OLD, BUT JOLLY.

Quinces. There's a jolly Saxon proverb, That is pretty much like this : That a man is half in heaven When he has a woman's kiss. But there's danger in delaying. And the sweetness may forsake it, So I tell you, bashful lover,

> If you want a kiss, why, take it. Never let another fellow Steal a march on you in this; Never let a laughing maiden See you pining for a kiss. There's a royal way to kissing. And the jolly ones who make it Have a motto this is winning. If you want a kiss, why, take it.

Any fool may face a cannon. Anybody wear a crown; But a man must win a woman. Organs and Melodeons would you have a golden apple ! You must find the tree and shake it ; TATE ALWAYS keep on hand ORGANS | If the thing is worth the having, And you want a kiss, why, take it.

VV and MELUDEONS of the best Ca-Who would burn upon a desert With a forest smiling by ? Who would give his summy summer For a bleak and wintry sky ? Oh, I tell you there is magic, And I know you cannot break it; For the sweetest part of living Is to want a kiss and take it.

> Breach of Promise of Marriage A NEW NAME FOR EISSES.

In the Salford Hundred Court of Record maker, lately residing in Ellison street. Lower Broughton, and the defendant was a young man who assisted his mother, a confectioner, in Broad street, Pendleton. The parties met at Blackpool in 1866. There was at that time some sweet intercourse between them, but it was not until 1869 that the acquaintance ripened into the more interesting state which resulted in a promise on the part of the defendant to make the plaintiff his wife. The defendant was by no means a rich young man, and in his earlier letters he EXHIBITED MUCH CAUTION. He began to sign himself "Yours, &c." Cheerfulness, courage, and great activity of intellect are engendered by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and its capacity of imparting power of endurance to the brain and nervous system is shown in its property of sustaining persons through mental difficulties.

Says the Muscantine (Iowa) Courier: "We have done and are still doing business with quite a number of Advertising Agencies throughout the country, and have no fault to find with them, but Messrs. G. P. Rowell & Co., give us more business than any other. Furnishing a large of advertising, and paying , has put this house at the very head of Agencies, and has made them a name for honesty, reliability and promptness, which of itself is worth a fortune.
