CITY AND VICINITY.

Come to the City Fruit Store and have Philadelphia ice cream to-morrow.

ASSEMBLY.—There will be an Assembly in the St. Patrick's Hall on the evening of the Queen's Birthday. Reilly & Mee's quartette band will furnish the music.

SALE OF HOUSE.—This morning the Sampson property, King street, was sold by Mr. Hutcheson (privately) to Mr. K. C. Carter, for $4,500. He intends erecting a handsome residence.

PIRATES OF PEARL.—The performance of this opera on Monday and Tuesday evenings will be a great success if the audience appreciate it as in other places. The music generally is very fine.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.—Rev. Mr. Peacock, pastor of the Bethel Congregational Church, has been given a two months' leave of absence, and leaves for Almonte. Rev. Mr. Saer, of Montreal, will act as pastor during Mr. Peacock's absence.

EXCURSION NORTH.—The Presbyterian excursion along the line K. & P. Railroad, to the Mississippi and the new iron mine, will be the chief attraction on the Queen's Birthday. Train leaves Kingston at 7 a.m., calling at all stations. Round trip 75 cents.

SUNDAYS NOT COUNTED.—The general militia orders for the year 1880, state that Sundays will not be regarded as a day during the annual drill as formerly, but that the number of days must be made up exclusive of Sundays. This is a good act on the part of the Government.

ROYAL MAIL LINE.—Commencing on Tuesday, the 18th, the steamers of the above line will leave Kingston for Montreal at 5 a.m. instead of 5.30, making sure connections at Quebec next morning with steamers for the Lower St. Lawrence and with the Intercolonial Railroad.

"A TRAMP ABOARD."—From the pen of Mark Twain, is one of the most mirth provoking books we have read for some time. It was formerly published at $2.00 per volume, but J. Ross Robertson has had it published in such a form that it can now be purchased for 30c at Stacey & Walpole's.

PERSONAL.—Lord Colin Campbell and his party passed down the river this morning on the Str. "Algerian," for Quebec, where he meets his brother and sister-in-law on the 19th inst.—The Dean of Chester, who was lately the guest of H. R. H. the Princess Louise, was also a passenger for Montreal on the Steamer "Algerian."

MORE OFFENCES.—Alexander Morrison, now serving a sentence in the goal for stealing, at Perthmouth, will be tried as soon as released, for appropriating two coats and sundry other things belonging to Messrs J. Friendship and George Bolland. All the larcenies were committed on the same night.

POLICE COURT.—M. Porell, for drunkenness, was fined $1 and cost. J. Hunter, whose conduct betokens a touch of lunacy, was arrested this morning in the act of taking down the shutters of Mr. Waldron's store. After his discharge he went to the Kennedy House where he became annoying and was again taken into custody.

VISITING THE CONFERENCE.—Rev. Dr. Jacques, President, Rev. A. Campbell, Agent, and Rev. J. O. Robinson, Bursar, of Albert College and members of the Ontario Conference have been visiting the Bay of Quinte Conference in session here. This morning Rev. Messrs. Galbraith, Crozier, and Jackson were introduced in the usual manner.

"THE UNION JACK."—Such is the name of a new monthly published in London, (Eng.) and for sale by Mr. J. Henderson. It is essentially a boy's favourite, containing as it does so much reading that is pleasant and suitable to them. The specimen number before us is profusely illustrated and has generally the appearance of a work which must rapidly increase in popularity.

OFFICERS' BALL.—Last evening the officers of Battery "A" gave a farewell assembly at the Telo de Pont Barracks to their Kingston friends. There was a large representation of the citizens and their families, and a very pleasant night was spent. The Battery band played a delightful programme. The officers of Battery "B" will have to entertain royally to excel the present occupants of the Barracks.

LINDSAY VS NAPANESE BREWERY CO.—The whole of yesterday was taken up by an arbitration between Mr. Lindsay, of Perthmouth, and the Napaneese Brew Company regarding the right of the latter to manufacture a patent bottle. Mr. G. M. Macdonnell was the arbitrator. Mr. R. T. Valdez appeared for Mr. Lindsay and Mr. D. H. Preston for Napaneese for the Company. The case closed at 8.30 o'clock last evening. Judgment reserved.

