FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 14. CITY AND VICINITY.

COME to the City Fruit Store and have Philadelphia Ice cream to-morrow.

A nice lot of hanging baskets, rustic stumps, pansies, colons and other pot plants will arrive at the Mart to-morrow.

PROS.—Lakes, fresh to brist north easterly to south easterly winds, clear to partly cloudy weather, stationary or slightly higher temperature.

A WIFE BEATER.—John North, a wife beater from Aylmer, arrived this morning on a three years' visit to the Penitentiary. He lodged in the police cells over night.

A TRAVELING CADDY.—This morning Trant Officer Phippen took to the police station a lad who for some time had been playing truant and conducting himself in an improper manner.

CATTLE SHIPMENT.—Mr. E. R. Rea, of this city, on Wednesday night shipped for the Liverpool market 800 sheep and 150 head of cattle. They were to be sent by the steamer 'Montreal'.

EVERYTHING families require in groceries and provisions can be got at the Golden Lion Grocery without going elsewhere, and you save the intermediate profit that must exist between the wholesale and retail dealer, as Mr. Rea imports direct. Goods will be delivered promptly, as two delivery wagons are now run.

FITTING CARTOON.—Grip lays aside his cap and bells this week, and engages in the universal expressions of regret at the untimely death of George Brown. His principal cartoon shows two sorrowing maidens in the act of laying upon his tomb the white flower of a blameless life. The little paper (in mourning) devotes much of its space to a tribute to the deceased statesman.

A CRAFTY CIRCULAR.—The Toronto agents of the Atchafon, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad are ingeniously publishing extracts from what they rightly consider Mr. Blake's famous speech in the House of Commons recently upon the Canada Pacific Railway. Mr. Blake could not help alluding to the growth of Kansas and the increase of Canada's debt, which subjects are dealt upon in the crafty emigration circular.

IMMIGRANTS' ARRIVAL.—Yesterday about a dozen farm labourers who had been passengers by the 'Sarmatian,' arrived here and found accommodation at the Immigration building. To-day most of them were placed by Mr. R. Macpherson. About the same number of immigrants, and a few female domestics per 'Moravian' are expected here to-day. The arrival of these people is somewhat later than usual, but the demand for them is very good.

CRICKET CLUB.—A meeting of the Kingston Cricket Club was held at the British American Hotel last night when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President.—Capt. S. C. McGill. Vice President.—Geo. Drummond. Secretary.—Transeau. J. H. Betts. Committee.—W. Carruthers, C. F. Smith, J. Birken, H. C. Kennedy, J. P. Gilder, J. B. Walker, R. M. Mowat, A. Jones, J. Galloway, W. Glidden, F. Ireland.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A correspondent of the Water Town Times states that while Oliver Strong and Wm. Robinson, of Cape Vincent, were in a small boat off the head of Carleton Island, Monday evening, the boat foundered. The men paddled around in the water about three-quarters of an hour, aided by the oars and the partially sunken boat, and were finally rescued by the schooner 'L. B. Smeon,' which was passing. The boat was picked up on Tuesday, damaged but not entirely ruined.

HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.—Last evening a meeting of the Directors of the House of Industry was held in the Council Chamber. It was called for the purpose of taking the financial affairs of the institution into consideration. Various things were suggested during the evening, but the only change deemed possible was the reduction of the salary of the Superintendent from $400 to $300. The City Council is expected to give a grant, and it will not be too much to expect the County Council to do the same.

'WORSEY YOURS MEN'—The Water Town Dispatch give our despatches a greeting to this effect: Within the last year several fine-looking, healthy and handsome young men have reached this city from Canada, who from their manner and bearing, we opine have been in the military service on the other side. Indeed it is said that the rigidity, not to say unnecessary severity, of the discipline in the Dominion service has driven many worthy young men to this side. All those whom we have seen here have been manly and well behaved, and will make good citizens.

THE PYRAMIDS.—Mr. C. F. Fraser, Superintendent of the Institution for the blind, Halifax, purposes visiting Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, and several other cities westward during the ensuing summer to deliver his famous lectures on the above subject when satisfactory arrangements can be made. A prominent Lower Province paper says: "What a blind man can do is well illustrated in the case of Mr. Fraser. His lecture on the Pyramid is a fine effort of natural eloquence, and we have the greatest admiration of the success with which he brings it before the public."

TEACHERS IN SESSION.

DISCUSSION FOR A METAL BENEFIT—MEANS TO SECURE—SERIES OF LECTURES AND ESSAYS.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the Fall session of the County of Frontenac Teachers' Association opened in the Division Court Room. In the absence of the President (Prof. N. F. Dupuis) the chair was filled by Dr. Agnew. The attendance of members of the Association was large. As the day was allowed for visiting purposes the schools were closed. The teachers deserve the vacation. The K. & P. R. issued half fare tickets.

