Dear Sir, -- Allow me to state in reference to the "contrast" with which you connect my name in your issue of the 12th ult., that I was wholly ignorant of the manner in which the excursion of Sir John to Picton was got up, and that I might since have remained in the same state of blissful ignerance with regard to it were it not for the noisy marmurs of some of his own supporters, who said they under- from. stood the excursion was to be free, but who found they had to "pay the piper" before they had gone far. Sad Occurrence at Ancaster. Ancaster, Aug. 14.—On the night of the 12th inst., about 8 o'clock, a man named George H. Hartley, residing in the village, met with his death under painful circum- I stances. He was quarrelling with his family, when Arthur Crooks, passing by the house, tried to allay the dispute. Hartley used foul language towards Crooks, and was struck by Crooks on the face. He died in about an hour WIII. afterwards. A coroner's inquest was held in the Town Hall yesterday morning before Dr. Horton. A post mortem examination was made by Dr. H. Richardson.
