RESPIRATORS FOR FIREMEN. TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY NEWS.

Dear Sir, - Last night the writer of this was at the fire at the corner of Bagot and Further information concerning the Tolls | Earl streets, and was delighted to see the Form of Lease and exemptions may be | ter. Certainly it is an improvement on previous methods. They go right inside and attack the fire and extinguish it, and no aproar and shouting. The men have nothing to say, and the Chief seems to give his orders much the same way, in fact I have police also deserve credit in aiding the firemen by keeping off the crowd. This is one of the worst things that a good Fire Brigade has to fight against, namely, an unthinking crowd pressing on them and hindering their operations. But there is one thing our firemen want very much. That is to say half a dozen smoke protectors, so that they and do their work with discretion. I often wonder that the Fire Insurance Companies do not farnish them to the Brigade, they are the parties most interested. I would move for the Corporation to do it, but that body has all the loads it can carry at present, and agement to the Brigade to find that the Invices. I trust this hint will be taken up by dozen smoke protectors, inside of thirty done to remedy the unfortunate state of affairs complained of, and the question may then be considered whether it would not be wiser to have a smaller force thoroughly equipped than the present one which is described by the Mail as being almost if not quite in "rags."

I must, however, take exception to the latement of the Mail that money is wasted Toronto Flour Store statement of the Mail that money is wasted on the country battalions, which are mentioned as being of little use as compa.ed with those in the cities. Certainly the city battalious have many advantages not enjoy. ed by their brethren of the country, but the rank and tile of the latter is composed of the right sort of stuff to make Sir Garnet Wolseley writing in praise of the Canadian Militia referred more particularly to the rural regiments. Their superiority over ordinary soldiers, as warmly described by the gallant General, c naists in their handiness when in camp, their skill in wood craft, the deft way in which they can use an axe, all of which qualities would be invaluable in such a campaign as that of Ashantee or on service in any wooded country. To say that such men are of little use is perhaps true in the sense that for some year's past little use has been made of them by the powers that be, or rather the powers that used to be, but as long as they remain properly organized battalions they are entitled to receive their kits in exactly the same way as the active force of the cities. Probably the Mail's article was written hurriedly, and is intended only to quote the opinion of some officer who has been writing on this subject from a onesided point of view. In any case the allasion to the inefficiency of the rural force is most undeserved.