The Secretary, Mr. Henstridge, Portsmouth, read the minutes of the last session, which were adopted.

After some business the Association adjourned until 1.30 o'clock.

AFTER-NOON MEETING.

In the afternoon the first paper was presented, "How to teach the First Book." Mr. N. Melnyre, of Cataract, opened the discussion. He dwelt upon the alphabetic, phonic, phonetic and "look and say" systems, which are at present in vogue. He contended that the last named system was the one most advantageous for learning the young to read.

A discussion followed. It was participated in by Messrs. Henstridge, of Portsmouth, and Bois, of Garden Island.

In the absence of Mr. Bamford, who had promised a sketch of Mr. Alcott's School, Boston, a short intermission occurred, during which the teachers prepared material for the question drawn.

At 3 o'clock Dr. Dupuis lectured on "School Hygiene," a subject on which he is thoroughly posted. A great deal of useful information was given by the Dr. who impressed upon his hearers the importance of an extended knowledge of what pertains to healthful living. The lecturer was warmly thanked for his service. He was also unanimously elected a member of the Association.

Mr. Sumnerby read an essay on the "Common improprieties of speech." He began by saying that teachers should, in speech as well as in everything else, be models for their pupils. The only way to attain excellence in this or any other subject is by practice and the study of the best models. By practice and attention to style all great writers and speakers have acquired their wonderful command of language. Lord Chesterfield would not deliver the commonest order to a servant "but in the best language he could find and with the best utterance." Dr. Johnson told Boswell that he had so long been accustomed to clothe his thoughts in the fittest words he could command, that thus a vivid and exact phraseology had become habitual. He then proceeded to notice a few of the ordinary mistakes in every day speech. Many of his examples were from the schoolroom, others from newspapers, and others from writers such as Dean Alford and Dr. Matthews. After spending some time in discussing a great variety of these improprieties, he closed by reading the following extract from an American newspaper.

"Is 'twould' a better word than 'expressed,' or 'donate' than 'give,' or 'commence' than 'begin'! We have no wish to coach upon Mr. Grant White's proverbs, nor have we quarrels with him, but we are very sure that he nor any other lover of pure and simple English would say this. Daniel Webster voiced his views upon the subject, or that he had done so, to Mr. Peter Barre, who would be commended to reply to Mr. Hayne at one o'clock. Mr. Webster stated, or gave, or expressed his opinions, he did not voice them, and he gave a tangent, and he began to reply. It is not more intelligible, nor expressive, nor elegant nor simple to say 'voiced' instead of 'express, or donate' instead of 'give.' We make the protest because it ought to be made. The abuse is creeping in like a tide, and even excellent speakers and writers are yielding to the current. With our friends of the dairy interest, of whom we speak elsewhere, let us insist that oleomargarine is oleomargarine, and butter, butter. If we mean give, let us say give, and not donate, and if we have views to express let us express them and not voice them, or even commence to voice them. If the father who warned his son not to indulge in oculatory blandishments with young persons of the opposite sex had said, 'Don't kiss the girl, he would have spoken much more intelligently, simply, forcibly and elegantly."

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

On Friday morning at 9 o'clock the session again opened. The first address was made by Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., upon the "Cultivation of the memory." The law of repetition was a great factor in every system of education and should never be dispensed with. The memory could be cultivated as the athlete cultivated his muscle.

Mr. D. Rebb, of Pittsburgh, followed with a capital paper upon "Practical Arithmetic."

Mr. Bois, of Garden Island, read a paper upon the trials of teachers while engaged in his arduous school labor. He contended that a teacher's position should be as permanent as possible.

All the papers were more or less discussed.

The "question drawer" was opened and the queries it contained were answered by members of the Association. One question asked if it would be proper to have the midsummer vacation extended. Mr. Melnyre answered the question, holding that common school teachers had plenty of vacations, and had no reason to complain.

The Association adjourned until 1.30 o'clock.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Moved by D. Robb, seconded by Mr. Orser, that the officers and Committee be the same as they were last year, with the addition of Miss McConville, deceased, instead of that of Mr. O'Brien, deceased, thus:

President.—Prof. N. F. Dupuis. Vice-President.—Dr. Agnew. Secretary.—Mr. Henstridge. Committee.—Miss Emma Irvine, Miss McConville, Mrs. Campbell, and Messrs. Melnyre and Bois.

The next meeting will be held on the last Thursday and Friday in October.

SENTENCED.—Andrew Morrison was arraigned before Judge Price yesterday afternoon for larceny. He pleaded "not guilty." The evidence of Mr. Reuben Brown, of Portenvidence, and Constable Floody was taken. After the addresses of counsel Morrison was sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment. The Judge was of the opinion that Morrison did not fully commit the theft, but being drunk did not know what he was about.

