The Columbia Crew.

New York, August 10. - The steamship City of Berlin, with the Columbia crew of board, arrived at Quarantine long before the time expected, thus it happened that the Reception Committee of Students were no on hand, but instead of it were several representatives of the Press, who went down on the health officers' boat, and gave a warm reception to the victorious American crew. The crew state that their reception in England had been most kind, and nothing could be more agreeable than their stay there. Al the crew have gained in flesh. Just off Governor's Island the reception steamer was met, gaily decorated and with a regimental band on board, which struck up "Hail Columbia," and cheer after cheer arose from the City Berlin and her diminutive escorts. They all of Picton. all steamed to Pier 37, where, amidst a scene of indiscribable enthusiasm, the returning crew came ashore, carried on the shoulders of the Reception Committee.
