M ORSE'S GLYCEROLE of CELERYCOMPOUND New Remedy for Teething Infants and Adults suffering from Nervous Diseases, Etc.

(CONTAINING NO OPIUM).

Celery Compound is a safe and pleasant substitute for opium and other powerful drugs, leaving no bad after effects; in fact, acting as a tonic, building up the system.

See following letter we publish by permission of Mr. Morse:-INFANT'S HOME AND INFIRMARY, TORONTO, 29th December, 1882. HAZEN MORSE, Esq. Dear Sir,—I must thank you for the bottles of Celery Compound. I have used it especially with the teething infants, and have found it a certain remedy for feverishness and every form of indigestion, and for the weak and sickly ones t was invaluable as a tonic, and I shall have the greatest pleasure in recommending its use to everyone. Wishing you every success, I beg to remain, yours very respectfully, M. WHITH, Head Nurse.

We recommend Celery Compound. Every mother should have a bottle in the house.

We have on hand constantly a fresh and complete stock of DRUGS, FANCY GOODS, PERFUMERY, ETC. Also all the leading Patent Medicines, and a full stock of Paints, Oils, Etc. value guaranteed. Favor us with a call.

"It Saved My Life"

Is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. "I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severe Hemehage of the Lungs, brought on by a distressing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine cured my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life .-Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy.-D. A. McMullen, Windsor, Province of Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life. Two years ago I took a very severe Cold which settled on my lungs. I consulted physicians, and took the remedies they prescribed, but failed to obtain relief until I began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two bottles of this medicine completely restored my health.-Lizzie M. Allen, West Lancaster, Ohio,

When a group of them rush across the road, it seems as though a spring gust had unloosened an orchard of apple blossoms. But these children of the poor. There is but little ring in their laughter, and it stops quick, as though some bitter memory tripped it. They have an old walk. They do not skip or run on the lumber just for the pleasure of leaping down. They never bathed in the mountain stream. They never waded in the brook for pebbles. They never chased the butterfly across the lawn, putting their hat right down where it was just before. Childhood has been dashed out of them. Want waved its wizard wand above the manger of their and withered leaves lying where God intended a budding giant of battle. Once in a while one of these children gets out. Here is one, for instance. At 10 years of age he is sent out by his parents, who say to him: "Here is a basket; now go off and beg and steal." The boy says: "I can't steal." They kick him into a corner. That night he puts his swollen head into the straw, but a voice comes from heaven, saying: "Courage, poor boy, courage!" Covering up his head from the bestiality, and stopping his ears from the cursing, he gets on up better and better. He washes his face clean at the public hydrant. With a few pennies got at running errands he gets a better coat. Rough men, knowing that he comes from a low street, say: "Back with you you little villain, to the place where you came from." But that night the oy says; "God help me, I can't go back;" and quicker than ever mother flew at the cry of a child's pain, the Lord responds from the heavens: "Courage, poor boy, courage!" His bright face gets him a position. After a while he is second clerk. Years pass on, and he is first clerk. Years pass on. The glory of young manhood is on him. He comes into the firm. He goes on from one business success to another. He has achieved great fortune. He is the friend of the church of God, the friend of all good institutions, and one day he stands talking to the board of trade or to the chamber of commerce. People say: "Do you know who that is? Why, that is a merchant prince, and he was born on Elm street." But God says in regard to him something better than that: "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and had their robes washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb." Oh, for some one to write the history of boy heroes and girl heroines who have triumphed over want and starvation, and filth and rags! Yea, the record has already been made, made by the hand of God; and when these shall come at last with songs and rejoicing, it will take a very broad banner to hold the names of all the battlefields on which they got the victory.