WIND WAFFS.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES AND ON VARIOUS THEMES.—Venner is not so far wrong about the weather of this month after all.

—Mr. D. F. Armstrong has opened a branch boot and shoe store in Perth.

—The Officers of "A" Battery had a ball last evening. It was largely attended.

—Mr. Theo. Paddon has returned after a sailing trip to England and South Africa.

—Probs: Light to moderate, variable winds, generally clear and warmer weather.

—The offertory to-morrow, Anglican Churches, will be for the Mission Fund of the diocese.

—Rev. Mr. McQuig will preach to-morrow to Rev. Mr. Chamber's parishners at Sunbury.

—The market to-day was exceedingly large. All kinds of 'garden peas' was displayed in abundance.

—The Gananoque Battery band entertained Mr. Rackett at a complimentary supper on Thursday evening.

—This morning a cow belonging to Mr. John Smith, valued at $40, was killed on the K. & P. R. R. track.

—The Synod of the Church of England for the Diocese of Ontario is to meet in Kingston on Tuesday the 15th of June next.

—Capt. O'Brien, of Wolfe Island, was fined a small sum by Mr. Brown, J.P. for assaulting Peter Cassidy, of the Island.

—The officers of Battery "A" have engaged Bandmaster Vill from Guelph. Mr. Rackett will receive his discharge about Monday next.

—The "Gleaner," with 20,760 bushels corn, "Grimsby," 19,900 bushels corn, and the prop. "Clinton," 17,000 bushels corn, from Chicago, arrived here last evening.

—Rev. F. W. Dobbs, of Portsmouth, has been elected by the S. S. Association of Canada, a delegate to the centenary anniversary of the establishment of Sabbath Schools in England.

—The Picton Gazette states that Mr. Abercrombie does not take charge of the mails on the P. E. R. R., but enters the Inspector's office in this city. He will be promoted when a vacancy occurs.

—Gunner Warmington did not desert from "A" Battery as the News reported. He visited his sister who was very ill, and returned to the Barracks last Thursday. He asked for his discharge some time ago, but it has not as yet been granted.

—We believe that the millers of Wolfe Island fame were at the G. T. R. station on Sunday morning last seeking another miller, but, as on all other occasions, failing to secure a man they are still doing their own grinding down at the barracks.

—Ballou's Monthly "Magazine" for June is a good number—a marvel of cheapness considering the solid, entertaining matter contained in it. No better novelettes appear than those in Ballou's. It ought to abolish or improve its "funny" cuts, however.

—When there are so many clerks in the Post Office the mails should be distributed quicker. The American mail that arrives here generally at 12.45 o'clock is hardly ever distributed until after 2 o'clock. There is nothing to complain of in regard to the G. T. R. postal matter.

—Mrs. F. S. McGillivray, of Kingston, and Miss Mary E. Staebler are announced to have passed the medical matriculation examination held at Toronto recently. Both these ladies are attending the College here. Mr. W. G. Anglin and T. A. Moore passed at the same time.

Evangelistic.

The meeting in the Y. M. C. A. room last night was addressed by Rev. E. G. W. Hall from Acts 1-8. He dwelt very largely upon the need of the power referred to in the text. If we would be fitted to be useful in the Lord's service it was not authority merely we needed. We might be clothed with authority and yet not have real power. What we needed was power, energy and ability to do God's work. The blessing was promised, and would be enjoyed by those who waited upon God for it and were willing to use the gift in His service, and for His glory. Mr. Mackay intimated that the meetings would be suspended during the sittings of the Methodist Conference, and resumed next Tuesday evening. There will be a meeting on Sunday evening in the same place at 8.15, when addresses will be given by Rev. Mr. Hall and others.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' SCHOOL.

EXAMINATION CONCLUDED—REVIEW OF SUBJECTS—COMPLIMENTARY SPEECH.

