THE COUNTY BY-LAW.

On Thursday, the Voting on the Bonus By-Law of the County of Frontenac will take place. It behooves the people of Kingston, so deeply interested in the passage of the By-law, not to relax one iota of their precautions in seeing that the merits of the Railway Scheme be properly laid before the County Freeholders. There are mischief makers enough abroad, who, out of pure malice, will do all in their power to frustrate the good intentions of others. Truth is great and will prevail, and all that the Voters want is to have the matter duly explained. There is no one but who would wish to better his condition; consequently, as everyone in the County must be benefitted by the building of this Railway, no one will object to vote for it, if his mind be not prejudiced by the falsehoods and mis-representations of the malicious people we allude to. There is no argument against the Railway—there can possibly be none—no one pretends to use any. Nothing but falsehoods and mis-representations.

MURDER NEAR OTTAWA.

THE SPEAKER'S SECRETARY THE VICTIM.

Mr. G. H. Macaulay, the Secretary to the Speaker of the House of Commons has met his death at the hands of a ruffian, while taking part in the Ottawa County election. A correspondent of the Ottawa Free Press writes:—

Montebello, July 8.—The particulars of Macaulay's murder are as follows:—He was here all day between 4 and 5 p.m., yesterday, he went into the hotel of Tranchemontagne, who undertook to put him out, I suppose, because he was speaking in favour of Eddy. Tranchemontagne's nephew beat and kicked him, after which they took him up stairs to bed. They say he did not complain of being badly hurt. Strange to say they said nothing of his being beaten, until about 10 p.m, and then found he was going to die, when they sent to Papineauville for a doctor, who thought he was dead. He did not die, however, till between six and seven a.m. I cannot find out anything about the inquest. No one here seems to know anything about it. The murderer was here this morning, but has skedaddled. Mr. Macaulay was widely known throughout the Province, and was a man of much ability.

Montebello, July 9.—The inquest on the body of Mr. Macaulay was commenced last evening and two witnesses were examined, whose evidence was very direct against Lemontagne. The latter came in while the inquest was going on and delivered himself up. After examining the witnesses the inquest was adjourned till 8 o'clock on Monday morning to obtain the result of the post mortem examination, which took place to day, and points to the injuries received as being the cause of his death. The body will be sent up on the steamer Fairy to-morrow morning for interment at Ottawa.

THE RAILWAY BONUS IN RENFREW.

(Pembroke Observer)

The Railway meeting held on Wednesday night at Curry's School House, Township of Pembroke, was largely attended, R. Coburn, Esq., in the chair. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. White, Foster, Murray and Deacon, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That this meeting feeling the desirability of obtaining railway communication throughout this County, pledges itself to use all lawful means of procure the ratification of the By-Law granting a bonus of $100,000 to the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company."

CROPS IN PRINCE EDWARD.—A short visit to the county convinces the writer that no such crops as are now standing in the fields have grown in Prince Edward for some years. Most kinds of grain look well—some exceedingly fine, while others are not by any means an absolute failure. There will be more barley to an acre under cultivation than in years past, more spring wheat, more peas, more oats, and an average of corn and rye, or nearly so. The exceptions to a fair crop will be hay and late sown grains, of which latter in the part we pass through, there was not an excessive quantity.—Ontario.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

SIR,—Merchants frequently receive gratuitous favors in the way of business, which tend to soften down the asperities of commerce and call for thanks on the part of the recipients. Such a kindness as the above we feel it our duty to acknowledge, as having received from Captain Martin, in charge of the United States Revenue Cutter Sherman, stationed at Cleveland, Ohio, who went with his steamer some ten days since to the assistance of one of our schooners, the Denmark, a Canadian vessel, which was ashore on the Canadian side, at Rondeau Point, Lake Erie, and succeeded in pulling her off and taking her away in safety from the dangerous position in which she lay, which our agent had been unable to effect with the assistance of Commercial Tugs. We consider the kindness more apparent and worthy of our thanks from the fact of its being granted by a foreign government steamer to a Canadian vessel in distress, and we shall ever gratefully recollect it. At the same time we feel confident that the owners generally of our merchant vessels on the lakes will join us in our thanks for the kindness shown to a Canadian vessel in distress above alluded to.

