Mr. J. H. BATE, Newspaper Advertiser, is authorized to contract for Advertisements in the "British Whig" at our best rates.

The Daily British Whig, TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 6, CITY AND VICINITY.

POOR SHOW.—The market was poor to-day indeed. Veal, eggs and maple sugar were the chief commodities.

THE BOATS.—The "Pierpont" is making regular trips. She goes to Gananoque this evening. The "Geneva" is making trips to Cape Vincent.

PLOWING COMMENCED.—Yesterday morning farming operations were commenced in Loughborough. Mr. Elijah Purdy has commenced plowing below the English Church, Sydenham, with two teams.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' AID SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the ladies of St. Paul's Church, which was to be held on Wednesday at Rev. Mr. Cury's residence, is unavoidably postponed till Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

POLICE COURT.—Margaret Dougherty, an unfortunate servant, was before the Court to-day. Her case was deliberated upon, and it was decided to let her depart. Margaret has left per the great show line for Belleville and points west.

THE GRADY MINE.—Yesterday the iron for the car switch from the K. & P. R. R. to the Grady ore mine left here, which is described as a big bonanza in iron. It has been visited by many persons who are interested in mining operations.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Fred G. Macleer, business manager for Hartman, the renowned yachtsman, was in the city to-day making arrangements for the appearance of that wonderful exponent of the black art, on Tuesday evening, April 13th, at the Opera House.

MUCH SYMPATHY is expressed for the family of Mr. William Ross, hotel keeper, Ontario street, who died this morning. A daughter is very low in health at the time. Mr. Ross being a member of St. John's Lodge, Pittsburg, will be buried with Masonic honors.

MASONIC.—The Deputy Grand Master, R. W. Ho, Walker, paid a visit to Minden Lodge last evening in his new hall, where it is prospering well. He felt satisfied with the work and the zeal of the members, and in turn was well received. Last week he officially visited Cataract Lodge.

OPENING OUT.—Mr. P. C. Creggan, L.D.S., of this city, who recently passed the Dental College with great credit, is about to open practice here, and has selected an office on Princess street, over the store of Mills Brothers. As the son of an old citizen, and being clever at his profession, he should succeed.

CAKE AND RING.—Some time ago a woman put her husband's ring upon the collection plate as a contribution for missionary purposes. Not being disposed otherwise to advantage the ring has been put in a cake, slices of which sell for ten cents each. There are various ways of making money easily. This is one of them.

OWNER FOUND.—The skull that drifted on Garden Island yesterday morning belonged to Mr. George Briggs. On Sunday evening he lent it to two young men to go to the schooner "G. M. Vessel." While they were on board the vessel the boat broke away, not being securely fastened. The young men had to be taken ashore in the yawl belonging to the vessel.

A FINE DISPLAY.—To-day Messrs. Richmond & Boyden had their Spring millinery opened. The visitors were numerous. The rooms were very tastefully decorated. The walls were draped with shawls, silks and parasols presenting an exceedingly handsome and rich appearance. Floral designs were also exhibited. The tables were filled with the noblest styles of the season. The hats and bonnet trimmings were all the work of the ladies engaged in the establishment. This added to its attractiveness. The display is one of the finest that has been made in the city.

EDITORS' TABLE.—"How to shine in Society" is the title of a little book issued by the Toronto News Company. Those who desire to illumine the circle in which they move should purchase a book and carefully study its contents.

MR. S. R. BRIGGS, of the Willard Track Depository, Toronto, has forwarded to us a copy of a reply to Robert Ingersoll by the Hon. G. R. Wending. The gentlemen are both members of the bar, and the theological subjects are discussed in a very logical manner. Those who have a desire to understand the position of Ingersoll and those who are subject to his teachings should procure a copy.

HOME WORK.—Mr. Philip Bagus, of the Kingston Brewery, has a cooper's shop of his own and employs first class workmen in it. They are constantly making barrels, to satisfy his great and growing business in lager and heavier ales. The stock of old and new barrels now on hand in every available storing place shows the vast extent of the Lager trade now to open for the season. Some of the 1,200 gallon puncheons made at Mr. Bagus's are the largest now in Canada, and are fine specimens of workmanship. There is no need of ordering such work outside of Kingston.

A TERRIBLE JOKE.—A terrible joke was perpetrated at the Assize on Saturday. A well known medical gentleman was being examined in the Burrows case and it was remarked that last December had been a disastrous month, no less than five dislocations having occurred upon the streets. One of the legal gentlemen instantly remarked that he "supposed it was because December was a full month." The effect was awful. It is said the shock was so heavy to the witness that he had to sit down. Two jurors were also reported to have nearly fainted. The court afterwards adjourned the effects of the joke being very depressing.