The closing examinations of this school took place yesterday. The first section of the First Class again occupied the platform. Exercises in the different styles of Rhetoric were first given, in which, proficiency was noticeable. History of the Crusades and Chivalry, Physical Geography, Exercise and Application Copies, Algebra, Book-keeping and Geometry formed the subjects of the examination, in which the pupils exhibited a wonderful degree of knowledge without any taint of superficiality. The examination in Book-keeping was a particular feature of the occasion. "Brother Halward's method of imparting instruction in this important branch has been productive of the best results. His course of teaching tends to prepare the pupils to meet the difficulties in closing a set of books. In the matter of foreign exchange, which often puzzles the book-keeper, explanations were given by means of blackboard diagrams concerning the relations subsisting between the principals and their agents, which was at once comprehensive. In this branch Brother Halward has been ably assisted by Brother Jerome. The essay on "Diamonds," by Jas. Brady, was very fairly rendered. The essay on "Memory," by C. Lyons, was admirably written and well delivered. The essay on "Columbus" was very good though the reading of it was rather hurried. He will improve. The essay by Patrick Lawless entitled "The Irish Character," was very good. James Power's essay, "Encountering a Burglar," was nicely written. The dialogue, "Grammar made interesting," by P. Lawless, contained a large amount of information in a small space. The pupils were thoroughly tested in Geometry.

A number of pencil and crayon drawings were shown, also a few colored sketches. These only compose a few out of a large number of less important drawings made by the pupils during the year. Some of the drawings are exceedingly good, particularly the "Eco Homo," "The Blessed Virgin and Child," and several ornamented drawings. Brother Jerome has been assisted in this branch by Mr. Arthur W. Moore.

The Rev. Father Twohey made a speech at the close of the examination. He said he was surprised beyond measure at the results of the present examination. It spoke volumes for the ability of the teachers and the general management of the school.

Child Desertion.

This morning there was quite a flutter at the police station over the propagation of the pretty babe which had been left at the door of an Alderman living on Wellington Street. About 5.40 o'clock this morning a citizen informed Sergeant Nugent that an infant was lying at the door in question. The Sergeant found it as described. He carried it tenderly to the police station. The babe was very neatly dressed in long white swaddling clothes. It was wrapped in a striped shawl and other goods of a lighter texture. A sucking bottle and a cannie handkerchief were found. In one corner of the latter was the name of a person, which is supposed for obvious reasons. At the station a leaves was held. The child reclined gracefully upon the guard-bench. Those who desired to view the little innocent were taken in hand by the Sergeant Major. The City Fathers, to the number of five or six, were present. The child is probably six weeks old. Some warm milk was procured, to which the babe took kindly. The mother is being looked for. She is at present unknown, but such may not be the case very long.

The Parlor Stripped.

Mr. Stephen Burke lives on Upper Bagot street. He is a widower, and the father of quite a family. His oldest daughter, aged 18, had conducted his domestic affairs. Latterly reports had been current to the effect that Burke contemplated wedlock. His daughter, hearing that, naturally became incensed and prepared for an immediate dissolution of partnership. Her father talked to her regarding the unwelcome rumors and desired that she should not believe him for yesterday afternoon, while Burke was absent in the discharge of duty, the young woman cleared the parlor of its fixings—pictures and knick knacks too numerous to mention. When Burke returned he found the house pretty well clean out. He immediately set to work to find the daughter's whereabouts but as yet he has not succeeded. He was at the police court this morning soliciting the assistance of the head officers. He appeared to be in a most unhappy state of mind.

In Memoriam.

We regret the sudden demise of Miss Ella Jane, eldest daughter of Rev. T. S. Chambers, of Sunbury, which occurred at the residence of Mrs. Farrell, Alfred street, last night. For some time she had been living in the city studying music under Dr. Davies. A week ago today she visited her father's home at Sunbury. She complained somewhat of a cold. On Monday she returned to Kingston, and on Wednesday her illness necessitated the attendance of Dr. Lavell. She appeared to be progressing favorably to a complete recovery, but there was a relapse last evening which resulted in her death. Her father, who yesterday returned from the synod which had met in Toronto, called upon her, and finding her cheerful left for home, intending to return to the city today with his wife that the latter might nurse the invalid. Alas! the sorrow of that meeting. Miss Chambers was a very amiable and clever young lady, who had but recently graduated from the Ottawa Ladies' College. Her funeral occurs on Monday, and deep will be the sorrow of many friends that such should be the close of a life so well begun. The parents of the deceased will be sympathized with in their bereavement.

