SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 6. the vultures be gathered together. The Tories are to power at Ottawa and the tive chamber, and as it is to this body spoils are to be divided among the party carrion. Not only are shoals of placehunters suing for office but the delega- have it in their power to treat him pre tions are trooping up from the maritime | cisely as they did ex-Governor Letellier provinces demanding "better terms" and ex-Premier Joly. If they do no again. During the Mackenzie regime proceed to do so it will be very unlike the Dominion treasury had a rest from them, and we shall be very agreeably the demands of these harpies, but now | mistaken. It would be not a tittle more they are at it again. If the Eastern unjust or unconstitutional for them to Ontario, for this is just what all this third outrage is fully consummated. "better terms" business amounts to, from the west and "increased annual anbaidies" from the east, Ontario will well deserve the appellation of the milchcow of the Dominion.

Sir Alexander Galt, in the course of a speech at the St. Andrew's celebration, declared, "As Canadians our policy should not be a policy of selfishness. And yet this is the avowed policy of the Government of which he has accepted the position of apologist, and of which it is stated he is to be admitted as a member. We are aware that Sir Alexander is very anxions that outsiders, especially the British people, among whom he is going to live, should think that the Canadian tariff was framed expressly in their behalf and for their benefit; but this is entirely too thin in the face of the repeated cry on this side the water of "Canada for the Canadians." If this selfish cry were literally true we could understand how Canadians might be sincere in joining in it; but when we know its real significance to be "taxation for Canadiaus, and exclusion from the markets of the world," whe hope to be pardoned for taking no stock in it. The "National Policy" avowedly is a self policy, and for our British Ambassador to repudiate this distinctive feature of it is too ridiculously untrue to deceive any body either at home or abroad. ----

The mysterious origin of such fires as that of the Grand Opera House, Toron to, and the Bow Park buildings deserve, and no doubt will receive, a thorough investigation. To say the least it is strange that buildings and institutions so the roughly watched and so carefully attended to as these were should fall a prey to the devouring element. In each case the most minute and careful vigilance was daily and nightly observed for the prevention of hre but in vain. If the general suspicion that these conflagrations are the work of the incendiary prove to be well founded, no expense should be left unturned to unearth the human fiends who could be guilty of no dastardly a crime. In every such case arson is possible murder, and i often proves to be actual murder, as in the case of the Opera House fire. We are reluctant to believe that anyone could be guilty of such a wanton destruction of life and property, but unfortunately there are too many proofs that the deshould be stamped out with the severest panalties.

We refer, of course, to the official degradation of Mr. Speaker Turcotte; and thus it happens that our "absurd" prediction is in a fair way of fulfilment. True the hon, victim's only crime was that at a crisis which had been pre- | make the duties of your office as light and cipitated by the party to which he formerly adhered, and which threatened every day to culminate in financial bankruptcy and political diagrace he had the manliness and the patriotism to cast mere will banish it, as well as Whooping are alklasids from trees which attain to party to the winds and give his support to pure and honest and capable Govern ment.