Hoping the newspapers in Canada will unite in giving place to this letter.

We remain,
Yours truly,
CALVIN & BRECK.

Kingston, July 10, 1871.

THE CHANGE IN THE ONTARIO CABINET.

With the consent of both the persons most immediately concerned a change has been agreed to—though it will not be carried out a for a week or so yet—by which Hon. M. C. Cameron goes to the Crown Lands Department, and Hon. Mr. Richards takes Mr. Cameron's place in the Provincial Secretary's office. This change has been suggested with a view to imparting a little more energy into the Crown Lands office. The duties of the office are not only onerous but require on the part of the person discharging them quickness of apprehension and readiness of decision. Throughly actuated by the best of intentions, doubtless, Mr. Richards has not given as much satisfaction to persons having claims against the Department as was to be desired. It is a question, indeed, whether any one man can. There are thousands of claims in the Crown Lands office and continually arising there which can be efficiently dealth with only by a court of claims. Such a court being non-existent, however, it is believed that the several departments of government will be most effectively administered by the change now proposed. Mr. Cameron has a readiness of arriving at conclusions which Mr. Richards either does not possess or is fearful of exercising it, least he might inadvertently fall into error. Even though wrong conclusions may sometimes be arrived at, despatch in the Crown Lands' office is absolutely necessary.—Leader.

HOMELY GIRLS.—"How did that homely woman contrive to get married?" is not unfrequently remarked of some good domestic creature whom her husband regards as the apple of his eye, and in whose plain face he sees something better than beauty. Pretty girls who are vain of their charms are rather prone to make observations of this kind; and consciousness of the fact that flowers of loveliness are often left to pine on the stem, while weeds of homeliness go off readily, is no doubt in many cases at the bottom of the sneering question. The truth is that most men prefer homeliness and amiability to beauty and caprice. Handsome women are sometimes very hard to please. They are apt to overvalue themselves, and in waiting for an immense bid occasionally overstep the market. Their plain sisters on the contrary, aware of their deficiencies, generally lay themselves out to produce an agreeable impression, and in most instances succeed. They don't aspire to capture paragons with princely fortunes, but are willing to take anything respectable.

THE BOURBON PRINCE.

There has always been more or less confusion in the minds of Canadian readers as to whom the Bourbon Princes are, now claiming the throne of France, and their relative pretensions of that distinguish honor. We hear frequently of the Count De Chambord, Count De Paris, Duc De Nemours, Duc D'Aumale, and Duc De Chartres, as Bourbon Princes, without being able to place them, and without much knowledge of their respective claims to the throne. As the question of by whom and how France is to be ruled, is likely to be a prominent one for months to come, we think it quite advantageous to have the personality of those Bourbons more fully before us.

The Count De Chambord is the representation of the elder branch of the House of Bourbon. He is the great grandson of Louis XV., the grandson of Charles X., and the son of the Duc de de Berri, who was assassinated in 1820. The Count De Chambord was a posthumous son, having been born September 19, 1820, seven months after his father's murder. His title, De Chambord, is derived from the chateau of that name, given to him by public subscription on the occasion of his baptism. By the death of the Duc D'Angouleme, in 1844, the eldest son of Charles X., the Count became the sole surviving representative of his line. He married, in 1846, the eldest daughter of the Duke of Modena, but has no children by her. Hence no legitimate issue of his survive, and this circumstance it is that facilitates the contemplated "fusion" of the two Bourbon branches. The Count De Chambord has already been formally proclaimed King of France. At the Revolution of 1830, Charles X. resolved to abdicate in favor of his grandson, who was forthwith proclaimed before the troops gathered at Rambouillet. The people, however, revised this decision, and the senior member of the Bourbon stock was driven into exile, where he has remained, quite obscured by the notable events that have been transpiring in France.

