Two states pay their governors $10,000 per year each; two $6,000; nine, $5,000; one, $3,500; five, $4,000; one $3,800; three, $3,500; five, $3,000; one, $2,700; one, $2,500; three, $2,000; one, $1,500, and four, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Michigan, $1,000 each. As several of these states are as wealthy and as populous as Ontario or Quebec, it will be seen by comparison how magnificently we provide for the dear boys at the government houses of Toronto and Spencerwood.

The order of the government, requiring collectors of customs to impose a fee of $1 upon each vessel or steamer entering from or departing for an American port, has been withdrawn. It should never have been issued. It was about the most unfair and senseless and iniquitous act to which the minister of customs could lend himself. Its abolition within about ten days of its enforcement, and as a result of the protests of owners of floating property, is the best evidence that its conception was an error of judgment.

A correspondent, writing to the Duluth Herald, asks: "Will you please inform Premier Norquay, of Manitoba, if he wants the services of ten thousand men to help build a railroad to the border despite the active opposition of the Dominion government, he will find them in the North-West. Many of them can bring their own ammunition." This is so much flapdoodle, which no body can appreciate. The federal government has disallowed the Manitoba railway act, but the railway goes on, and armed intervention is not to be expected. We believe, with the Mail, that the Manitobans will be allowed to complete the railway in peace. In any case the 10,000 men referred to above will not be required. And as for wind—there's an abundance of it on the prairie.

Mr. G. F. Baird, the usurper of a seat to which he was not elected, and the proprietor of parliamentary money which properly belonged to another, is not the sensitive person he was taken for. In a letter he has sent to the press he refers to an opponent as a "slimy deacon," and counsels him and others "to go West to the land of their ideal hopes, or, if they are not wanted there—as may be the case—to commit suicide, or perish in the attempt, which might be much to their credit, and to the benefit of the world." Others he speaks of as a "third rate stock of writers, the rejected, disappointed and jaded political hacks." And finally he declares that he belongs to "a party composed of men of intelligence and independence," whose bidding he did, and who must now stand by him. Great must be his aptitude if he entered parliament as an innocent-hearted and pure-minded gentleman, and, in a session, developed into the political slugger his letter implies. He is nearly fit to fight the beasts at Ephesus.

It is a significant fact, upon which Mr. G. E. Plumbe, of the Chicago News, at Middlebury college, expatiated in his address to the students, that out of nineteen leading journals in commercial centres only six are edited by classical scholars, and that of over eight hundred persons connected with the staffs of these papers only some two hundred are college-bred. Mr. Plumbe is not arguing against higher education. He does not deprecate college education in journalism, but simply quotes statistics to show that to attain to success in the most popular profession of the day a great deal is wanted besides education. The journalist who makes his mark has to possess some qualifications which are natural and not acquired. He has to have what is termed a "news instinct," a love of labour, an industry which knows no break. There is no royal road to success in newspaper life. It involves a study of the times in which one lives, of his surroundings, his opportunities, his emergencies, which no college degree can facilitate though to be sure the progress is greater when the mental training has been the better fitted for the results of experience.

In the Science Dr. William James, of Harvard college, suggests that seasickness may be alleviated by "blistering or otherwise counter irritating the skin around the ears." Dr. James states that in crossing the English channel he thought he prevented an attack of seasickness in himself by rubbing with his fingers the mastoid process, situate on the lower and hinder part of the cranium. The treatment is in keeping with the most plausible theories of seasickness, which make it the result of a series of shocks to the cerebro-spinal system. Eminent physicians recommended nerve sedatives, a hearty meal before sailing, a recumbent position when the vessel is sailing. Dr. E. M. Gallusset writes to Science that seasickness would be much more bearable if one would keep his berth at the first approach of bad weather, eating moderately, and not rising until the processes of digestion and assimilation have had time to be quite full completed, after at least two or three meals. Dr. James requests all who cross the ocean to bear in mind his suggestion and, if they test it, to report to him the result of the experiment. If he has struck an idea which is as good in practice as in theory he will become a benefactor of mankind. Seasickness is the terror of many travellers, and if it can be avoided in the manner suggested by Dr. James his name will be blessed to the end of time.

THE TWO ASSOCIATIONS.

Progress of the Battle for Supremacy in the League an American.

New York Herald. The baseball season may now be said to have reached its noon. Detroit's grip on first place in the league is not quite so strong as it was a couple of weeks ago, but it is very strong for all that, considering that she had to undergo the ordeal of four games with New York. St. Louis' grip on first place in the American series is stronger now than ever, because she held her own when playing abroad, and will now have all odds in her favor for some time, as she will meet the Eastern clubs on her own diamond.

