The Daily British Whig.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JAN. 14. The simultaneous interment of the late Prof. Mackerras and his aged mother has b en much commented on as a curious and melancholy coincidence. A notice of an even more remarkable incident of the same sort has just appeared among the esblograms from England, We re er the case of Sergeaut Parry, the enginent English lawyer, and his wife, who died within twenty-four hours of each other, and of the same complaint, congestion of the lungs. It cannot very often be said of relatives so closely connected that "in death they were not divided." It is very soldom that mother and son, or husbane and wife, leave life together for that bourne from which no traveller returns

It is definitely announced that fou commissions in the British army will given annually to successful students at our Royal Military College. This i another fibre in the bond of Union between Canada and the mother country, and for it, credit is due to the Liberal Government which established the College. It will also prove an incidential advantage to Kingston, which will hence forth be referred back to by these Cauadian-British officers as the place where they obtained their Military education, and won their position in the British army. This city is under special obligations to the late Mackenzie Ministry for selecting it as the site for so important an institution

It is gratifying to note that the P . mier of Untario, and the leader of ta Opposition, Mr. Meredith, are cordially agreed as to the correctness and validity of the award of the provincial boundary arbitrators. For some mystertous reason the Domin.on Government has so fa declined to ratify the award. It is matter of the utmost importance to Ontario that that award should be confirm ed at once, as it will naturally enlarge the north western area of the Province, and will enclose within its new bounds valu able mineral and agricultural territory The sullen silence of the Dominion powers that be is very suspictous to say the least of it and betrays an castero jealousy of Ontario which does not re quire to be expressly formulated in order to be well understood. But surely after the combined demand of Mesere Mowat and Meredith, speaking for the whole Ontario House, the Federal Gov. ernment will quit its envious temporizing and proceed to confirm the arbitrators'

POLITICS AND PRAYER.

The political dead-lock in Maine still continues with the Republicans their turn in the ascendancy. A funmy feature of the latter's proceedings, in organizing for business, was the opening with prayer by Rev. Dr. Butler, the chaplain of the Republican faction. have no doubt that one of the most earnest invocations offered by the rev. petirioner was that the wicked machinations of the rival party might be brought to nought. As a matter of course each pary imagines that the salvation of the State is bound up in its own success, and in the frustration of the devices of the 'enemy. One of the party-blind Liberal Conset vatives of Kingston rather tersuly de fined his view of the situation when S John Macdonald fell from power, and the hated Grits took office, by declaring | gaged in the serious work of converting "the country is damned," and this expression-more forcible than poster-will be the view of the party which fails in the struggle for power in Maine. "Confound their politics," is doubtless the ardent petition of each of the rival factions there in reference to the other, but the Republicans have certainly got the start of their rivals in myoking the partizan assistance of the Almighty! Buch prostitution of the solementics of religiou is equally impious and absord. If the Republicans should succeed in outwitting or bull-dozing their opponents from of fice, very likely some of them will gratefully accept their party access as a favorable answer to Chapiain Butler's petition! Prayer, so called, is a blaspho mous burlesque when offered at such time and for such a purpose;

THE IRISH QUESTION.

One result of the present anti-rent movement, combined with that for the relief of Irish distress, is the sensible strengthening of the Home Rule party. "The O'Donoghao" has long been deemed as a haif-hearted member of the party, and has consequently been regarded with considerable distrust by the straight Home Rulers, but has now unreserv eitly joined the party. Lord F. Osborne, a brother of the Duke of Leeds, too, it now said, has joined the party, and in its interest will contest the representation of Limerick at the nearing election Our own Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, in declaring-as well he might-the Canadian system of Government to be the best in the world, wishes that Ireland had a similar system, which means, course, the advocacy of Home-Rule for his native land. In addition to all this it is quite significant, if true, that a por tion of the Presbyterian clergy has given in its adhesion to the anti-rent move me it, which is the most revolutionary of all the phases of the Home-Rule project. It is increasingly evident that there must soon be a courageous handling of this artists. Irish question by British statesmen. The admitted grievances and misfortunes of that at present unhappy country will have to be redressed and .: lieviated, and the discontent of its people allayed, if generous interpretation of British fair play can do it. The next general election in Great Britain will definitely determine whether this borning question in Imperial politics will be boidly met, or whether it will be left as at present to will not be deemed ungraceful on my disturb the peace and menace the inter part if I request my friends to discongrity of the Empire. We believe that linue their kind efforts in the direction come plan short of "rapeal" will be dis covered, and that Gladstone is the man to solve the difficulty without dissolving about to be made, and I then thanked or even endangering the union. Should he be returned to power he will be suce to deal in some successful way with the Trish land question, as he formerly did to his great scheme of church disestablishment, but without at all realizing the texts of those who affect to regard him as a communistic leveller.