POLICE COURT.—William Campbell, who assisted in the erection of the marble tower, was charged with vagrancy. He was dismissed. John Barton, drunk, was fined $2 or 10 days. Peter Toland had a Barrie street woman before the court for allowing her cows to run on the street contrary to law. The defendant was fined 50c and costs.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' SCHOOL.

THE EXAMINATION OF ADVANCED PUPILS—VARIED PROGRAMME—WORK OF THE SCHOLARS EXEMPLIFIED.

Yesterday the examination at the Brothers' School continued at 2 p.m. The first section of the First Class took the first and answered a running series of questions by several examiners upon Spelling and Derivation, Analysis, Parsing and Scanning, English Literature, Astronomical Geography, Arithmetic, Exchange, Square Root, Cube Root, Mensuration and Linear Drawing, the latter by means of the black board. The pupils showed great attitude in the above branches, very few mistakes being made. The answers were promptly made, which was evidence of a pretty thorough acquaintance with the subjects. The boys were severely tested in Analysis, Parsing and Scanning. In the latter different kinds of verses were placed upon the black-board and divided into feet, and the pupils exercised in the four kinds of verse, Iambic, Trochaic, Anapaestic and Dactylic. This was a new feature in the Grammar examination and proved highly interesting. In Arithmetic and Mensuration the examination was very severe, conducted by means of diagrams and blocks by which means the pupils were able to display a thorough practical knowledge of the branches.

M. Brennan read with much ease and correctness an essay on "Early Rising." W. Corrigan's essay, entitled "A good name," was also very good. The essay by F. Crimmins, "Scene after a battle," was a cleverly written one, but not delivered in so finished a style as will probably mark his future efforts. The dialogue, called the "Pernicious Book," rendered by W. Cunningham, M. Brennan, P. O'Neill and Jas. Crowley was very well done. The plot of the piece is full of wholesome matter, and shows forth the necessity of keeping aloof from literature of a doubtful kind. An essay by E. Mullin, called "A week's sport among the Thousand Islands," was exceedingly good. The adventures of Master Mullin were no less thrilling than amusing, and the way he told his story, proved beyond doubt, that he will, should occasion require, in time, be quite capable of writing up stirring scenes in the great North-West, should he take a notion to tramp through that extensive region. The essay, "The scholar's aim," by W. O'Reilly, was a very good one. The subject was full of important points in connection with the duties of the scholars. It touched particularly upon the necessity of earnest study on the part of the young, who should strive to maintain a esprit de corps in their school and learn to study for the love of it and the honors it will bring them, not only now but in after life. The examination of this section and the whole concludes to-day.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

THE SEMINAR TO MINISTERS—ADVISORY COMMITTEES—MODERN SCEPTICISM—TWO LECTURES, ETC.

When the Conference resumed yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, Rev. Mr. Blair, of Iroquois, preached the annual sermon. He selected as his text II Timothy, 1:15—"Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Three leading thoughts were advanced—first the spiritual preparation necessary for the ministry; second, the intellect; third, the technical or special qualification for a special calling. The work of the ministry was pointedly reviewed and practical suggestions advanced for consideration. The Conference took up the question of the Advisory Committee, and ordered that it be decided by ballot. The result of the election was as follows:

Pictou District—J. S. Bell, J. P. Wilson.

Ottawa District—W. Scriver, T. W. Mavey.

Kingston District—H. Williams, W. Brown.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. H. Lane, and the Conference adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

At 8 o'clock in the evening a meeting was held at which modern scepticism was discussed. The chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Jacques, President of Albert College, Belleville. On the platform with him were Rev. Mr. Wilson (one of the fathers of the Conference) and Prof. Mowat. The 90th hymn having been sung, and prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Wilson, the choir sang a selection very nicely.

The Chairman referred to the special object of the meeting. He experienced the greater pleasure in introducing the speaker of the evening on being reminded that both had been graduates of the University with which he was connected, that they had not only been undergraduates but had taken higher degrees, as high as could be conferred by any University in the Dominion. He took the special occasion to urge upon young men who contemplated a college course the desirability of taking the higher courses, not only for the name which was something, but for the strength it afforded them in discussing of questions of the nature of the present.

Dr. Aylworth, after speaking of the cool reception that had been accorded to Col. Ingersoll in Canada, entered upon a consideration of his theme, "Evangelical Rationalism." In setting out his main reference to the peculiarities of some men, who, while professing Christians and preachers of the gospel, are spreading infidelity from their pulpits. He quoted the names of prominent men in the past, as the Rationalists.
