FOR IMPORTERS!

I have just published a book styled "BERLIN ARTICLES,"

Which is undoubtedly of great value to all for-cign importing firms, as it is a Book of Refer-ence for all Berlin Export Articles. Allbran-ches of trade are given in it, and the leading establishments in each are mentioned. The object of my book is to make importers of all countries in the world acquainted both with the articles manufactured for exportation in Berlin and with the chief makers of them.

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

WITH SUMMER GOWNS. A Pretty Pinafore for Young Children.

A New Blouse Dress for Little Boys. A Costume with Jacket Bodice for Girls. In one figure represented in the cut is shown a dress with long blouse for little boys. The short trousers closing at the sides are buttoned on a cotton underwaist. The skirt part of the blouse is 714 inches long; it is laid in box plaits and set on under a narrow waistband. The front parts of the blouse open over a plastron gathered 2% inches wide above and % inch at the waist. Over the reverse bordering the latter is set a sailor collar of brown velvet, which is 5 inches deep in the middle behind. The dress is made of brown cloth; the plastron is drawn in at the waist with brown cord and pompons.

The remaining costume, with jacket bodice, for little girls, is of fawn and white plaid and bronze colored satin, with bows to match. The half fitting bodice is 161/2 inches long and opened in front to show a full satin plastron. The backs are slit up in two somewhat sloping tabs, which are couched on the box plaited basque 4 inches deep and 15% inches wide. The box plaited skirt 83 inches long, sewed on 4% inches above the lower edge of the bodice lining, is finished at the back with a small drapery 131/2 inches long and 16 inches wide, set on separately and caught up with a bow. The pocket tabs are trimmed with a plaited satin frill.

White Enamel Jewelry.

White enamel jewelry, in flower and other patterns, promises to be the "correct style" in jewelry to wear with summer dresses. This jewelry appears in both gold and silver, the effect being the same, as the entire surface is covered by the white enamel. It comes in brooches and fancy pins, also in cuff buttons. Much of it is all white, though in some of the flower pins appear tiny antlers or a diamond center. Occasionally one sees a white enamel flower with a thread of gold around the edge of the leaves, but, generally speaking, the most attractive pins are the all white ones. The daisy is a favorite; so is the double white violet. Very pretty bar pins are formed of three white daisies. Little cravat bows of white, with tiny dots or strips of color, swell the list of white enamel jewelry.

The Colored Underwear Fashion. One of the most extraordinary freaks of fashion abroad, and indulged in to some extent here, is that for colored undergarments. The undermost garments of surah, the corset of satin, the inner petticoat of finely embroidered flannel, the outer one of taffetas, must all be in the pale blue or pink or scarlet. Fine cambric dotted or striped in fine lines in a vivid scarlet, and finished in scallops in buttonhole embroidery in scarlet thread, is used as a substitute for surah for the undergarments. In fact, nothing white remains but the night dress, and that is now supplemented by a matinee in cashmere or surah, elaborately trimmed with lace and ribbon, which the fair wearer is supposed to slip on before taking her early cup of coffee or tea.

The Round Waist.

The round waist with a belt and full loops and ends of heavy satin ribbon, when a silver belt is not worn, bids fair to be the favorite corsage for demi-dress toilets of thin material.

Pinafore for Children. The pretty pinafore for children of 2 to 4 years of age, illustrated in the cut, is made of

CAMBRIC PINAFORE.

It is ornamented with tucks, is eighteen inches long and one yard six inches wide. The armhole is formed by making a slit five inches long, about nine and a half inches from the back edges, and setting on above an epaulette one and a quarter inches deep, trimmed with lace and tucks. The above models with accompanying descriptions are from The Season.

The English style of wearing a single rose with foliage, as a corset bouquet, has been introduced and meets with favor.

Cashmere draped over tilk is a favorite combination in dresses just now.

The newest embroidered flouncings or skirtings of thin materials have the lower edge straight, or in tiny scallops, instead of the pronounced outlines of previous seasons. The patterns are principally floral, the same design repeated in diminishing sizes toward

Many ribbons are used on dressy costumer made of cotton fabrics, taffets, faille, and gros grain seeming to be preferred to satin or velvet for the purpose, though all kinds are employed. If the collar, revers and cuffs ere of velvet, velvet ril-bon is preferably used for the bows.

THE LABOUR MARKET.

Strikes and the Result of Them-The Men are Gaining the day. WHITE ENAMEL JEWELRY TO WEAR

The New York calf butchers who struck have been successful. The wages for bricklayers' laborers in New York are $2.59 a day, for plasterers' laborers $2.75.

The American sugar refinery of San Fran-cisco has reduced the wages of all employers 10 per cent.

The pattern-makers and laborers who struck at Hoe's press works New York for the nine-hour system are still out.

Forty weavers, employed by the National Suspender company, New York, are on strike against a 10 to 20 per cent reduction.

About three hundred and fifty employees of the Fearey Shoe factory, in Albany, N.Y., have been locked out. No reason is given.

At the Novelty works at Jacobus Station, near Pittsburg, 100 brass and iron moulders are on strike; they decline to work with "scabs."

The New York assembly has passed a bill making it a misdemeaner for any employers to exact an oath from employees not to join any labor organization.

W. H. Stephenson, the late labor candidate for mayor of Cincinnati, says the expenses of the campaign were $602.60; the workingmen's candidates were not assessed. As a result of a conference with the Knights of Labor and the clothing manufacturers association, Philadelphia, Saturday, the lockout of the union has been declared

The employes of the North Chicago rolling mills, at Chicago, have petitioned for relief from Sunday work. The proposition will probably be agreed to by the men.

The Peekskill stove manufacturers, when they paid their striking moulders Saturday. notified them that they could not again work in the shops until they gave up their union.

The leather japanners of Newark, N. J., have demanded an advance of wages; if not granted a general strike will occur, throwing 4,000 hands out of of employment.

In Rochester, N. Y., 460 union carpenters on strike for $2,50 for nine hours work a day. The employers refuse the demand. The bricklayers, plasterers and stonecutters have gained the shorter day. A convention is to be held in August in Buffalo, by the street railroad employes of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, and other cities, to form a National district assembly of horse-car and railroad men.

The carpenters and joiners of Detroit to the number of 2,000 met unanimously pledged the general public of Detroit not to order a general strike during the period of one year unless the Master Builders association provoked one.

The president of the seamen's union, Chicago, denies that a strike is contemplated by the union men to enforce their demands. He intimates that a boycott may be placed on shippers who send their freight on vessels worked by non-union men.

In London 20,000 men earn their living at carpenter work, 4,000 in Paris, and 4,000 in Berlin. Hours in London are 584 per week and 18 cents per hour. In other cities in England carpenters work 58½ hours and at 12 cents an hour. Employment precarious. In Paris the eight-hour day prevails, and wages $1,70. In Berlin building is going on rapidly, with wages from $2 to $4 per day.

Try and be Cured. Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not mere than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. One of the few preparations that seldom disappoint on trial, is that old standard throat and lung medicine, Hagyard's Pec-toral Balsam, for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, sore throat and other diseases of the air passages.

Froze His Feet.

While out skating last winter, G. Varcoe, Man., got his feet badly frozen. He rubbed them with snow, and then applied Hagyard's Yellow Oil, which speedily cured them, and saved him from being a cripple.
