With one or two exceptions, they are trying to keep their old trade while adhering to their previous high rates. The Grand entral has reaped much benefit from this, by quietly "cutting" the rates from one to two dollars per day. Controversy among the first-class hotels of New York shows that the service is constantly changing from one first-class hotel to the other, and the bills of fare show the same variety of dishes. The important fact, to travellers, is that the Grand Central offers the same accommodations for two dollars per day less than the others.
