CATARRH.

The Constitutional Remedy.

The Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is the first article placed before the public that proposed to cure Catarrh by building up the Constitution. It struck at the root of the whole difficulty, and thousands upon thousands of letters have been received by the proprietors, setting forth the marvelous cures, and what is remarkable, curing not only the Catarrh, but all other ailments at the same time. This is what it always does. The following statements are only samples of what we are constantly receiving, from well known people to whom you can write, and not bogus ones. Catarrh and its attendant evils, cold in head, hacking cough, incipient consumption, headache, pain in the back and loins, dizziness, languidness, loss of appetite and general weakness, all leave together when the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is taken as recommended.

Home Testimony in favor of Littlefield's Catarrh Remedy:

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq.,

Brockville, 12th Feb., 1876.

My Dear Sir,—I can carefully endorse, from my own experience, the favorable account of the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. It has afforded me relief from Catarrh and Cold every time I used it, and then when I could not take proper care of my self in bad weather

Yours respectfully, C. W. VOLSEY.

T. J. B. Harding, Esq.

Brockville, Feb. 9, 1872.—Sir: Having had Catarrh for a number of years, and having tried nearly all the remedies advertised that promised relief or cure, without the desired result. I came to the conclusion that it was useless in trying to cure the disease. I was advised last fall to give the "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" a trial, and did so, with very little faith as to the result. But I am happy now to say, that after using three bottles, I am entirely cured and do not feel as if I ever had Catarrh. I also cheerfully recommend it to all those that suffer from that disease, and am satisfied that if they will only try one bottle, it will need no other recommend, and will convince the most sceptical.

Yours Respectfully,
JOHN C. BANN,
St. Lawrence Hall.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—HAVE YOU SEEN THOSE

Paent Lap Window Shades,

Recently Patented in England, Canada and the United States. For beauty, durability and convenience, LAP WINDOW SHADES are acknowledged to be superior to all others and to be had in all sizes and colors, suitable for private dwellings, government, school and public buildings, hotels and offices. They are just the thing needed and admired by all. Lap Window Shades exclude the flies and rays of the sun also obviate the great annoyance of other Shades that of letting people look between the slats. They are woven with the Patent Laid Cord, which makes them the most durable and cheapest Shade in use. When soiled it can be washed and will then look as good as new. CONSUMERS

OF GAS

Will do well to Examine their Gas Bills and compare them with those who use the

ELLIS'

GAS BURNER!

The following is a Copy of our Gas Bill for two and a half months:

MONTREAL NOVELTY COMPANY—

To Kingston Gas Light Co.:

1500 Cubic feet Gas consumed	$6.00
Less discount 12 1/2 per ct.	75
	$5.25

Interested parties know that we have had a brilliant light every evening and usually quite late and that the above is a very small bill comparitively being less than four feet of Gas per hour to each Burner in use.

THE ELLIS GAS BURNER

WILL SAVE ONE FOURTH OF YOUR GAS BILL AND IMPROVE YOUR LIGHT.

We are often asked how we get so much brighter light than others? It is because we do not check the Gas at the Meter or Tap which reduces the quality and quantity of the Light in proportion to the reduction of Gas used.

THE ELLIS GAS BURNER is self-regulating without lessening the light.

WE ALSO HAVE IN STOCK A LARGE AND FRESH ASSORTMENT OF

Fruit, Confectionery, Tobacco, and Cigars

Which we shall sell Wholesale and Retail at a LOW FIGURE.

SATURDAY EV'NG, JULY 15, 1876.

A SPANISH POEM.

O! let the soul its slumber break,
Arouse its senses and awake,
To see how soon
Life, with its glory, glides away,
And the stern footsteps of decay
Come stealing on.

And while we eye the rolling tide,
Down which our flowing minutes glide
Away so fast,
Let us the present hour employ,
And deem each future dream of joy
Already past.

Let no vain hope deceive the mind—
No happier let us hope to find
To-morrow than to-day;
Our golden dreams of yore were bright;
Like them the present shall delight—
Like them, decay.

Our lives, like hastening streams, must be,
That into one engulfing sea
Are doomed to fall,—
The sea of Death, whose waves roll on
O'er king and kingdom, crown and throne,
And swallow all.

