that there is no reason why the private depositions of crown witnesses in the Phoenix park murder trials and other famous Irish crimes should not be laid upon the table in the house of commons. The liberal leaders will oppose the production of the evidence on the ground that it is one-sided and has never been tested in open court.

On the passage of the Coercion bill Hugh Holmes, attorney-general for Ireland, will be raised to the judicial bench.

O'Brien and Lansdowne.

DUBLIN, April 25.—Mr. O'Brien has postponed his departure for a week, pending negotiations on the basis of the new offer between Lord Lansdowne's agent and the tenants. Three evictions took place on Saturday on the Laggan estate. The evic tions met with no resistance. These evictions complete the list of forty tenants against whom writs were procured, representing in all 300 souls. The police and soldiers have been withdrawn.

A Mass Meeting.

LONDON, April 25.—Arrangements are being made to hold a mass meeting in Victoria park on May 21st, to protest against the Coercion bill. The meeting promises to be the largest ever held in the park. Thirteen Irish constables, who have resigned, will sail for America on Wednesday.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

Two Great Cities Passing Resolutions Anent Britain's Fiscal Policy.

GLASGOW, April 26.—The Glasgow chamber of commerce, by a vote of 88 to 59, has adopted a resolution declaring that the systems of trade bounties and protection, adopted by other countries, has so injured English trade that there is justification for asking that Great Britain revise her fiscal relations.

MANCHESTER, April 26.—The chamber of commerce of this city, by a vote of 64 to 33, has adopted a resolution, affirming unshaken confidence in free trade as the best national policy.

Generally Acknowledged.

It is very generally acknowledged that at this season of the year the system should be toned and prepared for the strain imposed upon it by the extremely high temperature of our Canadian summers. Experience appears to have demonstrated that the practice is a wise one, so that the important essential is to employ the proper remedy. For impaired appetite, loss of tone, weakness and general debility use wine, beef and iron with quinine. In this elegant preparation are combined the nutritive properties of beef and the tonic properties of iron and quinine. Wine, beef and iron is sold only by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston; 50c and $1 per bottle.

A Dramatic Treat.
