A High License Law.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 21.—The bill taxing wine rooms $10,000 has passed the house. It is thought that the senate will pass it also.

Their Turn a Short One.

LONDON, July 20.—The power of the Irish commissioners to reduce judicial rents will be valid for two years, at the end of which time it is expected that the purchase bill will be in operation.

The Number of Evictions.

LONDON, July 20.—The official returns show that 9,140 persons were evicted in Ireland during the quarter ended June 30. Of these 188 were re-admitted as tenants and 5,737 as caretakers.

Hunting Out the Mormons.

AUGUSTA, Georgia, July 21.—On Tuesday night a band of regulators formed and drove all the Mormon missionaries out of this district. If they return here there will probably be bloodshed.

Selling Bad Milk.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Eight milk dealers were arrested in Brooklyn, on complaint of a dairy commissioner, for selling adulterated milk. They said they would not do it again, and the court fined them $25 each.

Their Papers Gave Them Away.

BERLIN, July 21.—Several soldiers of the Mayence garrison have been arrested, charged with being members of the French Patriotic league. A search of the barracks revealed papers and letters, proving that the visitors were in secret communication with the league committee.

Defy the Crimes Act.

DUBLIN, July 20.—At the meeting of the National League Lord Mayor Sullivan said that the whole league was prepared to defy the Crimes Act. Mr. Crilly declared that the means to nullify the Crimes Act were ample, and that the nationalists would treat the act with supreme contempt.

The Land Bill.

LONDON, July 20.—At a meeting to-day, the Irish conservatives decided not to oppose amendments to the land bill accepted by Lord Salisbury. The changes made in the bills so lessen the opposition to the measure that it is expected that the bill will pass the committee's stage in a week.

A Divided Cabinet.

OTTAWA, July 20.—There is a diversity of opinion in the dominion cabinet as to the advisability of sending Sir Alexander Campbell to Newfoundland to negotiate with that colony on her proposed entry into the dominion. Sir Alexander Campbell's mission evidently will be productive of no good result.

Afghan Boundary Question Settled.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—The Afghan boundary question has been settled. Russia receives the territory between the Kusk and the Murghab rivers, accepting in return the English frontier line on the Oxus river and renouncing her claims to the districts to which she would have been entitled according to the terms of the arrangement of 1883.

Will He get Anything.

CHICAGO, July 21.—H. D. Merrell, one of the many operators who felt the rough edge of the big wheat deal a month ago, has brought a suit against C. J. Kershaw & Co., claiming $50,000. M. J. Wright sues the Kershaw firm for $75,000, and for the same reason the other suit was brought, a failure on the part of the firm to keep its contracts.

A Terrible Affliction.

The family of W. B. Mills, of Arden, were picnicking at a small lake near Arden yesterday afternoon, when a daughter about 16 years of age went in bathing and getting into too deep water her mother, sister and aunt rushed in to assist her. They also got into the deep-water and the result was that Mrs. Mills and her eldest daughter and Mr. Mills' sister were drowned. An alarm was given at once and the three bodies recovered. Mrs. Mills is a prominent merchant at Arden, and is well known in Kingston. He is almost distracted by the overwhelming affliction.

Mrs. Mills was a daughter of a gentleman named Miller who lived in Arden. She was an estimable lady and about 40 years of age. The funeral occurs to-morrow.

STANLEY, AFRICAN EXPLORER.

Reports Conflicting—One Says He's Killed One That He's Drowned.

LONDON, July 21.—A despatch from St. Thomas, West Africa, says the West African company has received a report that Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, has been shot dead by natives with whom his expedition was fighting in order to obtain supplies. Another account says that the steamer on which Stanley was proceeding to the relief of Emin Bey was sunk, and that the explorer was drowned. The report of Mr. Stanley's death emanates from a missionary at Matadi, who received it from a native from up the country. No direct message has been received from the expedition.

LONDON, July 21.—The rumor regarding the death of Stanley is utterly discredited here.

The Hero's excursion next Saturday will be worth going to; leaves at 2 o'clock sharp.

