WEDN'SDAY EV'NG, APRIL 5, 1876, A CLOSE, HARD MAN.

A hard, close man, was Solomon Ray, Nothing of value he gave away; He hoarded and saved; He pinched and shaved The hard-earned dollar he tried to gain Brought him little but care and pain; For little he spent, And all he lent He made it bring him twenty per cent.

Such was the life of Solomon Ray, The years went by and the hairs grew gray His cheeks grew thin, And his soul within, Grew hard as the dollar he worked to win

But be died one day, as all men must, For life is fleeting and man but dust. The heirs were gay That laid him away, And that was the end of Solomon Ray. They quarreted now who had little cared

For Solomon Ray while his life was spared

His lands were sold. And his hard-caroed gold All went to the lawyers, I am told. Yet men will pinch, and cheat and save, Nor carry their treasures beyond the grave All their gold some day

Like the selfish savings of Solomon Ray. REQUIREMENTS

Will melt away.