Of the junior branch, the present representative, born August 24, 1938, is the Count de Paris, Louis Philippe Albert D'Orleans. He is the grandson of the Citizen King, Louis Philippe, who was the direct descendant of Philippe, Duc D'Orleans, the younger brother of Louis XIV. The Comte de Paris, in 1863, married his cousin, Marie Isabelle, daughter of the Duc de Montpensier, fifth son of Louis Philippe, and lately candidate for the throne of Spain. Other Princes of this house are the Duc de Nemours, second son of Louis Philippe, the Prince de Joinville, third son, the Duc D'Aumale, fourth son of the same monarch, and the Duc de Chartres, who, with his brother, the Comte de Paris, served on Gen. McClellan's Staff in Virginia during the American civil war. The Duc de Chartres is married to the eldest daughter of his uncle, the Prince de Joinville.

The candidates, then, the Count de Chambord, representing the older Bourbon branch, and the Count de Paris the younger, are now understood to be negotiating with the view to "fuse" or reconcile their respective claims. It is thought that the former, being past fifty, and having no legitimate children, may come into an arrangement whereby he shall ascend the throne for life, the succession being fixed on the Orleans branch, in the persons of the Count de Paris and his heirs.

Manitoba.

THE UNHAPPY PROVINCE—MORE TROUBLES.

OLD SCORES.

Since the late row between Lepine and some others in the town of Winnepeg, there have been several "unpleasantnesses"—of course always between drunken men; still these show the state of feeling between the two parties, which is very bitter, and will no doubt increase, as many of the discharged volunteers openly avow their intention of having satisfaction for by-past wrongs and insults. The two opposing parties frequently meet in the vile drinking holes to be found at every corner. "Wine being in, wit is out," and inflamed by liquor, they often go to excesses, so that it is not at all improbable some serious accident may yet occur in some of the encounters; indeed Lepine and his gang openly threaten to burn down the whole town of Winnipeg and revenge themselves on those who attacked them.

RIEL AND THE FENIANS.

The irrepressible Fenian is also on the warpath, and the O'Donoghue warrior is sneaking around Pembina and Georgetown, pretending to arrange for the impending raid on poor doomed Manitoba, now that her defenders have returned home; and it is not at all unlikely that some such mad attempt may be made, as there seems to be some secret movement going on amongst the late Riel party in the Province. Riel himself has been at the White Horse Plains, and other points not far distant from Fort Garry, and the French half breeds of that persuasion, who were thoroughly cowed after the arrival of the troops and some sound thrashings they got at their hands, have latterly plucked up a little courage, and showed themselves around their old haunts in Winnipeg, and even dared to boast of their misdeeds last winter, with results not at all pleasant to themselves.

VOLUNTEERING.

Several new volunteer companies are being formed of residents in the vicinity of the Stone Fort, and an effort will be made to organize them—also in other parts of the Province—no doubt with much success, among the new Canadian emigrants. We shall soon have, probably, a complete volunteer and militia system in operation, for which purpose Col. Casault remains here for some weeks. All the arms and accoutrements belonging to both the Ontario and Quebec Battalions have been stored at the Upper Fort, for the use of the new militia when needed.

The troubles in the Saskatchewan country have obliged the missions there to look for assistance from Manitoba. Appeals for that object have been made to the various Presbyterian congregations here with considerable success; and the flour, &c., contributed will at once be forwarded to Rev. Mr. Nesbitt.

Crime.

SHOT DEAD BY HER SUITOR.