KOISSIM SIN DNA DNCMMAN

A very lively discussion is going on in Protestant circles in Moutreal as to the advisability of inviting Rev. E. P. Hammond the eminent evangelist and revivaluet to that city. Some of the confra correspondents contend that the city is already supplied with ministers, churches, and religious appliances, and suggest that men like Mr. Hammond should rather be carried by their musionary zeal those far away places that are less favour ed with the ministrations of religion Those who are eager for him to come, on the other hand, declare there is as lar a a proportion of irreligion in our cities in many newer regions, and that me like Mr. Hamm and can bring about in few weeks, by exciting a religious awakening, what ordinary church services would take years to accomplish. This question is like many others; there is much to said on both sides of it; but it has to b said on Mr. Hammona's behalf, that he is a wonderful power and success in his chosen specialty. In Brantford, where a few months since he conducted a series of meetings, most of the churches were thrown open to him and the almost unanimous support and active assistance of the local clergy were volunteered in his behalf. The result, as might indeed be expected from such cordial unanimity of effort, was a great religious success. His audiences soon outgrew the largest churches, and the drill shed of the city, prepared for the purpose, was nightly thronged with thousands of people, who certainly manifested an astonishing interest in the movement, All the probabilities are in favour of such a man, heralded with all the prestige of previous successes and supported by the unanimous good will of the local ministers and religious laity. But these favoring conditions are not only conducive they are practical essential to success, and it is very evident from the conflict of not of the cordial kind which would presage success. We should be giad to see Mr. Hammond go to Montreal and improve the manners and morals of the people there, and when he has disposed of this no small task, by all means let him give Kingston the benefit of a call. A may possibly result in the inculcation of that Christian toleration of which "Live and let live" is the motto, and improve, Mr. Hammond's movement can accom-

A Plea For Art.

To the Editor of the British Whig. DEAR SIR, -The establishment of "The Canadian Academy of Arts" marks a new and very important era in the history of art in the Dominion. Though it owes its origin more immediately to the exertions of the Governor-General and the Princees Louise, yet it has been long felt that such an institution had become necessary, and it is therefore cordially supported by leading men in the several Provinces. The new Academy has for its object the encouragement of design as applied to painting, sculpture, architecture, engraving and the industrial arts and the promotion and support of education leading to the production of beau; ful and excellent work in manufactures These objects ought 's attract to the new institution the sympathy and substantial support of all classes. ### MR. BEECHER.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY . CRITICISM.

To the Editor of the British Whig. Sin .- The friends and admirers of Henry Ward Beecher, of whom I frank y avow myself one, would have enough to do if they were to attempt to reply to all the malignant attacks upon him and mierepresentations of his teaching, which are indulged in by a portion of the press of a country, in which he is none the less its greatest living teacher and one of its most powerful influences for good politically, morally and religiously. As such he will be known to posterity long after his malicious detractors and their landers have passed into a deserve obtivion. Only a short time ago a distorted misrepresentation of a pulpit ut terance of Mr. Beecher's went the rounds opinion in Montreal that the feeling is of the press to prove that he was an Universalist, and now I observe, from a quotation given in your last night's issue, that the same game, but to a more int quitous degree, is being played with hi recent criticism on a certain action of the American Bible Society. In my opinion, knowing something of what N. . Beecher really said, and the circumstances under which he said it, the extract given from brief "season" at the Limestone City | the Montgomery Advertiser, so far from showing that that paper "respects rela gion and morality," simply shows that is its Southern dislike of the fearless stid consistent opponent of slavery, it has besides, the tone of public morality. If forgotten to respect common truth and justice. It is not often worth one's while to repudiate misrepresentations of great plish this by all means let a clerical men whose whole lives give the lie to round-robin of invitation be at once ad their slanderers. A movement is being set on foot in future. In the first place, it is hardly necessary to say to any one who knows anything of Mr. Beecher's teaching that he did not and could not have "attacked the Bible, which he holds in as preat reverence as any man living, and whose teachings, his sermous, scattered over the length and breadth of the land, are constantly pressing home to the American people.
