THE COINING CASE.

The Gang Broken Up.

Our readers will remember the case ported a few months ago in which a quanterfeiters around here proved unavailing tinued langer. We have been led to make Police, subsequently captured a man at Stratford and brought him to Napance, where he will be tried. The following is from the London Advertiser George Phonix, formerly of London.

rested by Detective O'Neil of the Dominion police force, on a charge of counterfeiting. It appears that he is the chief coiner of a counterfeiting gang in Toronto, Hamilton, London and Brantord, and during the past four years has made probably $3,000 or $4,000 of bogua half dollars and quarters. At first h confined his attention to Yankee coir but latterly made Canadian halves and quarters, and capital imitations they were. he having hit on a process to plate them with a solution only and without using a battery, as is commonly done. Two of the gang, a man named Jackson and his son, passed considerable of the money was greeted with a good house. It is to be throughout the county of Perth last regretted, however, that some people have | winter, and were arrested by Chief Wilson, the inexpressibly bad taste to enter the hall of Stratford, some two months ago. The after the concert commences, as last evening old man was tried by Police Magistrate the music was intersupted several times by O'Loane, and was sent to Kingston for in Stratford from Ottawa some two or who went to listen. Where everything is three weeks ago and took Jackson to Napanee, where he managed to work on his feelings sufficiently to get the whole story out of him, and to persuade him to turn Queen's evidence in consideration of being allowed to go free himself. He described the way in which the coin was made and at what places, and exposed the modus operandi of circulating it, which was to sell it to trusty persons at 40 per cent, and let them work it off as best they

Phoenix, the chief coiner, who was arrested at Stratford, had lived with Jackson's father and mother, and latterly Mrs . has been living with Phoenix as his mistress. This rather riled young Jackson, and made him more willing to expose the whole affair than he would have been

Another member of the gang, by name George Thompson, who is serving out a term in the Penitentiary, is also on hand as a witness, and it is expected will corroborate Jackson's evidence.

The only other witness is Minnie Jackson, a dashing young brunette from this city, sister of Jackson, Queen's evidence, and who seems decidedly averse to telling what she knows, as she made an attempt to escape from the police, and was only recovered at the Grand Trunk station as the train was moving out.

The case has so far been conducted very quietly, and but few outside the legal authorities knew what was up. Mr O'Neil is apparently a shrewd, keen officer, and has received valuable assistance from
