ed denominational discussions and bitter religious rancour the conduct of the Catholic prelate of Kingston, the Right Rev. Bishop O'Brien, towards the Methodist (Episcopal) body of that city, deserves special recognition. With this view particularly we publish elsewhere the speeches delivered at the dinner which followed the laying of the corner stone of the new Methodist Church in Kingston, A very deserved vote of thanks was passed to the worthy Bishop, who not only threw open the grounds of Regiopolis College for the occasion, but permitted the speaking to take place from the balcony of the College. Would that this kindly, amicable spirit pervaded more largely all the Christian denominations of the country !

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT. - Several young blackguards (for by no other name can they be called) have been in the habit lately insulting respectable people who visit the City Park for recreation by using profane language and obscene expressions. They take good care, however, to exhibit their unseemly conduct while the policeman on duty is absent in another part of the l'ark, and who, unlike "Paul Pry," cannot be everywhere at the same time. A sharp look out should be kept for such characters, who, when arrested. should be dealt with in a manner that will serve as a salutary warning to others of a Carrying Loaded Pistols. This afternoon an arrest, arising partly out of Saturday night's row, was made by Note Paper, Envelopes, Hymn Books, Detective McCauley, at the instance of one of the City Aldermen. From what we can learn a man named William McLoughlin, who was at one time a member of the Police Force, and now acts as a bailiff, accused James Nesbitt with striking one of his sons with a stick on Saturday night. Nesbitt denied this, saying he had no occasion to strike the boy. McLoughlin uttered a threat, and Nesbitt said he was not at all afraid, when the former pulled out a loaded double barrelled pistol, pointing it at Nesbitt. Just at this moment two Alderman passed, and Nesbitt called their attention to the fact of the illegal carrying of concealed weapons. Information was immediately conveyed to the police, McCauley and another going out and making the arrest. McLoughlin we believe, claims that he carries the weapon in the execution of his duty. This is not he unfortunately got mixed up with a crowd the first time he has been in a similar scrape, and there is a possibility that it may go hard with him. The pistol will of course be con-

MORE ROWDYISM.

Well-Merited Punishment.

The spirit of rowdyism seems to have become rampant in the city, the result of the endeavours of certain young rascals to cast discredit on more respectable men by assert ing that they were influenced by religious zeal to defend that which they thought right. It is very unfortunate, as we have said before, that the good feeling which has existed for so many years should be broken up by young rowdies. The attempted row of Monday night was resumed last night, fortunately with a similar result, if we except some glass broken in the Police Station. The circumstances are as tollows :

About two weeks ago one of the Lodges of moonlight excursion, the date being fixed for last night. As has been customary for these affairs, a fife and drum band paraded the which of course gathered a great crowd. The band marched to the wharf playing party tunes, which naturally, while they give pleasure to one party, give offence to the other. After they arrived at the wharf, some persons began to throw stones, and one young man named Payne and a bandsman named Donrelly were severely hit, the former the back of the neck. The stone-throwing caused a hullabaloo, and a rush was made up the hill by a crowd of young fellows. number of young men who were standing on the corner of Outario and Brock streets took the alarm, and bolted up Ontario street, followed by a crowd. One of them, named Robert Armstrong, evidently thinking he was going to the safest place, ran into the Police Station. He was followed by the crowd, who pushed into the Station House, and in the crush seven pains of class were broken in the windows. Several persons who got in declared that Armstrong was the party who threw the stone which struck the bandsman, and we believe that before the policemen in the station could prevent it the young man was struck. He was kept in for safety, and at the wish of the Mayor he was let go on promising to appear before the Police Magistrate this morning. After a little while Sergeant Major Bell managed to get the place cleared, and the crowd again went down to the wharf. That Armstrong, who is a Roman Catholic, was entirely innocent, there is not the slightest doubt; but in which he had no business. Notwithstand ing the assertions of those who were in the

Canadians are not unfamiliar with the growing practice of wearing "white chokers" by others than members of the legal and clerical professions. On this side the line it is very common, as it is becoming in Canada. Here, on Wellesley Island, it is a difficult matter to tell who is the minister and who is the laymen. Young "swells," and old "swells" too, and not unfrequently others who are anything but "swells," as the term is generally understood, sport the snowwhite cravat. Even representatives of the Press have caught the common contagion OFFICE TO. MORROW (Thursday) MORN. and are to be seen sauntering around the ING at TEN o'clock. grounds wearing the official tie. As a rule, the "white choker" will not present a respectable appearance if worn more than two Young Britons made arrangements for a days in succession in hot weather; but some of those who wear it seem to be of the opinion that it is decent enough until it has become as "seedy" looking as a paper collar streets previous to the hour of starting, on a corpulent man at the end of a sweltering hot day. While laymen of all grades of society are displaying their admiration of the white tie, the majority of the ministers who have been on this island do not wear it, even while officiating. This, however, is not uncommon among American ministers, who seem to consider black as orthodox as white. As both Canada and the United States are free countries, both clergymen and laymen are at liberty to wear what they please. Most people, however, on the northern side of the line at any rate, would prefer to see the ministers dress somewhat distinctively, and many of them more neatly than they do. But like other fashions, doubtless the rage for "white chokers" is only ephemeral and will shortly die out. Several Kingstonians bought lote in the Park during the last few days. The most of the best situated lots have been disposed of, and have commanded good prices. Many of those who bought land in the l'ark at the opening sale and have since disposed of it have made handsome profits, the value of the lots increasing annually.

The Sunday School Parliament continues in session. The services of to-day consisted of an address by the Rev. G. R. Alden, Presbyterian minister, Greensburg, Indiana; the reading of an original temperance story by Mrs Alden; lecture on the Sacred Books, Hebrew and Christian, compared and contrasted with the Books of the Hindoos, by Rev. Dr. Humphreys, of Little Falls, N.Y. Song Service; Question Box; and lecture on "The Inspiration of the Bible," by the Rev. Station House last night that he threw the Dr. Townsend, of Boston. It was expected and II., Edited by Hunter, Mason, Seath, that a concert would be given by the choir Storr, &c. Full supply at in the evening.
