> Upon evidence such as this, your Committee have arrived at the opinion that the policy of opening up this country and attaching it to Kingston, by means of the Perth Road, was sound and judicious, and deserved the assistance it received from the City Council of 1854. Some of the heaviest tax-payers in the city, more particularly Mesars Morton and Forsyth, were amongst those who originally petitioned the Council to aid in this enterprize, and these gentlemen have again before your Committee expressed in the strongest terms their sense of the importance of the road and the necessity completing it.—As a citizen, paying nearly £40 per annum taxes to the City Revenue, your committee think Mr Morton's evidence on this point deserving of great consideration; he was an advocate of the road from the first, and so continues .- 'He says he is largely engaged in business, has considered the Perth Road question went for the Road from the first-our markets will be much increased, every person who settles on the road must contribute something to Kingston-he has already received some grain over this road; he thinks it will divert a good deal of business from Perth and Brockville to Kingston; thinks the city will be indirectly remunerated for the outlay; if in the Council would have supported these roads; the interest on the expenditure is of no consideration in comparison to the indirect advantages."-In this opinion your Committee concur, whilst they feel justified by the evidence before them, in adding that they think, when the road is completed from end to end, and a few years have elapsed, it will pay a fair dividend on the cost

In the present state of the road, and the mode of expenditure which has been adopted, your Committee think it of peculiar importance that no time should be lost in the completion of the road. The city, in this opinion, has amply dong its part, and they recommend that, in order to raise the necessary funds, and at the same time diminish the cost of management of both roads, if private Stockholders will concur) the Legislature should be applied to, to incorporate " the Kingston and Perth Road Company," and " the Kingston and Phillipsville Road Company" in-

to one Company; with express power to borrow, on Debentures, a sum sufficient to complete both roads, and that the act of Incorporation should give a proper and proportionate representation to the City Stock, by an election of Directors by the City Council, either from its members or from the citizens at large, as the Council for the time should think best A Your Committee think too, that the various manicipalities on the route of the roads, may fairly be called upon to contribute to their construction, and that the Perth subscription should be completed. They recommend that the union of the two Companies should take place as soon as possible, and that if a Bill cannot be introduced for that purpose, during the present Session of Parliament, that a junction might in the interim be made by private compact, to be afterwards ratified by the act of incorporation, and that prompt steps be taken to seek for assistance from the municipalities on the line of Roads. The Committee further recommend that all private stock now due, should be promptly called in—that the Books should be more systematically kept, and a minute of proceedings at every Board meeting made; and they consider it de sirable that all future expenditure should be concentrated-taking up the work at Loughborough Lake, and continuing it on until the six miles leading into Perth, now completed, are reached. A statement, showing the receipts and expenditures on account of the Perth Road, nder appropriate heads, is appended hereto, and your Committee beg leave to refer thereto for detailed information on these points. [The remainder of the report, relating to the Kingston and Phillipsvile, and Kingston and Storrington Roads, will be published to-morrow.
