In another letter I will say something of the importance of cultivating Irish industrial resources, and suggest plans which I fear will be somewhat far from what you would expect.

The famine has begun, and if Ireland is to be saved from the miseries of the last famine year, it can only be under the good Providence of God, by the Irish of America, and by such men in your country as will be willing to be counted by the Irish of Ireland.

As large help is going to Galway and Mayo I am most anxious to have help for Kerry and Donegal. At this moment I have sent help to Cahirciveen and Valentia, the worst scenes occurring in the famine.

Other help has been sent which has been acknowledged previously. Boxes of Shamrocks will be sent to all collectors who are in their contributions before the 1st of March.

Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, &c. Every family should have a bottle of Boscawen's CATARH SYRUP. Don't allow for one moment to cough to take hold of your child, your family or yourself.