Some years ago a roughly clad, ragged boy came into my brother's office in New York and said: "Mr. Talmage, lend me $5." My brother said: "Who are you?" The boy replied: "I am nobody. Lend me $5." "What do you want to do with $5?" "Well," the boy replied, "my mother is sick and poor and I want to go into the newspaper business, and I shall get a home for her and I will pay you back." My brother gave him the $5, of course never expecting to see it again; but he said: "When will you pay it?" The boy said: "I will pay it in six months, sir." Time went by, and one day a lad came into my brother's office and said: "There's your $5." "What do you mean? What $5?" inquired my brother. "Don't you remember that a boy came in here six months ago and wanted to borrow $5 to go into the newspaper business?" "Oh, yes, I remember; are you the lad?" "Yes," he replied, "I have got along nicely. I have got a nice home for my mother (she is sick yet) and I am as well clothed as you are, and there's your $5." Oh, was he not worth saving? Why, that lad is worth fifty such boys as I have sometimes seen moving in elegant circles, never put to any use for God or man. Worth saving! I go farther that that and tell you they are not only worth saving but they are being saved. One of these lads picked up from our streets and sent west by a benevolent society wrote east, saying: "I am getting along first rate. I am on probation in the Methodist church. I shall be entered as a member the 1st of next month. I now teach a Sunday school class of eleven boys. I get along first rate with it. This is a splendid country to make a living in. If the boys running around the street with a blacking box on their shoulder, or a bundle of papers under their arms, only knew what high old times we boys have out here, they wouldn't hesitate about coming west, but come the first chance they got." So some by one humane and Christian visitation, and some by another, are being rescued. In one reform school, through which 2,000 of the little ones passed, 1,995 turned out well. In other words, only five of the 2,000 turned out badly. There are thousands of them who, through Christian societies, have been transplanted to beautiful homes all over this land, and there are many who, through the rich grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, have already won the crown. A little girl was found in the streets of Baltimore and taken into one of the reform societies, and they said to her: "What is your name?" She said: "My name is Mary." "What is your other name?" She said: "I don't know." So they took her into the reform society, and as they did not know her last name they always called her "Mary Lost," since she had been picked up out of the street. But she grew op, and after awhile the Holy Spirit came to her heart, and she became a Christian child, and she changed her name; and when anybody asked her what her name was she said: "It used to be Mary Lost; but now, since I have become a Christian, it is Mary Found." For this vast multitude are we willing to go forth from this morning's service and see what we can do, employing all the agencies I have spoken of for the rectification of the poisoned fountains? We live in a beautiful city. The lines have fallen to us in pleasant places and we have a goodly heritage; and any man who does not like a residence in Brooklyn must be a most uncomfortable and unreasonable man. But, my friends, the material prosperity of a city is not its chief glory. There may be fine houses and beautiful streets, and that all be the garniture of a sepulcher. Some of the most prosperous cities of the world have gone down; not one stone left upon another. But a city may be in ruins long before a tower has fallen, or a column has crumbled, or a tomb has been defaced. When in a city the churches of God are full of cold formalities and inanimate re-ligion; when the houses of commerce are she abode of fraud and unholy traffic, when the streets are filler with crime unarrested and sin unenlightened and help-lessness unpitied—that city is in ruins, though every church were a St. Peter's and every moneyed institution were a

Hank of England and every library were a British museum and every house had a porch like that of Rheims and a roof like that of Amicas and a tower like that of Antwerp and traceried windows like those of Freiburg.

My brethren, our pulses beat rapidly the tine away, and soon we shall be gone, and what we have to do for the city in which we live we must do right speedily or never do it all. In that day when those who have wrapped themselves in luxuries and despised the poor shall come to shame and everlasting contempt, I hope it may be said of you and me that we gave bread to the hungry and wiped away the tear of the orphan and upon the wanderer of the street we opened the brightness and benediction of a Christian home; and then, through our instrumentality it shall be known on earth and in Heaven that Mary Lost became Mary Found!

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakea as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take so other

A Living Miracle

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could' not live. The Reverend W. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptised her, she was so weak. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry gave immediate relief. She is a living miracle, hale and hearty. Since that time (7 years) our house has never been without that remedy." From a statement of George Johnston, Harwood,

Try and be Cured.

Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not more than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. The only sure and perfect cure is electricity and the best form of administering it is by Norman's electric belts and insoles. W. J. Wilson is agent, and from him you can procure testimonials and circulars relating to any of your complaints.
