late Rev. Dr. De Witt, of New York, when he stood by the open grave of his beloved wife, and, after the obsequies had ended, he looked down into the open place and said: "Farewell, my honored, faithful and beloved wife. The bond that bound us is severed. Thou art in glory, and I am here on earth. We shall meet again. Farewell! Farewell!" To lean on a prop for fifty years, and then have it break under you! There were only two years' difference between the death of my father and mother. After my mother's decease, my father used to go around as though looking for something; he would often get up from one room, without any seeming reason, and go to another room; and then he would take his cane and start out and some one would say: "Father, where are you going?" and he would answer: "I don't know exactly where I am going." Always looking for something. Though he was a tender hearted man, I never saw him cry but once, and that was at the burial of my mother. After sixty years' living together it was hard to part. And there are aged people today who are feeling just such a pang as that. I want to tell them there is perfect enchantment in the promises of this Gospel; and I come to them and offer them my arm, or I take their arm and I bring them to this Gospel. Sit down, father or mother, sit down. See if there is anything at the well for you. Come, David, the Psalmist, have you anything encouraging to offer them? "Yes," says the Psalmist: "They shall bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be fat and flourishing; to show that the Lord is upright, he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in me." Come, Isaiah, have you anything to say out of your prophecies for these aged people? "Yes," says Isaiah: "Down to old age, I am with thee, and to hoary hairs will I carry thee." Well, if the Lord is going to carry you, you ought not to worry much about your failing eyesight and falling limbs. You get a little worried for fear some time you will come to want, do you? Your children and grandchildren sometimes speak a little sharp at you because of your ailments. The Lord will not speak sharp. Do you think you will come to want? Who do you think the Lord is? Are his granaries empty? Will he feed the raven, and the rabbit, and the lion in the desert, and forget you? Why, naturalists tell us that the porpoise will not forsake its wounded and sick mate. And do you suppose the Lord of heaven and earth has not as much sympathy as the fish of the sea? But you say: "I am so near worn out, and I am of no use to God any more." I think the Lord knows whether you are of any more use or not; if you were of no more use he would have taken you before this. Do you think God has forgotten you because he has taken care of you seventy or eighty years? He thinks more of you today than he ever did, because you think more of him. May the God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and Paul the aged, be your God forever!

But I gather all the promises today in a group, and I ask the shepherds to drive their flocks of lambs and sheep up to the sparkling supply. "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth." "Though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion." "Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivereth him out of them all." "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning." I am determined this morning that no one shall go out of this house uncomfited. Yonder is a timid and shrinking soul who seems to hide away from the consolations I am uttering, as a child with a sore hand hides away from the physician lest he touch the wound too roughly, and the mother has to go and compel the little patient to come out and see the physician. So I come to your timid and shrinking soul today and compel you to come out in the presence of the Divine Physician. He will not hurt you. He has been healing wounds for many years, and he will give you gentle and omnipotent medication. But people, when they have trouble, go anywhere rather than to God. DeQuincy took opium to get rid of his troubles. Charles Lamb took to punch. Theodore Hook to something stronger. Edwin Forrest took to theatrical dissipation. And men have run all around the earth, hoping in the quick transit to get away from their misfortunes. It has been a dead failure. There is only one well that can slake the thirst of an afflicted spirit, and that is the deep and inexhaustible well of the Gospel.

But some one says in the audience: "Notwithstanding all you have said this morning I find no alleviation for my troubles." Well, I am not through yet. I have left the most potent consideration for the last. I am going to soothe you with the thought of heaven. However talkative we may be, there will come a time when the stoutest and most emphatic interrogation will evoke from us no answer. As soon as we have closed our lips for the final silence no power on earth can break their taciturnity. But where, oh Christian, will be your spirit? In a scene of infinite gladness. The spring morning of heaven waving its blossoms in the bright air. Victors fresh from battle showing their scars. The rain of earthly sorrow struck through with the rainbow of eternal joy. In one group God and angels and the redeemed—Paul and Silas, Latimer and Ridley, Isaiah and Jeremiah, Payson and John Milton, Gabriel and Michael, the archangel. Long line of choristers reaching across the hills. Seas of joy dashing to the white beach. Conquerors marching from gate to gate. You among them.

Oh, what a great flock of sheep God will gather around the celestial well! No stone on the well's mouth while the Shepherd waters the sheep. There Jacob will recognize Rachel the shepherdess. And standing on one side of the well of eternal rapture, your children; and standing on the other side of eternal rapture, your Christian ancestry, you will be bounded on all sides by a joy so keen and grand that no other world has ever been permitted to experience it. Out of that one deep well of heaven the shepherd will dip reunion for the bereaved, wealth for the poor, health for the sick, rest for the weary. And then all the flock of the Lord's sheep will lie down in the green pastures, and world without end will praise the Lord that on this summer Sabbath morning we were permitted to study the story of Jacob and Rachel the shepherdess at the well in Mesopotamia.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Saleswomen in several dry goods houses in Cleveland, O., are fined a cent every time they use a slang word.

