A YANKEE IN LOVE .- Oh dear, what nonsense people talk about love, don't they? Sleepless nights-broken dreams-beatin' hearts-fits of absence-loss of appetite-nervous flutteringsand all that. I haven't got the symptoms, but I'll swear to the disease. Folks take this talk, I guess, from poets; and they are miserable, me under ney sort of critters, half mad and whole lazy. who would rather take a day's dream than a day's work at any time, and catch rhymes as heart for heart, telegraphed backward and forward like 'iled lightnin' .- Sam Slick.
