A BATHER'S EXPERIENCE

WRAPPED ABOUT BY A BLANKET FISH—A PROPER SCARE.

A Rare Visitor to Fresh Water—Six Feet Long, and Five Feet Wide, and only An Inch Thick—How it Destroys Victims as a Rule.

A few evenings since Mr. Jellerson, who keeps the saloon at Glenbrook, was out bathing in the lake when something suddenly wrapped about him like a wet blanket. He was close to shore, and got there pretty lively. When he climbed up the wharf the blanket, as it appeared to be, was all wrapped about him in a queer way. He rushed into the saloon where there was a light, and was horrified to discover that the thing which was wrapped around him was alive. It held on with a terrible suction, and required several men to get it off.

A scientist who was stopping at the hotel pronounced it an elactys cynethius, or what is vulgarly known as the blanket fish. It frequents the waters of the polar seas, and is only occasionally found in fresh water, except deep, cold lakes, and generally stays near the bottom. It is sometimes found in the Pacific ocean as low as the thirty-fifth parallel. It wraps around its victim, and by impeding the motions of its limbs causes it to drown.

It is dark brown in color, with black specks, and weighs about twenty-five pounds. When stretched out on the wharf, it was about six feet long by five broad, and not over an inch thick. It was an object of curiosity all day, and is now on exhibition in the saloon.

Mr. Emery, the stage driver, says he saw Jellerson when he came out of the water, and thought he was wrapped up in a blanket. This is the first ever caught in this section of the world.—Carson Appeal.

Birthday "Thank Offerings."

The Sunday school of my church has an ingenious and very simple method of raising money in connection with the recurrence of birthdays. Each officer, teacher and scholar is bound by a happy rule to bring on the Sabbath after the occurrence of a birthday as many pennies as the day numbers years, the pennies going to make up a thank offering. This causes the young to appreciate the return of birthdays, and the character of the offering suggests to their minds the propriety of being thankful for each year they live. Those who never grow older than a certain convenient limit have no record kept of the pennies they drop in, but in all other cases the name of the person and the number of pennies he puts in are taken down. When our scholars grow older their contributions to this fund are much larger, and as some of the teachers are well on to the scriptural limit of life, the sums that are dropped in are sometimes quite respectable.—Rev. Dr. Rhodes in Globe-Democrat.

Beware of Blue Gums!

Policeman W. J. Yorke, of Mobile, while arresting a negro recently was bitten in the hand by the negro, and the hand became greatly inflamed and swollen. In February last Policeman John King was bitten in a similar manner by a negro whom he had under arrest. In two days King's hand swelled, and then the inflammation attacked his arms and legs, and for two weeks his life was in danger. Since then he has been slowly recovering, but is not yet able to put his right foot on the ground. The negroes and some whites declared that the negro had blue gums, and that only those with blue gums have poisonous bites. This belief is generally held, and the colored people have, it seems, an aphorism: "Don't fight with a blue gummed coon." Much interest was taken in King's case, and as soon as Yorke was bitten an examination of the negro was made, and it was discovered that his gums are of a decided blue color. In both cases of biting the negroes were very deeply enraged.—New York Sun.

A Long Felt Want.

Why doesn't some enterprising furniture dealer construct a chair suited to that prevailing deformity known as the bustle? When a woman sits down with her good clothes on the only way in which she can get her back supported is by having a pillow put behind her shoulders to offset the hump that she wears. A chair made with an opening where the bustle would fit would give rest and support to a considerable part of the sitter's back. It would rest the women and it would also rest many men who are very, very tired of seeing their wives and sisters sitting around on the edges of the furniture and wishing for something to back them up.—Rochester Union.

A New Set of Cranks.

I have noticed a new set of well developed cranks in those persons who have a mania for learning the distance between stations and the names of towns passed through. Probably I don't have a trip without one of these persons aboard. It is of no real value to them, this knowledge they thirst for, and yet they are just as earnest in seeking it as if it were of vital importance. These "distance and place" cranks are mostly men, and of middle age, close to old age. Because of their age they are harder to dispose of, and their demands for information have to be satisfied.—Conductor in Globe-Democrat.

An Improved Noah.

A Calais man who has been reading in the papers accounts of the alleged Star of Bethlehem has made up his mind that it is an omen of the destruction of the world by another deluge and has made preparations for such an event, so it is said, by building a new variety of Noah's ark. Unlike its distinguished predecessor, however, the ark is equipped with wheels, so that it can be moved about on land as well as on water. It also has a brick chimney and fireplaces in its three rooms on the first floor.—Bangor Commercial.

The Sculptor's Sons.

Hiram Powers, the sculptor, lived many years in Florence. The "Greek Slave," one of the chief attractions of the Corcoran Art gallery, in Washington, is considered his masterpiece, but his "Fisher Boy" disputes, in the opinion of competent judges, this honor. The three sons of Powers occupy separate villas just outside of Florence. They designate themselves respectively The Successor, The Son, and The Pupil of Hiram Powers; but, unfortunately, they are not examples of hereditary genius.

