Council, we have heard several objections the end of fifteen years will be more able to pay the debt than it is at present, and a different people will be left to pay it. 2nd, The property for which we are indebted is on hand and will continue to be on hand at the end of twenty or thirty years from this, and the children and grandchildren of the present ratepayers will enjoy the use of it. 3rd, It binds the ratepayers to pay so much each year, whether they have good crops and good markets or bad opes. 4th, The new bonds, when offered for sale, will not, even if they sell at all, sell as well in the market as the ordinary bonds with coupons, 5th, Who is to know but what the Government of Ontario will, after a few years, pay the railroad bonussfor us; stranger things than this have happened before now, and may happen again. 6th. Under the old method the most of our debt will not have to be paid for 15 pears, and it is asked if the people of Frontenac, or those of them who are borrowing money, they consider they are justified in forcing the payments of debts that are only bearing eight per cent. A good deal of this money will be collected from the people and placed Also the finest and largest stock of in banks at only four percent. 7th, It is CARRIAGES, PHÆTONS, BUGGIES contended that the consolidation scheme an intrigue to get clear of the debt, whilst two or three townships out of the sixteen are so unequally taxed that they will in consemence pay the most of the debt. 8th. What hinders the paying of the debt if the ounty is able. These considerations, as tion of a "County Ratepayer," should receive the serious consideration of the electors, who are so much interested in them.