WIND WAFFS.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES AND FROM VARIOUS THEMES.

Large amounts of freight are crossing the river. Princess Street is being cleaned. It needs scraping.

The Assize Court is getting through its business quickly. The "Maud" has been thoroughly renovated. She will be the great excursion boat of the season.

Bajus' Brewery is well prepared for a siege. A great quantity is stored for the opening trade.

Rev. Messrs. Bray and Stevenson, of Montreal, have been lecturing in Montreal in reply to Ingersoll.

Mr. Honora McAvoy, whose death is to-day announced, has been a resident of Kingston for thirty-five years.

Workmen are busily engaged in preparing the ground for Mr. McIntyre's new house on Sydenham street, west.

The Detroit Free Press remarks with a few years more of protection the Canadian marine will go and join their navy.

A party of farmers called at this office to-day settling their affairs prior to leaving for a location in Uclue Sam's territory. N. P.

Somebody dropped a post office key on Wellington street. Some one also found it. It may be claimed at the Writto office. "Save your dollar!"

This evening a banquet will be tendered to Mr. Dennison, Reeve of Portland, at Hartwood's. A number of Kingtonians went out.

Probab: Wind' northly and north-westerly, probably increasing to high to-night, cloudy to partly cloudy cool weather, with occasional snow flurries.

Bajus, of the Kingston Brewery, secured a fine crop of thick ice for his own use—over 1,200 tons. His lager will be cool enough, anyway.

The City Commission is by no means disposed of for the balance of the year. The re-consideration may be stopped, but the introduction of a by-law cannot be prevented.

The Belleville Intelligence is fearful of the mining developments east and west of it may leave that city in the shade. Its citizens cannot wake up to an opportunity until there is something to wake about.

It is understood that the jury was about equally divided for and against the plaintiff in the case of Burrows v. the city. The assessed damages discussed by some would not nearly cover the expenses of the trial.

Mr. Alex. Fraser, of Wolfe Island, one of our most robust sons of the soil, left to-day to settle in Iowa. The exodus for the west in a short time after the completion of Frontenac directories materially.

The Council is agitating for a change of room in which to hold the meetings. The Committee on City Property, in view of the late hours to which the sessions are prolonged, should, if a removal to the Ontario Hall be made, supply each Alderman with a mattress. It's hardly worth while for the Aldermen to go home for sleep after the meetings as now conducted.

Canadian History. In March, 1879, the "Canadian Spectator," of Montreal, offered prizes to those who would give the best answers to about 100 questions in Canadian History. Mr. Henry Miles, jr., of Montreal, was the successful first prizeman, and he, believing that it would be of considerable value to students in Canadian History, has given the questions and answers for publication in book form. Dawson Bros., of Montreal, are the publishers and have the sale. We can confidently recommend it to students of the most rare of all studies in Canada—the history of our own country. Eight prizes were offered, and the first three who were successful are Henry Miles, jr., Montreal, Miss Christina Stuart, Morrisburg, H. B. Stephens, St. Lambert's, P. Q. Many of the questions given and answered were connected with the early history of Canada, which the writers of previous histories have been unable to answer fully and satisfactorily.

Consular Report. During the past three months the exports to the United States have been quite extensive. The Consul, M. W. Twitchell, gives us the figures for the last quarter:

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Value. Includes Barley, Furs, Hogs, Lath, Peas, Phosphate, Rope and Rags, Rye, Sheep and Lambs, Scrap Iron, Varnish.

In Gananoque the exports were $25,114.25; Picton, $16,088.10, and in Napanee $95,965.05. In Napanee the exports from Mill Point and surrounding places have also been added.

SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION.—The public schools were greatly overcrowded to-day. The attendance is gaining each day, as the children who are kept at home during the winter were now filling up the classes. The new room in Cataract School was occupied to-day by the junior second class under Miss English, of Johnson Street School, recruited from the departments managed by Misses Ross and Shields. The Inspector, has endeavored to send as many children as possible to Cataract, but he has failed to relieve Queen Street to any extent. Queen Street School is now more crowded than ever.

SPRING ASSIZES.

THE RIGNEY ROBBERY—AN ALIBI PROVEN—ACQUITTAI OF THE PRISONERS.

Yesterday (Monday) afternoon the Rigney robbery case was tried. On Jan. 24th Mr. Wm. Rigney's store, on Princess Street, was entered about 10:30 o'clock by two young men. While one conversed with Mr. Rigney regarding some brandy, the other picked up and smuggled out a cash-box containing $700 in cash and $200 in notes and cheques.