Chicago, July 7.—Near Shabbona Grove, De Kalb county, on the 3rd, Miss Joanna McCormick, aged 17, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. McCormick, a wealthy farmer's widow, was shot dead while sitting at the supper table. John Reed, a farm hand, had invited her to accompany him to a Fourth-of-July celebration, and on her refusal he went to a neighbor's house and borrowed a double-barrelled shot-gun. With this he shot the girl through the window, killing her instantly.

A FIEND.

Chicago, July 6.—About one week since, Edward Titcomb, residing at Marysville, Dekalb County, Missouri, while engaged in a violent controversy with his father about some hay, drew his revolver and discharged the contents of three barrels into the abdomen of the old gentleman. He then seized an axe and struck his sister, who was standing near, a fearful blow, inflicting a dangerous wound. Neither will probably survive. Titcomb was at once arrested, and it was only by the great at efforts of the sheriff that he was saved from lynching by the infuriated neighbors.

Scholes of Toronto, who carried away the "pipe" prize in the Montreal snow shoe races last winter, has defeated Keraronwe at Toronto in a mile race. Keraronwe gained ten yards on the start of seventy-five which he allowed his rival, but Scholes came in sixty-five yards ahead.

A row has taken place at Levis Camp. Two regiments of French Canadians—one from Quebec county, the other from Beauce—encamped in justaposition quarrelled, and matters at one time wore a serious aspect. The commands of superiors were disregarded, and an aide of the Deputy Adjutant-General was wounded by an enraged volunteer, not with a bayonet but by a pail. Order was finally restored by calling out another regiment and disarming the refractory and the quarrelsome, who were strongly guarded during the night.

The Ottawa Times states, that while the Treaty of Washington and all things connected therewith have been so thoroughly ventilated in England, they cannot be discussed by public men in Canada with equal freedom. The Imperial Parliament is now in session, and ministers can reply to the questions of their opponents in a proper manner. When the Parliament of Canada assembles there will be an equally free and full discussion here, nor will the Premier have the slighest objection to tell the House all about the Treaty.

THE MANITOBA LANDS.

It was lately said that persons who had recently arrived in Manitoba for the purpose of taking up land, were unable to do so properly owing to the fact that the lands has not been surveyed. It was added that many of the new comers were going in as squatters instead of awaiting the tardy action of the Government. We are now glad to hear that steps have been taken to protect the squatters. The News Letter contains an extract from an Order in Council, dated May 26th, which reads as follows:—

Whereas the public survey of Manitoba cannot be effected in time to facilitate settlement on the lands by the numerous parties now in, and those about emigrating to that Province, and it is deemed expedient temporarily to countenance settlements being made in advance of such survey, notice is hereby given,

1. That parties found upon the lands at the time of survey, having settled upon and improved the same in good faith as settlers under the land regulations, will be protected in the enjoyment thereof, whether the same be pre-emption or homestead right, provided they respectively enter for such right with the land officer, and otherwise carry out the provisions of the said regulations in that behalf, within three months after the survey shall have been made.

2. That in settling on the lands parties will bear in mind the system of survey adopted, by which the lines run due east and west and north and south, and the 160 acres or quarter section is an exact square of half a mile each way, under which system alone pre-emption or homestead rights based upon settlement previous to survey will be recognized.

J. C. AIKINS, Sec. of State.

This is a sensible order, and must prove satisfactory to those who have recently gone to the Province with the intention of becoming settlers.

It appears singular that France's credit in the money markets of Europe should seem better than that of the United States. Her loan at five per cent. was promptly taken up, while American five per cents experienced some difficulty in being negotiated abroad, and it is only this morning we hear of their success in London. France has always been faithful to her financial obligations, whilst in America a large part of the Democratic party has favored Repudiation, and a Republican State like Minnesota carries it out.

MARAVILLA COCOA.—No breakfast table is complete without this delicious beverage.—The Globe says "Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Coco. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For homoeopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage." Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original Homoeopathic Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate. Steam Mills—Brick Lane, London.