The past week has been an eventful one in National League circles. When New York went west she was a fair third. Then she dropped for a very short time behind Chicago, only to pass her again when very few thought she would do so. She is now a better third than Boston is a second, and may pass Kelly and his aggregation before she comes home this week.

Boston's percentage is .615; New York's is .593. Last week Boston's percentage was .617, while New York's was .583. So it is clear the past week was a fruitful one for New York.

Chicago has held her own in the past few days. Last week her percentage was .581; now it is .583.

As far as percentage goes Philadelphia has bettered her record, but her position is still on the fifth rung of the ladder.

Pittsburg, Washington and Indianapolis are the water-carriers of the league, and there is no likelihood that any other club will deprive them of this proud (?) distinction.

It is said that every time Pittsburg loses a game the people say, "Ring the bell!" Defeat seems to be a chestnut in that town. The week just ended was an important one in the American association race.

The only change worthy of special note in the American race last week was Brooklyn's jump from fifth to fourth place. The loss of that thirteenth inning game on Thursday prevented her from taking third. That day Cincinnati lost, and if Brooklyn had won she would have passed the Red Stockings.

It seems idle to say that St. Louis' long lead has not been diminished and is in no immediate danger. Baltimore is still a good second, a better second in fact than she was a week ago, her defeats at Staten Island and Philadelphia not having had any bad effect on her percentage, which then was .667 and is now .685.

Cincinnati is third, Brooklyn fourth, Louisville fifth, the Athletics sixth, the "Mets" seventh and infant Cleveland last.

Unlucky Cleveland? She paid $1,500 to secure Kirby's release from Indianapolis, and yesterday Cincinnati knocked him out of the box in the first inning. That $1,500 was apparently thrown away.

Other Baseball Notes.

Chicago is now second in the National league race.

The Toronto are said to have reduced kicking to a science.

The Park Nine, of Kingston, and the Ottawa was play in Ottawa on July 12th.

About 34,000 people attended the Chicago-Boston series. Total receipts $24,000.

If the Utica club disbands the Wilkes-barre club will join the International league.

The Pittsburg Sportsman's Referee, a baseball player, has collapsed after losing $15,000.

The Elks base ball club, of Portsmouth, expected to play against the Bath club to-day.

Anson says the race for the National league pennant will be between Chicago and New York.

Stemmeyer, of the Boston, who went home without leave of absence, paid $100 for the trip.

The swift pitcher of the Scrantons, George Meakin, has had his salary raised $50 since he joined the club.

Browning leads the American association in batting. He was the first player in the country to make 100 base hits.

Bushong's absence, caused by an injured finger, is having a serious effect on the Browns' play. Without him their pitchers lose much of their effect.

Slattery, of the Toronto, and Murphy, of the Syracuse team, have made up their minds to go to California next winter and play ball on the Pacific coast.

Von der Ahe, of the St. Louis Browns, is trying to get Buckley, the Syracuse catcher, to take the place of Bushong, who recently had his finger broken and will be laid off for a month or so.

A remarkable game of base-ball was played in Milwaukee on Sunday. For fifteen innings neither Oshkosh nor Milwaukee scored a run. The game ended in the seventh inning—Milwaukee, 4; Oshkosh, 3.

John L. Sullivan umpired the Hartford-Waterbury game. He made some fearful decisions, but neither players nor spectators murmured against them. He'd be the man to umpire, in Kingston.

President Young, of the league, has issued a new ruling disastrous to most pitchers. He has instructed the umpires to see that no pitcher lifts his rear foot off the ground while delivering the ball. In complying with the instructions Radbourne, Healy, Baldwin, Ferguson, Shaw and others have strained their backs in the endeavour to command effective speed.

Chicago is still over Van Haltren, the new pitcher, who has turned out a regular phenomenon. He is said to send the ball straight until it is within three or four feet of the plate, when it makes a marvelously quick turn and shoots up or down with wonderful speed. Daly catches him well, but admits it is hardest work he ever did, and lets a fair percentage of the twisters get away from him.

GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

SEASONABLE POETRY.

How dear to my head was the Fur Cap of winter.

The nice curly cap that now I am fain To swap for the sable and felt newcomer,

Which, because it's so light I return to again.

But like to the Crofters' thatched hut of Kilkenny,

That the soft summer breeze may creep thro' any day,

Is the welcome Straw Hat, because lighter than any,

And cheaper; it costs but a quarter in May.

And GALLOWAY'S is the place to get it.

The above soliloquy forced itself upon me in consequence of the return of spring weather, and as others sing it let them remember that GALLOWAY sang it first, and give him a call at