The latter were recovered, being found by Mr. John Marshall in rear of Muckleston & Co.'s hardware store. The police were notified of the robbery, and on the 25th Mr. Rigney identified two young men whom he believed to be the robbers. They were arrested, brought before the Police Court and committed for trial. Since then they have remained in goal. During the whole of their trial yesterday the prisoners paid strict attention to what was being said by the witnesses and counsel. The Court-room was packed with spectators, who eagerly watched the proceedings.

Mr. McLennan, Q.C., and Mr. T.H. McGuire acted as counsel for the Crown. Private prosecutor, and Mr. McIntyre appeared for the defence.

Mr. Wm. Rigney, Mr. Hickey and Mrs. Hickey were all examined, but nothing new was elicited from them.

For the defence, Thomas Dunn was the first witness called. He stated that he first heard of the robbery on the evening following it. He declared that Gough and Deroche came into his shop, on Wellington street, at 10:05 o'clock on the evening of Jan. 24 to warm themselves. They remained there until after 11 o'clock. Rushford (his delivery boy) also saw them. A boy named Perry spoke to them at 10:45. The cross-examination elicited nothing further. In answer to Mr. McIntyre the witness said he knew one Connolly had an anchor on his hand similar to the one on Deroche's hand.

A. Rushford (Dunn's boy) testified that he saw Gough and Deroche in his employer's shop, when he returned at 10:15 o'clock from W. B. Anglin's, where he had been delivering meat. He left the shop for home at 10:40 o'clock. The prisoners were there.

Chas. Perry, delivery boy for Mr. Harkness, deposed that he had seen Gough and Deroche in Dunn's butcher shop at 10:45 o'clock on the evening of the robbery.

Mr. Gallagher, a cabman, swore that he drove Flynn and Connolly to Gananoque on the Monday after the robbery at Rigney's. He received $10 for driving them there.

Edward Hickey swore that on the 24th of January, at 10:45 o'clock, he saw Dunn close his shop, and afterwards heard him call his dog.

This concluded the evidence, and Mr. McIntyre proceeded to address the jury. He dwelt for considerable length upon the evidence of the three leading witnesses for the defence, contending that the wrong parties had been arrested. Deroche had told Mr. Rigney in the police Court that Flynn and Connolly were the parties, and since then they had cleared out.

Mr. McLennan followed for the Crown, and His Lordship gave a very impartial charge.

The jury retired and returned in a few minutes with a verdict of "not guilty." The audience applauded, but the demonstration of feeling was suppressed by the Sheriff.

Deroche was at once discharged, but Gough was detained to await his trial for the assault upon Geo. Brooks.

QUEEN VS. CHAS. DOYLE. The prisoner was brought into court and His Lordship allowed him to enter a plea of "not guilty" to the indictment of wounding a guard at the Penitentiary at the time of his escape.

QUEEN VS. GOUCH. On the charge of occasioning actual bodily harm, Mr. McIntyre asked that the case be held over until the next Court. His Lordship directed that Gough be admitted to bail, the sureties to be to the satisfaction of the Crown officer.

COVICIS SENTENCE. The three prisoners who escaped from the Penitentiary farm on March 25th were brought into court and asked if they had anything to say why sentence should be passed on them. They had nothing to say. Samuel Winslow was sentenced to nine months' additional imprisonment; Chas. Doyle and William Gow to six months' additional punishment each.

WEAVER VS. TP. OF PITTSBURGH. The plaintiff, Weaver, claims that a certain road running from Kingston to Gananoque was not kept in a proper state of repair, and that on the 10th of Nov. last while he and his wife were driving in a carriage, and using due care, his horse stumbled and fell into an unguarded hole, becoming maimed, injured and unfit for use for a long time. His carriage and harness were destroyed, and he and his wife severely injured. He had been put to great expense in procuring medical attendance, etc. He claimed $500 for the injuries he had received, and for the injury to his wife, horse, harness and carriage. The case is similar to that of Burrows v. City. Mr. B. M. Britton, Q.C., for pl. H. L. Wallbridge and Mr. James Agnew, for defts.

A DISAGREEMENT. The jury in the case of Burrows v. the City, after being locked up for six hours, returned to Court, and the Judge being informed that they could not agree they were dismissed.

THE BAY OF QUINTE.—Navigation is now fully open on the Bay. The schooner "Florence" cleared yesterday from Belleville with ice for St. Catharines, the first vessel out for the season. The schooner "Dr. Andrews" left this morning for Toronto with 10,000 bushels of rye. The schooners "British Queen" and "Mary Foster," with ice and hop-poles for Charlott and St. Catharines, left this afternoon. The first arrival of the season at Belleville was the steamer "Armenia," from Picton. Navigation thus opens nineteen days earlier than last year.