The parents of a pair of Boston twins named one Simul and the other Taneous, because they were born at the same time.

A Washington correspondent reports that the rush of pilgrims to Mount Vernon is greater this season than was ever before known.

Ste. Genevieve is the oldest town in Missouri, and just last week woke up and discovered near by a mountain 200 feet high of solid red, gray and rose colored granite.

A boy at San Diego, Cal., has so much magnetism that he can rub his hands over a book or box, and by waving his hand over the object he can lift it from the table.

A faith doctor near Richmond, Mo., has secured a large number of patients, whom he treats by hanging mink skins about their necks and telling them to feel sure that he will cure them.

Syracuse boasts of having the biggest dog in the world. He weighs 233 pounds and measures 6 feet 3 inches from nose to tail. He is nearly 2 years old and was born in England.

Silver dollars to the number of 100,000,000 may be stowed away in the silver vault now being built at Washington. The walls are to be four and one-half feet thick. The vault will be the largest in the world.

Visitors to the Carlyle house in Great Cheyne row, London, are surprised at its shabby appearance. Broken windows, decayed woodwork, and the kitchen area filled with old boots, are evidences of the landlord's neglect.

Give Them a Chance!
 That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter, which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption of any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

A Firm Clutch.
 "Mr. Featherly," said Bobby, "Sister Clara asked pa last night if you were a young man who keeps the Sabbath."

"I hope, Bobby," replied Featherly, anxiously, "that he told her that I do."
 "Yes," he said that you keep everything you get a hold of."

A Successful Remedy.
 The best medicine writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be at nonirritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

Get The Best.
 Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for cholera morbus, dysentery, sick stomach, cramps, cholera and cholera infantum that has yet been discovered. Its popularity is undimmed by age. All medicine dealers sell it.

A Sad Affair.
 On Rodert's Island, California, one day last week Farmer Gibson shot a dove, which dropped dead in the grass near his house. As he started to pick up the bird he saw something move toward the spot where it had fallen, and thinking it a con, he fired at the object, which proved to be his 13-year-old son, who was hiding in the grain. The charge entered the lad's breast and he died shortly after.

In Better Humour Now.
 "My son, aged eleven, was cured of an eruptive humor that covered his head and face with sores, by two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and Pills," testifies Mrs. Mary Fulford, of Port Hope, Ont.

The Work of a Joker.
 Some wag started the story in England that the Queen would present six guineas and a silver cradle to every child born on jubilee day. Already over 400 applications have been made to Her Majesty to fulfil her promise.

Try and be Cured.
 Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not more than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. The only sure and perfect cure is electricity and the best form of administering it is by Norman's electric belts and insoles. W. J. Wilson is agent, and from him you can procure testimonials and circulars relating to any of your complaints.

From Manitoba.
 "I have been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used about twelve bottles of it and am now entirely free from the disease." William McLaren, Clearwater, Manitoba.

Peace, Perhaps.
 Mrs. Langtry is going to settle in San Francisco because she wants a divorce. Mr. Langtry stays at home because he wants—by-the-by, what does Mr. Langtry want? Nobody seems to have paused to inquire.

Like Magic.
 "It always acted like magic. I had scarcely ever need to give the second dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints," Mrs. Walter Govenclock, of Ethel, Ont.

Life's Perils.
 The train robberies in Texas seem to make it about as hazardous to travel in that region as it would be for a man to go into the grain trade in Chicago.

The Triumphant Three.
 "During three years, suffering with dyspepsia I tried almost every known remedy but kept getting worse until I tried B.B.B. I had only used it three days when I felt better; three bottles completely cured me." W. Nichols, of Kendal.

A. H. Studd, the youngest of the well-known Studd family, made 150 runs in cricket the other day.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache relief from pain and anguish to calm and assuage the weary aching of protracted disease, invigorating the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvelous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
 CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis and Asthma.
 CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
 CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.
 CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Menstrual, &c.
 From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, 31, Jan. 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy that their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Spasms, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera, Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of the opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist, to prescriber and patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharmacy Society of Great Britain His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.
CAUTION—Vice Chancellor Sir Page Wood stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "Times," July 12, 1880.
 Sold in bottles at 1s. 1ld., 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION—Beware of Piracy and Imitation.