Information has been received of the sudden demise at Toronto of Rev. Mr. Stannage, of Kempsville. The deceased was highly respected and held a prominent position in the Diocese of Ontario. We are without any particulars respecting his death.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

WORK OF THE YEAR—OBITUARY REPORT—EXERCISES—COLLEGE REPORT.

On resuming at two o'clock yesterday the Conference proceeded with the passing of ministerial character.

The Rev. W. H. Graham gave a review of the work in his district. Altogether this had been a prosperous year. College moneys were well paid up though he feared that there would be little or no increase in Church members in his district.

ALBERT UNIVERSITY.

Rev. Dr. Jacques, of Albert University, was introduced, and made a brief address upon the work of Albert College.

At the conclusion of the address it was moved by Rev. E. F. Austin, seconded by Rev. W. A. Phillips, "That we as a Conference express our hearty appreciation of the address just delivered by the Rev. Dr. Jacques, and pledge to him our hearty sympathy and active co-operation in his responsible position as President of Albert College."

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

Moved by Rev. F. Stratton, seconded by Rev. I. R. Aylesworth, that it be with feelings of deep sorrow that we have heard of the great loss sustained by our beloved brother, Rev. Dr. Jacques, President of Albert College, in the death of his most estimable wife, a lady who has endeavored herself to us by her personal efforts, piety and otherwise, for the promotion of the great enterprise in connection with our entire Church; and we hereby tender him our sympathy in his great affliction, and pray that at last we may all be gathered with loved ones gone to a grand reunion above. Carried.

LATE HON. GEORGE BROWN.

Moved by the Rev. J. Sills, seconded by Rev. E. F. Austin.

That we as a Conference would record our deep sense of the loss sustained by this Dominion in the lamented death of the late Hon. George Brown, and would express our gratitude for the past services of this great statesman in building up our nationality and liberties; that his energy and success as a journalist, his worth as a member of civil society, and his unflinching advocacy of what he believed to be for the best interests of the country will ever live in the memory of all classes of our citizens; that we would express our deep sympathy with his bereaved widow and family, commending them to the favour of a kind Saviour, and praying for their happy reunion with the departed in a better world.

CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

Last evening the annual meeting of the Church Extension Society was held. It was presided over by Rev. Mr. Campbell. The attendance was very good. The attention of the audience was unflagging.

Rev. Mr. Graham led in singing and prayer.

The Chairman briefly described the aims and objects of the Society, which endeavored to fulfil the commission of God in spreading the gospel. Just now the work of the Society was in embryo, but twenty-five years later, as great results will have been accomplished by it. He introduced.

Rev. C. B. Eastman, of Napane, an excellent speaker. He intimated that he was intensely interested in Church extension, which was so much in harmony with the expressed will of G. E. Extension was a fitting work. When development ceased retrogression began. A man's own being physically and intellectually, when maturity had been reached and development ceased, when the faculties lost their vigor and strength, decay set in. And so it would be found in the great work of Church extension. There was no advance there would be a gradual decline. This principle was specially applicable to the matter of Church building. The disciples were instructed to go into the world and preach the gospel to every creature. It was manifestly the essential work of the Church to supply the gospel to the world; and until that commission was executed there should be no pause in the work of extension. And if it was the duty of the Church to supply the gospel to the world it was evidently the obligation of the Church to furnish the necessary implements, especially the places wherein the people could be instructed in the things pertaining to God. Any body claiming the functions of a Church cannot rid itself of this obligation, and the M. E. Church, which claimed an important position in the country, should be found ready to take a full measure of responsibility in building suitable accommodations for the worshippers of God. He passed on to speak on some of the practical features of the work of extension. He held that the interests of the people of the community should be taken into consideration, plans for church erection being guided by the necessities of the case, the members to be accommodated, the general surroundings, and the available resources. In regard to the beautiful structure in which they met he was not sure that they had exceeded the bounds of prudence. In this case the surroundings were not only to be considered. They had faith in the church to which they belonged, faith in the promises of their Divine Head, that success would follow what was projected in His name. There should not be a doubt in regard to the issue of this undertaking. Their purposes should be resolutely fixed, and then the satisfactory experiences of the past might reasonably be expected in the future. He advocated the beautifying of churches. They should consist the principle of beauty, inasmuch as the God whom they worshipped was himself the God of beauty. In all they should be prompted by motives of love and devotion to the Divine Master, motives of sympathy and kindness to perishing humanity, motives of love and devotion to their country, and motives of loyalty and devotion to the church of their choice. Were they influenced by these considerations their works would show. The members of the Conference should follow the example of their Master.