A large party of well-to-do British immigrants passed through Manitoba this morning. The remainder, composed chiefly of farm laborers, readily found employment with different farmers in this Province.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING.

IN CONNECTION WITH THE C. M. CHURCH—ADDRESS OF VISITING CLERGYMEN.

A meeting in connection with the Educational Society of the C. M. Church was held last evening in the Sydenham Street Church. The meeting was opened with singing and prayer by Rev. W. Jackson, after which Mr. J. Treisman was called of the chair. He said that in former years chairmen had been chosen with a view to showing the advantages of a University education, but this year a chairman was chosen as to show the need of a University education. He spoke of the educational fund, and said that the Methodist Church sought by developing the intellectual faculties of the men who entered its ministry to prepare them to grapple with the great burning questions of the day.

After a selection by the choir, Rev. Mr. Garrett, of Lansdowne, spoke. He was glad to be there. There was a great deal in contrast. The organizers of the meeting thought, he supposed, that it would be well to show at once the advantages of a good training on the one hand and the very serious lack of it on the other, as he confessed, that he had taken his first lecture from a University professor that evening at tea. He was glad that notwithstanding the many Methodist funds the educational fund for the past year had been well sustained. There were a great many vague ideas regarding Methodist preachers. They had always been supposed to be an ignorant class of men. He dare say they had been ignorant. Although Methodism was born in a University it began its work in the substratum of society. He spoke of several of the early Methodist preachers, and from those, he said, had grown a succession worthy the Methodists who had declared Christ and him crucified in the face of a persecuting world. Methodism had been, however, the unthoughtful thing that it had been called. Here and there there had been eccentricity, but they were men who were qualified for the trust reposed in them. If a Methodist preacher was true to the spirit of Methodism he was constantly learning, and growing in grace and in culture—or he should be—all the time. It was of the utmost importance that they should have men not only endowed with the Holy Ghost, but who, endowed by the Holy Ghost, had also a good education, though understood the truth, and were able to cope with error and meet the infidel at any time.

After another selection from the choir, Dr. Burwash, of Victoria University, Cobourg, addressed the meeting. He was happy to meet the people of Kingston again. It was many years since he had had the pleasure of addressing an educational meeting in Kingston. He said the total amount raised last year for the purposes of this fund was $6,500. Of this $1,500 were expended in grants to aid young men who were sent by the Conferences to college. Some forty were appointed, and about two-thirds were receiving aid. They had to contribute $200 to the President's salary, and interest and discount amounted to six or seven hundred dollars. When the people were giving to this fund they were not giving to the colleges. The great bulk of it was expended directly for the purpose of providing for the young men who were on trial or probation for the work of the ministry. He spoke of three of the great institutions of their church which might be called their immediate work—the preaching of the gospel, the support of the ministry, and the erection and maintenance of the house of worship. These were things which appealed to them as individuals, but the church was not for the present alone. They had responsibilities and duties to perform, hence they had at the present day three prominent institutions, (1) their Sabbath school work, (2) their missionary work, (3) their educational work. He discussed the first and second and then proceeded to speak of the third. The educational work provided the ministry for the future. The ministry was an institution of Our Lord. Almost before the church was formed provision was made for the ministry. If the church of the future was to exist she must have a ministry as well as a field for that ministry to labour in. He spoke at some length of the requirements of the ministry of the christian church of the future. They wanted men who knew the power of divine grace, and had the influence of the Divine Spirit resting upon them. But in addition to this they should have all the preparation for their work which education could possibly give them. If their children were to be influenced by the preaching to which they listened, they must have a ministry as far in advance of them as the ministry of the past were ahead of their own day. The ministry required thorough knowledge of God's word. He ought to understand at least the New Testament in the original tongue. Another thing which was absolutely necessary was an understanding of the great religious difficulties and doubts which presented themselves in religious thought to-day. A minister who was not prepared to take his people through these doubts was not prepared for his work. He also required to have a clear conception of Christian doctrine. If they were going to save the world they must have clear conceptions of the fundamental truths of christianity. The church of the future required to understand all the mysteries of science out of which all these doubts were arising. With all these qualifications, and the sword of the Spirit, he believed that a glorious victory was theirs, and Methodism was fitted to take a prominent part in this conflict. He concluded by urging them to see that they had a ministry thoroughly equipped for the work that God had for them to do.

When the collection was being taken up the choir sang another selection, after which Dr. Burwash pronounced the benediction.

TURKISH HAREM.—It is reported that the Sultan, though engaged in a great war, found time to order largely of Soudan. He says his women will have it, and he wants peace at home. Wise Sultans; rub it in well after your athletic baths. Let's follow the "Turkeys."