Alike the river's lordly tide,
Alike the humble rivulets glide
To that sad wave;
Death levels property and pride,
And rich and poor sleep side by side
Within the grave.

Our birth is but the starting place,
Life is the running of the race,
And death the goal.
There all those glittering toys are brought;
The path alone, of all unsought,
Is found of all.

Say, then, how a poor and little worth
Are all those glittering toys of earth
That lure us here?
Dreams of a sleep that death must break.
Alas! before it bids us wake,
We disappear!

THE CHEESE BUSINESS.—The State of New York alone has now nearly 1,000 cheese manufactories, which use the milk of more than 250,000 cows, making therefrom 80,000,000 pounds of cheese, which is 1,000 pounds for every three cows. The cheese production of the whole United States is now over 250,000,000 pounds, of which 96,000,000 are exported. England scarcely exports 25,000,000 pounds, while little Holland, which used to be the principal cheese producing county of the world, exports at present 90,000,000 pounds. This latter fact suggests the extent which the cheese production of the United States may reach in the course of years, and the wealth its exportations will bring back, as the Hollanders used to boast that their cheese production was more valuable than a gold mine, very few of which surpass the Dutch cheese in the profits realized.

CATARRH

Cannot be cured by Snuffs, Washes, or Local Applications. Thousands have been cured, some of 40 years standing, by using the CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY. Certificates and treatise on Catarrh mailed to any address on application to T. J. B. HARDING, Brockville, Ont. Sold by all Druggists. Price—$1.00 per bottle.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., Bible House, New York City

☞ For over 20 years Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have maintained their reputation for curing coughs, colds and pulmonary diseases. Those suffering or threatened with any of the symptoms of bronchitis, or any of the pulmonary complaints, should at once give them a trial. They give almost immediate relief, and if taken in time generally effect a cure. Remember that a common cold or cough, if not attended to in time, often leads to that distressing and fatal disease—consumption. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25c per box.

A Good Horse.—There is much pleasure and profit in the service of a good horse, and but very little of either in a bad one; no person, from choice will retain a bad horse; many, however, are in possession of such who need no be. We think there are few horses so bad but that their condition can be improved and rendered more valuable and useful for their owners, to effect which, there is nothing equal to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." It has effected astonishing results in thousands of cases. Remember name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors. Sold by all medicine dealers.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced.—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q. writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all.—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, Wes Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it as equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil and are pronounced by the public one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Ransan, Township Percy writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, as I believe one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."

☞ Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents.

Prepared by S. N. Thomas, Phelps N.Y., and Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., sole Agents for the Dominion Note.—Eclectric—Selected and Electrized. Sold in Kingston by E. H. Parker J. G. King, Heath and Gunn, G. S. Lobaer Jas. McLamont, and all medicine dealers.

OUR TRIP DOWN THE RIVER.

FOR THE WHIG.

'Spencer,' said my wife to me some weeks ago, 'I am determined to go down the River, and camp, and I intend taking the children with me.'

Now if my wife says she is determined to do a thing she generally gets her own way, and the more opposition shown to anything she has set her mind upon, the greater her desire for the thing coveted.

Like an obedient husband I of course displayed great delight at this proposal, although I knew that—to camp out would be perfect misery to her. This, however, raised her auspicions, and I saw her reflecting very earnestly, as if she could not understand my readiness to fall in with her views.

'Spencer, is there any reason why we should not camp out?' 'Certainly not, my dear.' 'The mosquitoes are not bad this year, are they?' 'Certainly not, my dear.' 'You have not heard of wolves being seen on any of the Islands?' 'Certainly not, my dear.' 'There you are with your certainly nots!' 'Can't you say whether there are such things or not! for Mr. Brown tells me her brother's husband was on an Island last year, and he was kept awake all night by a wolf howling on another Island close to him.'

I happened to know that Mrs. Brown's brother's husband, Tompkins, was going this year with a party of gentlemen to camp down the St. Lawrence, and his wife wishing to join him, Tompkins was mean enough to frighten her out of it by making up this story about the wolf.

