

ful thunders and rattle of Tuesday—and when night came again, I only prayed for death. By and by I sat up in my easy chair, my senses completely exhausted, when I thought I heard your voice. I looked, and saw you lying under an ambulance, and I thought I heard you say 'I stood upon my feet and called to you—I called loudly. 'Ned! Ned!'—and when you looked up I tried to make you understand where I was. I saw you get up, and then I sank down again, and can remember no more until you and Sergeant Morrell came to me. Oh, Ned! you didn't forget, did you? We can tell Kitty that you remembered her prayer, and saved me!

And he was saved. From there to the station on the river, and finally home, where at the close of the war, I joined him, finding him some of the worst of from the loss of a part of his leg. Of my meeting with Kitty I will not speak. You that have hearts and human emotion can imagine it all. I will only say that the friendship and love of the other years grew deeper and stronger as we grew older.

The Daily British Whig.
SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 8.
The Quebec Chronicle this morning states that A. P. Caron, M.P., will be appointed Minister of Militia in the retirement of the Hon. Mr. Campbell, and that the appointment will be very popular in this district where Mr. Caron is so well and favorably known.

The communications received a severe shock this morning on the rumor gaining circulation that Hon. G. Brown had departed this life. The same report was received in Toronto. It was in fact groundless. The respected Senator still remains in a more critical position. His demise would not be an unexpected occurrence, but it would be a result which would be deeply regretted, and a circumstance which many have despairingly hoped against.

There is a great agitation in Montreal about the toll question. The papers of the metropolis are strongly advocating a free port. It will be surprising if the Government do not yield to the pressure of public opinion. Those who are managing the affairs of this country must see the advisability of doing everything that is reasonable to make the St. Lawrence route popular and profitable. A good beginning would be made were the harbor dues of Montreal either modified or abolished.

Mr. Watt, agent of the Allan line of steamers at Montreal, says the Government's National Policy has been a great drawback to the shipping trade of that port. As the claims of the commercial community are based upon what they consider to be justice only the feeling against the Government is strong. The Montreal Gazette attempts to break the force of this blow and mislead the public by intimating that politics has something to do with the agitation against the N.P. in commercial circles of that city. As a Belleville contemporary remarks this plea, however, goes for nothing when we find that those who head the agitation are Conservatives, and they declare the tariff is at the bottom of all their trouble. This class gave Sir John Macdonald his majority in September, 1878, and they will defend him when they get the chance. The feeling is not confined to the commercial circles of Montreal—it is general over the country.

If the Herald is to be valued at all it is for what the public are led to believe is an official and reliable report of the proceedings of Parliament. We are surprised the post—now in which the Herald indulged some time ago when it was alleged that the fracas between the Hon. D. A. Smith and Sir John Macdonald, at the close of a session, was not given by the official reporters as it was contended it should have been. Now as it is said to be the intention of the Government to suppress the row in the Senate between Sir Alexander Campbell and Hon. Mr. Alexander. If these gentlemen disgrace the House and themselves the Herald men should not be expected to shield them. In fact if the debate is not given as it occurred it will be open to serious attack. If the Herald is to be used as a party organ it should be abolished as the cause of a useless expenditure of public money.

The session of Parliament which closed yesterday has not been attended with satisfactory results. That the Government has been sustained by a large majority, kept together by persistent whipping, may please the Party party, but that the general legislation has been of advantage to the country is quite another thing. The most important measures have been forced through the House without consideration; indeed, some bills were apparently purposely kept back until the last moment as a means of choking off the discussion which they should have received. The general policy of the Government is open to objection, doubly so when an opportunity is not permitted for equity into schemes which mean heavy taxation and great injury to the country. The work of the House of Commons has not been such as should be expected, much of three months having been spent to no purpose, largely on account of the backward condition of the public business as prepared by the Government.

We hope to see the suggestions of Hon. Mr. Blake bearing fruit, and that the record of next session will not be open to similar criticism.

It would appear that the Land Leaguers of Ireland intend to relax none of their efforts to promulgate their views in the old world and in the new. To elect as many of their men as possible to the British Parliament was, of course, their first care, and to this end they did their best to inflame the Irish popular mind with a sense of the landlord injustice. But though they succeeded in many cases, their total success was not equal to their sanguine expectations, and they immediately resorted to the work of agitation and organization. For this purpose American David Davis sails for New York, to assist in America the efforts of Dillon and others to work up sympathy and fanaticism from American Irishmen.

Simultaneously from the work of agitation has resumed in Ireland, doubts with the intention of the Communicative ideas of the landlords and peasant parting in their room and a constant protest against this system will be realized, but they will prosecute the movement as to influence Imperial legislation in its general direction of Irish grievances, that of the land laws among the rest.