The hymn, "Awake, Jerusalem, awake," having been sung.

The Chairman interjected the remark that the necessity for the work should be the controlling power. God would provide the means.

Bishop Carman followed. He commended the war motto of General Grant as applicable to the work of Church extension—that they should keep "pepping away," seeking of the addresses of the previous evening he said there was a large force of acceptations, but there was a large area where acceptations stopped and work began. They would have either Church extension or Church contraction. They had the alternative of one or the other, with the attendant conditions of heaven or hell, salvation or perdition. They would have either the Church of life or the Church of death. He alluded to the probable difference of opinion that existed on this question. Averice, doubt, fear, selfishness, sinful indulgence, pride, ambition, ignorance, priestly domination, littleness, meanness, and lack of public enterprise cried "no" when asked if the extension should be continued. But it was consolatory to know that there were voices on the other side, and many responded "Yes, extend, extend," when the issue was laid before them. To make satisfactory progress they should fortify what they had. They should guard that which they possessed. The Church's work was as just like a velocipede—it must be kept running or it will easily turn over. While the scheme for enlargement did not meet the sanction of certain classes known by the characteristics enunciated by him, denominationalism, Christian enterprise and liberality, Christian intelligence, courage, faith, prudence, courage, faith, prudence, foresight and patriotism said, "Yes, let the process of development be continued." To which voices were they listening? The M. E. body in the United States was doing an amazing work. The Extension Society fund was found to be very helpful in the establishment of churches in weak constitutions. The Society of the Bay of Quinte Conference was not doing much, but it was accomplishing more than the other M. E. Conferences in Ontario because of the system of assessments which had been established, and which incited the various circuits to make greater efforts for special purposes than otherwise. The church in Kingston was one of the objects of special care, and for its success a grand rally of the members of Conference was necessary. He hoped it would be speedily released from its burdens, the more so that he might be enabled to project a similar enterprise elsewhere. (Hear, hear, and applause.) He liked to hear them say so. He hoped the Lord would bless them for clapping their hands. (Renewed applause during which the speaker resumed his seat.)

A collection was taken up, the announcements were made, and the meeting adjourned with the doxology and benediction, the latter pronounced by the Bishop.

Why Warmington Left.

Gunner Warmington, who was lately tried for desertion from Battery "A," and had to serve out a sentence, has endeavored to get his discharge in every honorable way, but it has been peremptorily refused. Last week he asked for leave to visit a sick sister in Toronto, and was told by Lt. Col. Cotton, with gentlemanly and humane consideration, that it was all fudge—he couldn't get away on a dodge like that. But his brotherly feelings were stronger than his regard for his personal comfort, and in response to an alarming telegram he took French leave of the Barracks for three days, visited Toronto, and returned to his quarters without encountering any of the military "conts" put on the book out for him. Of course he was placed under arrest, but has been released again. His case has excited a deal of sympathy both in and out of the Battery. A little treatment as a man and less as a machine would make him a more obedient soldier. The discipline of the barracks is evidently well calculated to create desertions. The Toronto detective force had orders to apprehend Warmington, but with all their boasted efficiency failed to discover him there.

A Horse Case.

This morning at the police court Mr. P. Lamoureux was charged by Mr. Edward Roddy, of Cataragus, with fraud. A week ago yesterday Mr. Lamoureux traded horses with Mr. Roddy, but upon Lamoureux's horse there was a mortgage held by Mr. Montgomery. The horse that Mr. Lamoureux received was not as good, after examination, as the one he had owned and so he at once proceeded to recover the horse of which he had rid himself. Mr. Roddy was not agreeable to the proposition. Mr. Lamoureux then secured the services of a lawyer who wrote one of those "terrible" letters that lawyers only can write to Mr. Roddy but this had no effect whatever. Then Mr. Lamoureux unhitched the horse he had traded to Mr. Roddy from the latter's wagon. Mr. Roddy entered an action. The case was, with the consent of the counsel, enlarged until Wednesday next.
