According to The Philadelphia Times, the excellent manual training schools of Philadelphia are mainly filled with the sons of wealthy men. In sending their sons to these schools, the wealthy men show their good sense; but it will be a pity if the sons of poor men are thereby deprived of the opportunity of attending them.

A man who died in England lately left legacies to the extent of £55,000, and stipulated for a brass band at his funeral and a banquet to the mourners. By the time the last bones of the banquet had been picked clean, it was ascertained that his whole possessions consisted of a thirty shilling horso and £3 worth of coarse hay.

Readers of some of the London papers frequently find a ghastly red human skeleton pasted on a conspicuous part of their paper. This is not the work of the publishers, but of an enterprising quack dector who takes this way of advertising his nostrums.

Lamar Fontaine, who claims the authorship of "All quiet along the Potomac, tonight," is a witness in the trial of Hamilton for the murder of Gambrell at Jackson, Miss. He appears as an expert in pistol practice, and it is claimed that he is able to fire a number of shots into the bunghole of a barrel rolling down hill.

Mr. Eadweard Muybridge has just completed the plates of his work on "Animal Locomotion," with reproductions of nearly 20,-000 instantaneous photographs of men and animals in almost every imaginable position, representing part of the investigation carried on by the University of Penusylvania.

A Winnipeg photographer has put himself in a way to have a fine lot of libel suits. He recently exhibited a case full of photographs of his debtors, each being labeled with the name, address and indebtedness of the person represented. Oscar Wilde has blossomed out as a novelist of the blood and thunder school. One of the London society papers is printing a serial story from his pen entitled "Lord Arthur Saville's Crime; a Tale of Chiromancy." Queen Victoria has declared her intention of "patronizing" a projected exhibition of articles belonging to Mary Queen of Scots, and has asked that a catalogue of the relics when ready shall be sent to her. A London shopkeeper was recently fined under the new act of parliament for keeping two of his girls at work for ninety-seven hours in a week-sixteen hours and a half day-that is, for six days running.

It is said that John Greenleaf Whittier and Robert Purvis, of Philadelphia, are the only original members now living of the American Anti-Slavery society.

Buffalo Bill in London.

Although Mr. Cody has not been in London over a month he is today as well known to the masses of this great city of 5,000,000 as is the queen. You could not pick up in the most obscure quarter of London any one so ignorant as not to know who and what he is. His name is on every wall. His picture is in nearly every window. The wonder of this lies in the fact that the London public is strangely dull and unimaginative. The people of one quarter are often as ignorant of a neighborhood within a stone's throw of them as if it were in Central Africa. You find constantly the proof of this in inquiring your way about town. The policemen never know where particular streets or buildings outside of their beats are located.

An Englishman who has lived in London for a quarter of a century tells me that no one but an American would think of asking a London policeman for anything in the way of information. London policemen are often piaced on guard in front of English officials' houses where they are absolutely ignorant of the name of the occupant. It is a genuine and not an affected ignorance. I have asked higher police officials about this and they say that the men very often do not know and do not care. I saw some twenty policemen guarding one day the house of the prime minister. I asked several of the men on guard if they knew whose house they were guarding. They all replied in the most courteous negative. Finally, one of them referred me to an older constable who had been on the beat in that neighborhood for some years, and he was able to give me the information. Imagine a set of New York policemen guarding any prominent official's house in New York without their knowing just what they were doing, and particularly if it were the house of the chief officer of our government -T. C. Crawford in New York

One of the Famous Pikes.

Probably I am the only person in St. Louis having one of the famous pikes made by John Brown to arm the negroes of his provisional government in February, 1852, When in Collinsville, Conn., Brown ordered the manufacture of 1,000 pikes by a local firm, and in 1858 ordered them forwarded to Chambersburg, Pa., whence they were transported across the country to the Kennedy farm, near Harper's Ferry. From there they were scattered around in various places. One lot was stored in the Mount Vernon (Ala.) arsenal, which subsequently burned. The pikes and a lot of metal were afterward sent to the Rock Island (Ills.) arsenal, to be rolled into iron, but the mill was never opened up, and they were scattered around the country as relics.-Thomas Doughty in Globe-Demo-

A Spail's Pace.

A snail's pace need not be used any longer as a term more or less indefinite. By an interesting experiment at the Polytechnic the other day it was ascertained exactly and reduced to figures, which may now be quoted by persons who favor the use of exact terms. A half dozen of the mollusks were permitted to crawl between two points ten feet spart, and the average pace was ascertained. From this it was easy enough to calculate that one snail can crawl a mile in just fourteen days. -Terre Haute Express

Diet for Athletes. A less restricted diet in athletic training is being favored in England, and, instead of the large proportion of meat formerly rigidly insisted on, physiologists now consider a variety of food essential to the best results. The Cambridge boat crew, in training for the race with Oxford, were this year permitted to eat fish, puddings and dessert, though still forbidden sugar with pastry. -- Arkansaw

GENTLEMEN,-I se the Royal Emyears, and have suf-fered very little since using it.

Holloway's Pill's.

The blood is the life, and on its purity our health as well as our existence depends. These Pills thoroughly cleanse the vital fluid from all contaminations, and by that means strengthen and invigorate the whole system, healthily stimulate sluggish organs, repress over-excited action, and establish order of circulation and secretion thoroughout every part of the body. The balsamic nature of Holloway's Pills exercises marvellous power in giving tone to debilitated and nervous constitutions. These Pills dislodge all obstructions, both in the bowels and elsewhere, and are, on that account, much sought after for promoting regularity of action in young females and delicate persons who are naturally weak, or have from som cause become so.

A Cure for Drunkenness. Opium, morphine, chloral, tobacco, and kindred habits. The medicine may be given in tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it if so desired. Send 6c in stamps, for book and testimonials from those who have been cured. Address M.V. Lubon, 46 Wellington St. East, Toronto, Ont. Cut this out for future reference. When writing mention this paper.

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner, of Neebing, Ont., says be has not only found B.B.B. a certain cure for dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that he has ever taken. B.B. B. is the great system regulator.

Try and be Cured.

Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not more than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. The only sure and perfect cure is electricity and the best form of administering it is by Norman's electric belts and insoles. W. J. Wilson is agent, and from him you can procure testimonials and circulars relating to any of your complaints.

Worth Remembering. Mrs. T. Doan, of Harrietaville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of the stomach. Failing to find benefit from physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend R.B.B.

Try It. "What shall I do for this distressing Cough ?" Try Hagyard's Pectoral Palsam. It is soothing and healing to the throat and lungs, and loosens the tough mucous that renders breathing difficult or painful.
