QUEEN'S COLLEGE. The New Buildings.

The Trustees met yesterday, and after long and careful consideration of the various plans submitted to them awarded the first prize to the one bearing the motto "Norman," from its style of architecture. On Milton, the sealed envelope being opened, it was found that the successful competitors were the firm of Gordon and Helliwell, Architects, Toronto. The buildings constitute a massive pile, and taken in connection with the present buildings will give a good idea of the growth of the Institution, and present an imposing appearance. The best effects of the Norman style of architecture are obtained more through grouping of parts than from elaborate and expensive detail,

The second prize was awarded to our townsmen, Messrs Power & Son, Architects, for a very beautiful plan bearing the motto "Pro Patria Sempere." The Board of Trustees have empowered the local trustees to obtain working specifications, ask for contracts, and proceed with Thompson, Longfellow, Golden Leaves, the buildings whenever the state of the Dodd's Beauties of Shakespeare, funds permit them to do so. For many rea.