Of course I could not be a party to such a disgraceful way of putting off one's wife, at the same time, I would have done so by fair and honorable means. To tell the truth my wife is the greatest coward under the sun. She positively lives, as it were, under protest. If she goes into a boat the water is always too rough, and every steamer fastened to the wharf is getting up steam and going to run into the boat; and if one is seen a mile off, I have to pull ashore at once and wait until it is gone past, and even then it is a matter of grave moment at what time we ought to push off again. My wife is always frightened at the slightest noise in the night, and lies trembling and shaking, asking in a whisper, "What is that?" Should I be asleep and not hear her, she wakes me up with a pull and a shake, fiercely remarking that she might just as well have no husband at all for the good I was.

My prospects of a pleasant trip were not very great, particularly as all my wife's fears would be magnified by having the two children with us. They unfortunately have a strong predelection for the water, and it is something like watching a hen looking after her ducklings to see her whenever the children are in a boat.

'Mary Anne, sit down directly, or I'll spank you. See how nicely your brother behaves.' 'Marmaduke, my pet, sit still and you shall have strawberry jam for tea.' Mary Anne—'I did nothing, mother.' 'Why, who shook the boat?' 'My dear,' exclaim I, 'it's the swell from a steamer.' 'Good gracious!' Where? Where?' Why, the one that passed us half an hour ago.'

This is a specimen of the pleasures of taking my dear wife and the children out boating, and as preparations were being made for our trip I began to wish I'd never been born.

We were to be away from Monday until Saturday night. I was to do the packing, the rowing and the cooking. My wife would never allow a man to accompany us. Never! She could trust none of them. He might cut all our throats. I had to say 'I was delighted.'

On the Monday morning about ten the boat was packed with everything necessary. It was a safe boat, as may be imagined, built under my wife's supervision. You could stand on the side without making it take in water—a very hard boat to pull. We arrived at our island at eight o'clock, just before dark. It is 12 miles from Kingston. But what with the heavy weight to pull and the frequent interruptions, in consequence of my wife insisting I should go inshore when she had a scare, which was pretty often, our passage was a very slow one.

The misery of that first night! I put up the tent, made a fire, made the tea—the children fell asleep until ready, and my wife peeped about for snakes. She had forgotten all about them until we arrived, and invested the tent with the packages and bushes to keep off robbers and the wolves.

The next morning we all awoke tired and stiff; but who could help feeling in a good temper and cheerful when looking at the glorious view that rose to our gaze! The fair St. Lawrence with her bosom unruffled by a sigh—the opposite shores standing out in bold relief with the shadows of the trees and rocks reflected on the water—the singing of birds, the hum of insects. 'Twas nature's gay day a bright smiling day.' The wife of my bosom was really quite delighted that we had come, and the children were already paddling in the water, happy as young children only are.

Long before I became a benedict I used to camp out for weeks at a time, and was, therefore, well able to put things in order and make all those little conveniences so necessary in camp life. It makes the difference whether your time is comfortable or not—this handiness in fixing up things. My wife is a neat, little body, too, and likes everything 'just so,' and if I could only rely upon her not having one of her panics of terror, there were prospects of our really having a good time. For three days everything went on calmly and smoothly. No one came near us to disturb the repose we were enjoying. My wife actually caught several fish. I put the worms on the hook for her and pulled them out. The children's appetites were extraordinary. Marmaduke was "quite a man," so his mother said, and she looked upon him as equal to a man in protecting her. She unfortunately never looks upon me as anything. Pleasures are but fleeting, however. One never knows what to expect in this world. We all turned into the tent on Thursday night, feeling satisfied with one another, cheerful and hopeful, having made arrangements for a trip to another island for the next day, where some friends were under tent. Everyone but myself were asleep, my wife breathing in gentle warblings through her nose, which she insisted was not snoring. It keeps me awake, however. When an event happened which changed the whole course of affairs in our establishment, a thing so direful in its results that I can scarcely think of it even now without shuddering. The thoughts of it blanches my wife's cheeks and causes my children to whimper, 'What was it, pa?'

A noise, so unearthly in its sound, was heard hovering over our tent, as if a pack of wolves, a troop of wild asses, fifty elephants and ten locomotives were togeth-