SLAUGHTER ON THE RAIL.

Italian Navies Cut Down and Fearfully Mutilated—A Horrible Spectacle.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A gang of Italian laborers, working on the Erie railway between Allandale and Wobokus, were run into this morning by the express train, killing twelve or fifteen of them and wounding many others.

NEW YORK, July 21.—About three fourths of a mile above Hokers the Chicago express, which was an hour late, rushed around the curve before the men had the slightest warning and dashed through them, killing twelve or fifteen on the spot and wounding many others. The shrieks of the victims were heartrending, and when the train slowed up the track presented a sickening sight, being covered with mangled bodies, the rails being spattered with blood and strewn with broken bones and pieces of ragged flesh. Some of the bodies were mangled beyond description and crushed out of semblance of humanity. To most of the victims death must have been instantaneous, but some of them seemed to have been in the last throes of death when the train was brought to a standstill. The train waited about fifteen minutes and then proceeded on its way. The conductor of the train said that the train hands were not to blame, and said the foreman of the gang should have been on the lookout and warned the men of the train's approach.

The engineer of the express said that before he reached the curve he blew a warning whistle, not knowing, however, that any people were on the track. The moment his train had turned the curve he saw the Italians huddled like a flock of sheep on the very track his engine was on. They had got over there to avoid a train coming from New York city and had their back turned to the express. He tried hard to stop his train, but no human power could have done so in time. Passengers on the trains following blunted fifteen bodies.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

The Base Ball Gossip—The Standing of the Leagues—General Notes.

Strange, isn't it, that the Port Hope Times never heard of the result of the Port Hope-Kingston match in this city.

As soon as a ball is hit every man on the Chicago team makes a move. Those near the ball go for it. That's ball playing.

The Toronto World says the Torontos are playing bum ball. Some of the players will be changed unless they do better.

The Ottawa Free Press, referring to the engagement of the Kingstons at Ottawa on Saturday, says they comprise the best club in Eastern Canada.

The Belleville Ontario said yesterday that the game at Channel Grove was expected to be close. The score does not indicate that such was the experience. The Park Nine outplayed the Bellevilles at every point.

The Detroiters are disorganized. Baldwin has been suspended without pay and sent home to Detroit. Weidman and Briody have also been suspended, and Briody has been fined. Manning is sick and altogether the Detroiters are in bad shape.

Bushong, in an interview, gives away his success in evading injury behind the bat. He says a catcher must have a pitcher who will obey his signs. The great catcher will not allow any pitcher to deliver any drops or in-curves while he is behind the bat.

The knights of labour, of Ganaoquie, will have a picnic on August 4th and want the Kingston knights to run an excursion. A liberal money prize will be offered in the hope that a match can be brought on between the Park Nine and the Kingstons, the best drawing clubs in the district.

Capt. Dyson is said to have belonged to the old Maple Leafs of Guelph. One of the Bellevilles says the reason they played poorly yesterday was that they didn't care whether they won or not. They were paid $60 in any case and were anxious to keep themselves in good form for a meeting with the Kingstons to-day.

The Metropolitan team, of New York, have introduced a new and clever play in order to get first base on called balls. After a batter has had four balls called on the pitcher and has less than three strikes against himself, he changes his position to the opposite side of the plate and the chances are strongly in favor of the next ball being called. Thus far it has worked like a charm.

Wilkesbarre's only salvation was a place in the International league. The club's prominence in the state league was a big drawing card for the other towns, but a poor investment for its stockholders at home. With the exception of Allentown none of the other clubs would draw there. They were too weak, and the spectators became tired of travelling to the park to see their favorites win almost every time.

The yacht Norah has returned to Belleville with John Bell, Q.C. and family, who were on a cruise. The yacht has been found to be greatly improved both in speed and stability by the recent alteration. Coming down the lake she logged off as high as twelve knots per hour under lower canvas only.

EDITORS LOOKING FOR GORE.

The Place for one of Kingston's Reporters—Fighting the Order of the Day.

