THE OPERA HOUSE. - We are glad to be able to announce that the new Opera House will definitely be opened on Monday, the 6th January next. A first-class company has been asked to undertake the duty, and it is probable that an answer will be received this afternoon. Due announcement will be made of the opening.

PROBABILITIES for the next twenty-four hours : For the lower lake region, rising barometer, brisk southwesterly to northwesterly winds, partly cloudy colder weather with areas of light snow. For the St. Lawrence, brisk westerly to southwesterly winds, partly cloudy weather with flurries of snow, stationary or lower temperature.

THE WEATHER. - The weather this morning was cold, with a strong wind blowing. This had the effect of causing a good deal of drift in the snow, which is not yet sufficiently beaten down. There was a strong gale blowing down the lake, on which the waves were very large. The storm may possibly have the effect of spoiling business this evening.
