IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The pouson it distributes throughout the system atacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charistans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cuum has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to sunceed when all the usual remedies fall, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidited blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nassi passages. Its action is besed on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

NOBSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM; Oct. 1, 1874

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to say of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians. physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Mudical Bodiety are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies. I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION. CENTLEMEN. — We have sold Sanford's RadiCoal Curs for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the babit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation inects the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that their suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter

An Electre-Galyanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Piaster, forming the best Plaster for paths and aches in the World of Medi-ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fied the hody, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an unwhely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster. BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant bal-sam and pine and the gums of the Raw are too well known to require description. Their crateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properway are known to thousands. When combined in accord-ance with late and important discoveries in phar-macy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity. TWO IN ONE. Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before com-pounded in the history of medicine Try one. Paice, 25 Cants. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEERS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

James Howard's Crime.

Christmas morning in New York, a man broke a plumber's window and stole some faccuts. He was quickly arrested and taken before a police justice. There he gave his name as Smith and told why he had stolen the faucets He had long been ant of work though he had tried hard to find employment. His wife was ill of consumption and with their child was slowly starving. They had nothing but a crust of bread for nearly 36 hours. He broke the window and took the brass fixtures with a view to pawning or seiling them to get some."

thing for his family to eat: The story was investigated so far as it That marks the place from whence the race related to the family, and found to' be true. The name was assumed as a cover from the disgrace of arrest, James Howard being the real name. The law could not take account of Howard's mistive for crime, and held him in $1.000 bail. Howard's story touched the hearts of charitable people. The plumber repaired his window and sent some money to Mrs. Howard. A member of the Cotton Exchange called on the Polico Justice and desired to have Howard brought in and asked to repeat his

This was done and the broker said a collection would be taken up on the Exchange if he found the story true. Two business men called with offers of employment for Howard, U-hers proffered the bail required. A letter came to the Justice, unsigned, containing $50 for Howard's family. Another letter brought 85. A number of persons seet in some of money varying from $1 to $25. Meanwhile, runs the report, Mrs. Howard had been the recipient of many kindnesses. Elegant private equipages stopped before the gloomy alley leading from Mulberry street to the gear tenement in which she lives.

Liveried tootmen took well packed baskets from under the coachmen's seats, and picked their way gingerly through the alley and up the outside staitway of the lenement. Soon Mrs. Howard's comfortless rooms were filled with good things. Some of the visitors sent money besides their other gifts. Mrs. Howard