Queer Personal Advertisements.
 There have been several queer personal advertisements in the Washington papers of late, in which the advertisers maintained that in spite of all reports to the contrary they were of sound mind. It seems that a gang of gossips about town have systematically picked out victims and for sport industriously set afloat stories of their insanity. There have been half a dozen such cases in the last month. The police are trying to run down the rascals.—New York Sun.

DISTRICT DASHES.

The Spice of the Articles Culled From the Newspapers of the Vicinity.

Robert Atcheson, Newboro, has lost the calf dropped by his $200 cow, purchased from B. W. Folger.

The Reeve of Gananogue has proclaimed August 4th a civic holiday in accordance with the petition of the knights of labor.

James Farley, Peterboro, was the lucky possessor of the ticket which won the handsome shell boat recently raffled by T. Roach, jr., at the O'Connor House, Deseronto.

The line of the North American telegraph company, between Deseronto and the city of Belleville, has been completed. There are offices at Shannockville and Marysville.

The Terra Cotta lumber company, Deseronto, are making preparations for the manufacture of a superior quality of pressed brick, of which there has been a great need in Central Ontario.

R. C. Calhoun, connected with the Rathbun Co., Gananogue, establishes a branch for the company in Brockville. Sidney Baker, of Deseronto, takes his place in the office at Gananogue.

T. Butler has succeeded in getting all his drive of 100,000 pieces down the Salmon river and all have been rafted and towed to Deseronto, the work being completed on Saturday. On the Moira, over 150,000 pieces have been left behind owing to low water. Of this stuff about 35,000 pieces belong to the Rathbun company.

Two destructive fires occurred on Sunday night in Mallorytown C. Thomson had just opened a general store and was doing a good trade, when the devouring element consumed the building together with its contents. It is reported that some parties stole and carried off the goods, and fired the building to hide the theft. The next building that fell a prey on the same night was Mr. Stack's driving barn.

The Council of the Front of Leeds and Lansdowne have advertised for tenders for the erection of an iron bridge at Marble Rock. The bridge is to be two spans of 54 feet each, with a roadway of 13 feet, planking to be of pine 2 1/2 inches thick, the joints for plank to be of cedar 3x10 inches. The work is to be completed before the 15th of September.

It would be a paying speculation for farmers along the bay between Deseronto and Thompson's Point, if they were to erect a number of cheap summer cottages. It is the prettiest part of the Bay of Quinte, and with good fishing near by, and steamers calling at all hours, many business men and others would take up their residence there for the summer. A summer hotel in that neighborhood would also prove a profitable investment.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.

Intense heat augments the annoyance of skin disease, and encourages the development of febrile disorders; wherefore they should, as they may, be removed by these detergent and purifying preparations. In stomach complaints, liver affections, pains and spasms of the bowels, Holloway's Ointment well-rubbed over the affected part immediately gives the greatest ease, prevents congestion and inflammation, checks the threatening diarrhoea and averts incipient cholera. The poorer inhabitants of large cities will find these remedies to be their best friend when any pestilence rages, or when, from unknown causes, eruptions, boils, abscesses or ulcerations betoken the presence of taints or impurities within the system, and call for instant and effective curative medicines.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

A Celebration at Cloyne.

At Cloyne July 12th was celebrated by the lodge of that village, No. 847, David Weese, W. M., and Flinton lodge, No. 907, Jas. N. Bryden, W. M., uniting in a picnic for the purpose of raising funds to complete a new Orange Hall which has been erected in Cloyne. The procession was marshalled by Bro. Wickware, and marched to a beautiful grove adjoining the village, where a splendid dinner was prepared by the ladies. This disposed of the chair was taken by Bro. Jas. Roy, an excellent address were given by Bro. William White, G. D. C., R. N. A., Rev. Wm. Down, Methodist minister, P. M. Miller, and John A. Carscallen. A most enjoyable day was spent. The lodge at Cloyne is an old one, the charter having been granted in 1857.

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhoea too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is too often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner.

A Cure for Drunkenness.

Opium, morphine, chloral, tobacco, and kindred habits. The medicine may be given in tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it if so desired. Send 6c in stamps, for book and testimonials from those who have been cured. Address M. V. Lubon, 46 Wellington St. East, Toronto, Ont. Cut this out for future reference. When writing mention this paper.

A Good Act.

"As a cure for all summer complaints I highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, having often used it with the best results. I have often been thanked for recommending it." William Haw, Ancaster, Ont.

His Last Resort.

"I am poor," he said to a Chicago girl; "and you are rich; but true love levels such distinctions, and—"
 She interrupted him with one of the most positive negatives, if such an expression can be allowed, ever uttered in the windy city.

"This, then, is my last resort," he said desperately, and he displayed a silver mounted revolver.
 "You ought to get five or six dollars on it," replied the girl encouragingly.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency.
