The Grand Trunk Railroad Again

MORE RECKLESSNESS !!!

Yesterday morning a collision took place upon the Lachine Railroad, between the 7 o'clock Passerger train to Lachine, and a gravel train of the Grand Trunk, which might have been attended with fatal results; and is another instance of the monstrous recklessuess and mismanagement of the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

The Grand Trunk gravel train was running upon the Lachine train's time, backing round a ing the Lachine train coming, the conductor in doing so, the backle broke, and there being no brakes upon the gravel cars, two of them ran down and stopped at the crossing of the two roads. The Engineer of the Lachine train saw the danger, and did all he could to avert it, but the distance was too short to arrest the train, and it ran into the gavel cars, smasling them and the locomotive to pieces, and throwing the train off the track, but fortunately without injuring any of the passengers.

We believe this is the first instance in Canada of trains being run without binkes; and it was left for the Grand Trunk Railroad to publicly cast aside the only means by which the velocity of a train can be arrested, and to consign the brake to the same limbo to which it has sent the

A WOMAN BEHEADED IN DENMARK. - Capital punishments are extremely rare in Denmark. de sions an immense sensation. The announce do ment that a female under sentence of death in do the prison of Grenaa, province of Jutland (where it is certain there has been no execution for 300 years.) was to be executed, not only plunged the whole town and neighboring country into committion, but attracted crowds from a great distance. The condemned was a young woman named Gertrude, daughter of John, a peasant (in Denmark peasants have no family names,) and her crime was murdering her husband by discharging a loaded pistol at him. When told that her last hour had come, and that she must prepare to die, she said that she had no need of preparation, and at once quietly put on her cap and shawl, after which she said she was ready When the moment came to set out for the scalfold, she refused to be carried in a cart, but taking the executioner by the arm, walked there firmly. Having run up the steps, she stood near the fatal block, listening with great calm to the reading of the text of her condemnation -a very prolix document. She then took off her cap and shawl, threw them to her teet, and then bandaged her eyes with her neckerchief; she then knelt down, and placed her neck on the block. A moment after the axe fell. The extraordinary calm of the woman astonished the

RAIN! RAIN! - Give us rain is the cry of the farmers throughout this section of the state. The crops are dying for the want of moisture, and the farmers of Passaic county say that unless they have rain within a week, their corn will be ruined and hardly fit for the cattle. Everything is drying up, the ground is parched, and still, day after day, the sky bears the same E | brazen look, and the cooling, retreshing rain withheld. The roads are dusty, the streams are shriveled, the grass is burned, and everything is dry, and absolutely perisbing for want of a good day's rain. The drought has now continued for nearly five weeks and there is no appearance of speciators, who were upwards of 20,000 in num-

The vegetable crops throughout lower and West Jersey are also suffering very much from the want of rain. The hot sun penetrating the sandy soil, rendering the heat so intense that the potato and other regetable are nearly roasted. Unless copious showers are soon experienced, farmers say that not only the early but fall orogs will be absolutely rained .- Newark Adver-