Louisiana shows improvement in this state of affairs. Formerly the bullet, rapier and code were the prevailing fashion here, but the Marquis of Queensbury rules now prevail. Monsieur, editor of the Meridian, Webster, Tribune, and E. R. Boyle, of the Monitor, settled a difficulty at fistfights yesterday. They pummelled each other until they were exhausted. Neither was badly hurt.

A BANQUET TO PARNELL.

THE IRISH LEADER PAYS A TRIBUTE TO GLADSTONE.

The Only Great Man in British Politics—What the Liberals Have So Far Succeeded in Doing—The Irish Will Never Give Occasion for the Use of the Coercion Bill.

LONDON, July 20.—Mr. Parnell and many of his colleagues were entertained this evening at a banquet by the National League club. The health of the queen was proposed by Mr. Dillwyn, and the guests all rose decorously and drank the toast. Mr. Parnell eulogized Mr. Gladstone for having put his shoulder to the wheel, and said that before many months the ex-premier would carry out his policy and be recognized as the only great man in British politics. Others who were now attracting attention were tempters, imitators and tinkers. Mr. Parnell wondered how long Englishmen would be contented to see the government march up hill and down again. The recent elections had forced them to make concessions or resign. The English liberals might be assured that their exertions would not be wasted. Although in Ireland extreme misery had been suffered during the past eighteen months, crime had diminished, and the people had turned to constitutional methods of adjusting their grievances instead of to a special force. The liberals might claim there in a great success, for the people recognized that through their exertions the way had been opened to an honorable union. If the liberals failed in their programme their great reward would be that they had banished violence, outrage and revenge, and brought the nation to descend upon lawful methods of redress. If the government honestly and fairly tried to carry out the amendments to the Land bill the execution thereof was in no way frustrated. They would never have to use the Coercion bill, which would become a standing memorial of the time which the Tory government had wasted. The diminution of crime proved the gratitude of the Irish toward the liberals, and he trusted that the Irish would long rely upon the good feeling of the liberals, that, even when oppressed, tramped upon and evicted, they would retaliate slowly. They should remember that the Tory government would not last forever. From self-interest the Irish would be fools to give away the splendid position won for them, and they would be most ungrateful if in any way they should retard the progress of the liberals in the path of justice to Ireland. Mr. Parnell's speech was received with loud and prolonged applause. He was followed by Mr. McCarthy.

SWEEP OF A STORM.

The Most Disastrous in Years—Its Fearful Effects on Striking a Circus.

PARKESTERS, W. Va., July 21.—One of the most disastrous storms ever known in this state, swept over the counties of Wirt and Wood about dusk last night, doing damage to a large amount, besides seriously injuring a number of people. The deluge of rain and hail seems to have been most seriously felt about Elizabeth, the county seat of Wirt county, which is reported to be in a serious condition. Houses, barns and other buildings were unroofed or entirely swept away. Thousands of dollars worth of crops were destroyed, and many fine orchards and large tracts of valuable timber were ruined. At Rockport, Wirt county, the largest mill of George Duick was leveled to the ground. White's circus and menagerie was showing at this point. A large crowd was in the tent when the storm broke over the town. In a moment the tent was raised from the ground and borne out of sight, while a mad panic seized the spectators, men, women and children being knocked down and trampled on in the rush to get to a place of safety. A dozen or more were badly injured.

PICKED UP HER SATCHEL.

A Rochester Woman Gets a Scare—A Newsboy Carried Off Her Money.

Mrs. Patterson came to the city yesterday from Rochester and visited Mrs. Hewitt, Earl street. She carried a small satchel containing a pocket book within which was $45. Before entering Mrs. Hewitt's house she dropped the satchel on the stoop, intending to take it with her when the visit was ended. In the meantime a newsboy, nine years of age, came along and dropped a paper at Mrs. Hewitt's door. Seeing the satchel, he gathered it in, hurried off, and hid it under a board walk on Queen street. As soon as Mrs. Patterson missed her property she notified the police. Nicholas Timmerman was given the case, and in a very short time had the thief located. He went to the spot where the satchel was hid and securing it handed it to the policeman, who transferred it to the