To this Bill the Royal assent was signified.
After which the Governor General closed the Second Session of the Fourth Parliament with the following SPEECH.
HONORABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE, GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS:—
In relieving you from your attendance in Parliament, I desire to offer my thanks for the care and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the performance of your important duties. The evidence of a recovery from the long continued state of depression to which I alluded at the opening of the session are, I am glad to believe, steadily accumulating, and we may, I trust, look forward with some confidence to a prosperous year.
The measures relating to banking and the currency and to the amendment of the Tariff, with the other laws passed this session will, I hope, aid in the promotion of the anticipated prosperity.
The expectations of a large immigration of valuable settlers into the North-West in which I then ventured to indulge, appear from the latest information to be fully realized.
The laws for the better organization of the North-West Territories, for the amendment of the Dominion Lands Act and for the more efficient management of Indian affairs must tend greatly to the advantage of that vast and interesting region.
The measure for the consolidation of the laws concerning the Inland Revenue and the other important Acts relating to the public interests seem well adapted to promote those interests.
GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS:—
I thank you in Her Majesty's name for the supplies you have so liberally voted.
I trust that the vigorous efforts made to settle the Indian lands of the North-West on their Reserves will diminish in the future calls made on the public Treasury for aid to save them from starvation.
HONORABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE: GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS:—
The appropriations made will enable my Government steadily to prosecute the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway and to hasten the completion of our Canal system.
I thank you for the aid which I desire to express my earnest desire for your happiness and prosperity in your several homes.
—The petition against the return of Mr. Gauthier, as M.P. for Charlevoix, has been dismissed with costs.

Royal Visit—Contract Work—Press Chances—Returning Mechanics.
Ottawa, May 8.—The Governor-General and the Princess Louise, accompanied by the Dean of Chester and Captain Callias, paid an informal visit to the Normal School. They were received by Principal MacCabe, who showed the distinguished visitors through the institution.
It was reported last night that in a row in a lower town house on Thursday night a child had been killed. Upon investigation it was learned that the child had died from natural causes.
Messrs O'Connor, Cassidy and Baskerville leave on Monday next to commence work on their contract on the St Ann's locks.
At a meeting of the press gallery yesterday afternoon a vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Mr. Speaker Brabant for the winding up of "La Banque Ville-Marie."
A Committee, composed of Messrs. M. J. Griffin, C. Ryan, T. J. Hawk and W. J. Cusener, was appointed to look after the improvements in the city during the session. An interesting cricket match is in progress to-day at Eidean Hall grounds, between an old country team, captained by the Governor-General, and a Canadian eleven.
Nearly all of those who left here to work on the Rockaway Beach hotel are disappointed and already have returned to Ottawa. The remainder of the Ottawa contingent intend leaving shortly for the west coast. The contractor refused to allow them to remove their tools.

THE GLADSTONE MINISTRY.
Re-Election of Eight of the Members—Speech of Mr. Henry Fawcett on the Afghan War Defeat.
London, May 7.—Eight members-elect of the House of Commons, appointed by the Ministry, have been re-elected without opposition. Mr. Herbert Gladstone, Liberal, son of the Premier, who stood for Middlesex at the recent election, will to-morrow be elected without opposition for Leeds, to fill the vacancy caused by his father electing to sit for Midlothian. Mr. Henry Fawcett, Postmaster-General, standing in the constituency of Hackney for re-election, said one of the first duties of the new Government will be to investigate the financial condition of India. He believed it would be shown that the Government had done nothing in the last Parliament, on his motion in favour of England contributing a portion of the Afghan war expenses, a telegram was received from India casting the blame for the delay during the debate on destroying the budget surplus. This matter, he said, must be closely, searchingly investigated. Those guilty of negligence and incompetency—he would not use stronger words—would be promptly and peremptorily called to account. India must now be placed in defraying the cost of the Afghan war, not as a matter of justice but of necessity.

SENATOR BROWN.
Hopes Abandoned—Death Expected Momentarily.
Mr. Brown had another turn for the worse yesterday and gradually sank, until at 3 o'clock this morning his death was expected at any minute.—
We give it as our opinion that the hopes entertained last week that Mr. Brown's strength has been frustrated by the experience of yesterday. He became less vigorous and weaker during the day, and the medical report in the evening was the most unfavorable that has yet been given.—
Toronto, May 8.—7:30 a.m.—Hon. Mr. Brown is still alive, but there is no hope of his recovery.
Toronto, May 8.—9:30 a.m.—Mr. Brown is very weak and sinking fast.
Toronto, May 8.—9:30 a.m.—The rumor that Senator Brown died early this morning, is incorrect. He is still living but very low and sinking fast.
Toronto, May 8.—9:30 a.m.—Hon. Mr. Brown is still alive, but there is no hope of his recovery.
