The Administration organs are now the English Press, thereby confessing that the arrows shot by the latter are rankling 1.1 the Ministerial flesh. How much weight attaches to this recent denunciation of the Old Country journals may be measured by the fact that the Government Press but recently quoted with exuitation the opinions on the Pacific Scandal of the very English organs which they are now so bitterly denouncing as ignorant and partial. They attempt to make much triffing maccuracies in the English criticisms, which do not in the slightest degree affect the value of the judgment on the general issue. Slight errors, it is true, have crept in, quite naturally, to the English reviews of the Scandal, as slight errors unimportant details would naturally creep in the reviews by the Canadian Press of an English or American Scandal. But they have rightly apprehended the main facts: that Sir Hugh Allan was eager to secure the Pacific Contract, that the Government were cager to secure large sums of election moneys from hunand that the Government got the moneys at the same time that he got the promise of the Charter. The English Press know these facts, which cannot be gainsaid. have unequivocally pronounced the Government guilty accordingly, and the LONDON, Oct. 15, p.m. - The unfavor- microscopic, dry as dust criticisms of the
